BA Plans Study Of Emergencies

Authority Members, Personnel Work On Spans to Get Civil Defense Plans

Members of the New York State Bridge Authority and its personnel will attend a March 4 civil defense briefing in New York, it was decided at a Poughkeepsie authority meeting yesterday.

Public safety under emergency conditions will be discussed at the session to be held in New York's civil defense headquarters on East 28th Street. Employes of the authority, who are not required on their jobs at the time, will attend along with authority members.

Awaiting Conference

Legislation, pertinent to building the Newburgh-Beacon Bridge, is still pending in Albany, it was noted, and the authority is still awaiting a conference with Gov. Rockefeller to discuss this year's plans for the span.

One bill, introduced in Albany and awaiting action would keep the span toll-operated until it is free of bonded indebtedness. The other, also introduced, would assure its continued operation by New York State.

The bridge is to be part of a 70-mile interstate route between Port Jervis and the New York State-Connecticut line. A report earlier in the week noted preliminary planning of the $150,000,000 route.

Must Be Permanent

Federal interstate highway regulations require bridges on federally controlled roads to become ultimately toll free. The rules also hold that the span's operating agent or authority must be designated on a permanent basis in advance.

A bid from the authority's civil service employes asked pay raises for maintenance employes who are without civil service status, and the authority indicated it would wait out decisions affecting employes of similar status in the state.

The civil service group noted that it had recently been granted pay boosts, and it acted in behalf of the others.

To Paint Bridge

The authority decided to advertise for bids for painting of the Bear Mountain Bridge. They will be opened March 24.

The meeting was the first, since his recent reappointment, for Dr. John L. Edwards of Hudson. Robert Hoe, of Poughkeepsie, a former authority chairman, who was also reappointed, was absent. Others attending were John S. Stillman, Cornwall-On-Hudson, chairman, Ernest M. Heppner, Kingston, and William Haas, Coxsackie.

Watertown Pelted By 10-Inch Snow

Although you couldn't actually call it warm breezes, the Kingston area warmed up by about three degrees Friday night from early Friday's bone-chilling seven above zero reading.

The Freeman thermometer registered exactly 10 degrees at 7 a. m. today and the small rise in the mercury here was reflected in reports from other areas of the state.

The Associated Press said the 10 degree above zero mark was pretty much the picture throughout the state. An unofficial low of minus 32 was reported in Lowville, Lewis County, during the Thursday night deep freeze roundup.

4 Children Die In Boston Blaze

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — Four children perished and another was critically burned early today when fire roared through the second floor of a three-story tenement house on Washington street in the Roxbury district. The children's parents escaped serious injury.

Found dead in their beds when firefighters reached them were: Robert Watkins, 12, his brothers, Stephen, 10, and Clarence, 3, and his sister Della, 14 months.

Another Watkins youngster, Melvin, 6, was taken to City Hospital where his condition was described as critical.

Police officers John Lydon and William Keane said Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Watkins, both in their 30s, ran to the street for help when a space heater in the apartment exploded.

When firefighters arrived, the stairs to the apartment were engulfed in flames.

Mr. and Mrs. Watkins were reported in good condition at City Hospital. Each suffered shock and burns.

Cause of the fire was undetermined, police said.

Hopes Talks Will Clear Cold War Air

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union gave British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan a red carpet reception today on his arrival here for talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev which he hopes will ease world tension.

Khrushchev came out in freezing weather to greet Macmillan at the airport amid a glittering array of flags and military pomp.

"I do not come to negotiate on particular subjects," Macmillan said. "I do hope, however, that in our talks together we shall at least reach a better understanding of our points of view.

Khrushy Waits for Plane

"Perhaps in this way our visit may help to alleviate some of the cares that at present bring anxiety to the world."

Khrushchev arrived at the airport eight minutes before Macmillan's Comet four-jet plane touched down two minutes ahead of schedule.

He gave Macmillan a cordial greeting in an impressive setting. A honor color guard of officers — their swords shimmering in the sun light — stood smartly at attention and a military band blared the Soviet and British anthems.

Khrushchev walked with Macmillan in reviewing the guard.

Troops Give Greeting

A troop of Soviet soldiers dressed in greatcoats, gray fur hats and carrying rifles paraded shouting "Rah, rah" in a greeting to the visitors.

Khrushchev said in welcoming Macmillan that the Soviet Union "believes in peaceful co-existence among different social systems and the lines of that policy remain unchanged.

"We are happy to welcome those who come here from abroad to have talks for the benefit of both our countries and of the cause of peace the world over," he said. "Welcome, gentlemen."

Against War: Khrushy

The Soviet leader added "we are a country now embarked on a great building program and we do not want war again. That would be violating the purposes of such a program."

From the moment Macmillan left London he emphasized that his mission was primarily to look and listen rather than to reach any agreements.

"I am not going to negotiate—I have no authority for that," the Macmillan 64, told newsmen in

Says Voroshilov In Soviet Plot

Red President Reported Among Group Seeking to Dethrone Khrushy in 1957

NEW YORK (AP) — East European Communist sources have reported aged Soviet president Marshal Klementi Y. Voroshilov was a member of the "antiparty group" which almost toppled party leader Nikita Khrushchev in mid-1957, the New York Times said today.

Originally included in the group were former premier Georgi Malenkov, ex-foreign ministers V. M. Molotov and Dmitri Shepilov, and former deputy premier Lazarus Kaganovich.

Two Names Added

Late last year former premier Nikolai Bulganin was identified as a supporter of the antiparty group in its activities against the economic programs of Nikita Khrushchev, first secretary of the Communist Party.

After the group was ousted from top party and government jobs, Khrushchev became premier while retaining his party post.

At the 21st Communist Party congress in Moscow early this month two more names were added to the list of members of the antiparty group — Mikhail G. Pervukhin, Soviet ambassador to East Germany, and Maxim Z. Saburov, former top economic planner.

Never Identified

Voroshilov has never been publicly identified with the anti-party group. His official title is Chairman of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet. He did not address the party congress, although he apparently is still a member of the party presidium.

The Times said "two reasons presumably explain, at least in part, the leniency shown to Marshal Voroshilov in the way of permiting him to keep his high posts and the lack of public identification of him with the antiparty faction. One factor would seem to be his age, 78, years, and the other the fact that he was one of the great Soviet military leaders."

It went on: "The existence of friction between Marshal Voroshilov and Premier Khrushchev was made clear in the latter's once-

A spokesman for the committee on promotion said the event will be on a city-wide basis, with cooperating stores offering "some good sound bargains."

Many stores have their new Easter merchandise which may be of special interest to buyers, it was pointed out. Easter comes early this year—March 29.

Dutchess Paper Says He'll Discuss Matter Of Leniency Offer

Would Be Improper to Give Statement Is Reply; Sentencing Due on March 3

Edwin W. Ashby, Ulster County commissioner of jurors, today declined comment on a Poughkeepsie newspaper report that he would discuss a court leniency offer on his second degree perjury conviction if he would cooperate in the current kickbacks probe.

Reached at his home today, Ashby said he had been contacted by the Poughkeepsie newspaper, but had not made any comment or statement to the effect he would discuss the leniency offer by Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg.

Says No Appointment Made

Ashby said he had no comment or statement to make, "and feel it would be quite improper to make any."

The Poughkeepsie newspaper said in a Friday report:

"Ashby said he intends to take advantage of Justice Greenberg's offer to discuss the matter further in privacy, but that he has made no appointment with the justice."

An Ulster County jury late Monday night returned a verdict of guilty of second degree perjury on both counts, and Justice Greenberg, after the verdict was returned, set Thursday for sentencing.

Two Reasons for Delay

Imposition of the sentence, however, was postponed when Ashby appeared Thursday morning until Tuesday, March 3, at 11:30 a. m., and Justice Greenberg announced two reasons for the postponement.

One was for preparation of a probation report, and secondly to give Ashby "an opportunity to take counsel with yourself,

Stewart AF Man Killed In Mishap

J. O. Cole Victim As Car Hits Tree

A Stewart Air Force Base officer was killed late Friday afternoon when his car crashed into a tree at New Windsor, west of Newburgh, state police there reported.

Dead is Warrant Officer James Owen Cole, 26, assigned to headquarters of the Boston Air Defense Section, whose home is Port Austin, Mich., troopers said.

The state police report said Cole was driving his 1956 sedan north on Tolman Road, three-tenths of a mile off Route 207, at an unknown rate of speed.

He ran off the east side of the highway, struck a tree, caromed off the tree and across the highway. Troopers said Cole's car rolled over and came to rest 150 feet from the tree upside down. Owen was thrown partially out of the car and crushed, the report said.

Time of the accident was set at 5 p. m., and Cole was pronounced dead at the scene 20 minutes later by Capt. Donald Motzkin, a Stewart AFB medical officer.

Troopers said Cole died of multiple head and chest injuries.

Iran Will Sign Pact With U. S.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The Shah of Iran told a news conference today Iran will go ahead and sign a bilateral agreement with the United States.

The Shah added that Iran will not change its policy towards the West and will sign a military pact agreement with the United States for precautionary measures.

He added that Iran will not invoke this military agreement unless attacked.

The Shah emphasized that Iran will not give any missile base to any foreign country. Besides, he added: no one has asked Iran for such a base.

Referring to Moscow radio's anti-Iran propaganda; the Shah said that in spite of Soviet claims that his Iranian regime is not popular with the Iranian people, "I am sure our regime will survive to attend the funeral of many other regimes."

Commenting on Iran-Soviet relations, the Shah told newsmen Iran will still continue a peace-loving policy and is willing to continue its friendly relations with all neighbors.

He did not mention the recent Iran-Soviet negotiations for the conclusion of a nonaggression pact, which failed in mid-February.

Ike Back in Capital

Cold Georgia Weather Forces Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to freezing Washington this morning after a two-day good neighbor visit with President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico in sunny Acapulco, Mexico.

Too Chilly for Golf

Eisenhower had hoped to stop off at Augusta, Ga., first for a week end of golf. But after apparently receiving reports in flight that the Georgia weather still was too cold, windy and wet for golf, he had his personal plane, Columbine III, head for Washington.

In 20 degree weather he stepped down the ramp at the MATS terminal and was greeted by Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Eisenhower wore a brown overcoat but no muffler. His face was ruddy in the cold morning air.

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — President Eisenhower flew home today, his friendship visit to Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos climaxed by agreement that a 100-million-dollar dam should be jointly built on the Rio Grande.

The project — known as the Diablo Dam — has been in the talking stage for 10 years. Now the U.S. Congress must appropriate funds and Mexico must figure out how to finance its share.

Cement Relations

The over-all impression of Eisenhower's two-day goodwill visit was that relations between the two countries had been cemented as never before.

A communique issued after five hours of talks between the two presidents "reconfirmed that relations between Mexico and the United States are excellent and are characterized by a spirit of good neighborliness, mutual understanding and respect."

The communique said "The Acapulco meeting was a meeting between friends. The two presidents understood and appreciated each other from the beginning. They are determined to continue to collaborate on matters of mu-

C-H Boost Is Put Off

Delay Due to Incompleted Hearing

NEW YORK (AP) — The Public Service Commission today announced postponement of a proposed increase in electric rates for some 125,000 customers of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp.

The commission postponed the effective date of the increase to April 26, because commission hearings on the company's request to increase rates have not been concluded.

Hearing on March 3

The next hearing is scheduled for Tuesday, March 3, at 10 a. m. in the court house in Poughkeepsie. Previous hearings on the rate increase application were held in Poughkeepsie on January 6 and February 5 and 6.

The company requested a deferral in the effective date of the new rates in order that public hearings on the matter may be concluded, and the commission given sufficient time to review the testimony and exhibits before a decision is made.

Central Hudson on December 1, 1958, filed for an over-all increase of 7.7 per cent in its electric rates to become effective February 26, 1959. Under today's arrangements, the new rates would become effective on April 26. The increase would yield $1,679,000 over present rates.

Communities served by the company include Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Beacon and Kingston, and outlying areas of Ulster, Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Greene and Columbia Counties. Approximately 125,000 customers are served in these areas.

Washington Event Ready For Old Hurley on Sunday

The Hurley Lions Club reports that everything is in readiness for the reenactment of General Washington, with his two aides, to ride into Hurley at the corrected time of 2:30 p. m. Sunday, Feb. 22.

They will proceed on horseback up the main street of the village toward the four corners, passing many houses which were standing at the time of Washington's original visit. The General will be met at the old tavern on the four corners, known as the Houghtaling house, and will be addressed by Matthew Ten Eyck, president of the Trustees of the Freeholders of Hurley.

Ten Eyck, whose everyday language was Dutch as was that of most of Hurley's residents in 1782, out of courtesy to Gen. Washington, will speak in English with a very heavy Dutch accent. It is interesting to note that a direct descendant of the early President of the Freeholders, young Matthew Ten Eyck, resides in Hurley with his family as do the descendants of a number of other of Hurley's original families.

After these ceremonies are completed, everyone who has come to see the little pageant will be invited to attend the reception to be held at the Hurley School, where parking will be no problem on the extensive school grounds.

A short address will be made by Stephen Waligurski, chairman of the Hurley Hudson-Champlain Planning Committee, who will also introduce young Matthew Ten Eyck. Harry Rigby Jr. of the Governor's Planning Committee and Frederic Snyder,

Week's Business Review

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK (AP) — The economy's rebound from recession showed new signs of vigor this week.

Steel and auto production climbed briskly; rail and truck freight traffic maintained an upward trend.

Stock prices soared through the roof. Both The Associated Press average of 60 stocks and the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial shares racked up new record highs. For the first time in history the Dow Jones industrials topped 600.

bstock sales hit 18,504,770 shares during the week compared to 14,792,690 shares in the week before and 9,201,349 in the same 1958 week.

Bond sales in the latest week totaled $32,280,000 against $30,560,000 for the previous week and $22,974,500 in the corresponding week a year ago.

Earnings reports of blue chip corporations showed sales and earnings at the end of 1958 bounding up from their recession lows.

Gross national product — the government's yardstick of the sum total of goods and services produced — hit a record annual rate of more than 453 billion dollars in the final 1958 quarter and, judging from the available indicators, it was still climbing this week.

Meanwhile inflationary forces continued to mark time.

Living costs in January advanced a slim one-tenth of one per cent. If it hadn't been for a mod-

Benedictine Report Shows Patient Care Set Record

Expanded services, increased number of patients, and construction of a new nursing school and nurses residence were noted in the 1958 report of Benedictine Hospital submitted at a staff meeting held this week at the hospital.

The financial report was read by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, president of the hospital. Other reports were given by Sister M. Berenice, administrator, and Sister M. Callista, director of the school of nursing.

Patients cared for reached an all-time high 11,747, an increase over 541 over 1957, and the number of patient days established a new record of 51,522, the report said.

Cite Nuns' Donations

It also was noted that income of the hospital included $69,571.65 for services donated to the hospital by the Sisters of the staff.

Following is Sister Berenice's report:

"The year 1958 saw the Benedictine Hospital continue to expand its services to the sick of Kingston and all Ulster County. Over the years with the exception of the new wing we have continually extended our services in all areas of the hospital to care for the increasing number of patients without expansion of departments or increase in the number of beds. This has been made possible particularly through the cooperation of our doctors. The concepts of medical care for the surgical patients, advances in surgery, therapy and new equipment have all contributed to reducing the hospital stay of the patient.

"Patients cared for reached an all time high of 11,747, while the number of patient days established a new record of 51,522. The number of infants born was 1,118 which included one set of triplets and eleven sets of twins.

Today's Freeman carries advertisements offering bargains to the shopping public for the Washington Day sale Monday.

A spokesman for the committee on promotion said the event will be on a city-wide basis, with cooperating stores offering "some good sound bargains."

Many stores have their new Easter merchandise which may be of special interest to buyers, it was pointed out. Easter comes early this year—March 29.

Although merchants expect to be busy catering to shoppers during the sale, banks will be closed in observance of Washington's Birthday.

Actual date of the First President's natal day is the 22nd, which is Sunday.

All city and county offices will be closed Monday, except the police department and sheriff's office.

Iran Will Sign Pact With U. S.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The Shah of Iran told a news conference today Iran will go ahead and sign a bilateral agreement with the United States.

The Shah added that Iran will not change its policy towards the West and will sign a military pact agreement with the United States for precautionary measures.

He added that Iran will not invoke this military agreement unless attacked.

The Shah emphasized that Iran will not give any missile base to any foreign country. Besides, he added: no one has asked Iran for such a base.

Referring to Moscow radio's anti-Iran propaganda; the Shah said that in spite of Soviet claims that his Iranian regime is not popular with the Iranian people, "I am sure our regime will survive to attend the funeral of many other regimes."

Commenting on Iran-Soviet relations, the Shah told newsmen Iran will still continue a peace-loving policy and is willing to continue its friendly relations with all neighbors.

He did not mention the recent Iran-Soviet negotiations for the conclusion of a nonaggression pact, which failed in mid-February.

Ike Back in Capital

Cold Georgia Weather Forces Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to freezing Washington this morning after a two-day good neighbor visit with President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico in sunny Acapulco, Mexico.

Too Chilly for Golf

Eisenhower had hoped to stop off at Augusta, Ga., first for a week end of golf. But after apparently receiving reports in flight that the Georgia weather still was too cold, windy and wet for golf, he had his personal plane, Columbine III, head for Washington.

In 20 degree weather he stepped down the ramp at the MATS terminal and was greeted by Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Eisenhower wore a brown overcoat but no muffler. His face was ruddy in the cold morning air.

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — President Eisenhower flew home today, his friendship visit to Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos climaxed by agreement that a 100-million-dollar dam should be jointly built on the Rio Grande.

The project — known as the Diablo Dam — has been in the talking stage for 10 years. Now the U.S. Congress must appropriate funds and Mexico must figure out how to finance its share.

Cement Relations

The over-all impression of Eisenhower's two-day goodwill visit was that relations between the two countries had been cemented as never before.

A communique issued after five hours of talks between the two presidents "reconfirmed that relations between Mexico and the United States are excellent and are characterized by a spirit of good neighborliness, mutual understanding and respect."

The communique said "The Acapulco meeting was a meeting between friends. The two presidents understood and appreciated each other from the beginning. They are determined to continue to collaborate on matters of mu-

Benedictine Report Shows Patient Care Set Record

Expanded services, increased number of patients, and construction of a new nursing school and nurses residence were noted in the 1958 report of Benedictine Hospital submitted at a staff meeting held this week at the hospital.

The financial report was read by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, president of the hospital. Other reports were given by Sister M. Berenice, administrator, and Sister M. Callista, director of the school of nursing.

Patients cared for reached an all-time high 11,747, an increase over 541 over 1957, and the number of patient days established a new record of 51,522, the report said.

Cite Nuns' Donations

It also was noted that income of the hospital included $69,571.65 for services donated to the hospital by the Sisters of the staff.

Following is Sister Berenice's report:

"The year 1958 saw the Benedictine Hospital continue to expand its services to the sick of Kingston and all Ulster County. Over the years with the exception of the new wing we have continually extended our services in all areas of the hospital to care for the increasing number of patients without expansion of departments or increase in the number of beds. This has been made possible particularly through the cooperation of our doctors. The concepts of medical care for the surgical patients, advances in surgery, therapy and new equipment have all contributed to reducing the hospital stay of the patient.

"Patients cared for reached an all time high of 11,747, while the number of patient days established a new record of 51,522. The number of infants born was 1,118 which included one set of triplets and eleven sets of twins.

Delay Due to Incompleted Hearing

NEW YORK (AP) — The Public Service Commission today announced postponement of a proposed increase in electric rates for some 125,000 customers of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp.

The commission postponed the effective date of the increase to April 26, because commission hearings on the company's request to increase rates have not been concluded.

Hearing on March 3

The next hearing is scheduled for Tuesday, March 3, at 10 a. m. in the court house in Poughkeepsie. Previous hearings on the rate increase application were held in Poughkeepsie on January 6 and February 5 and 6.

The company requested a deferral in the effective date of the new rates in order that public hearings on the matter may be concluded, and the commission given sufficient time to review the testimony and exhibits before a decision is made.

Central Hudson on December 1, 1958, filed for an over-all increase of 7.7 per cent in its electric rates to become effective February 26, 1959. Under today's arrangements, the new rates would become effective on April 26. The increase would yield $1,679,000 over present rates.

Communities served by the company include Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Beacon and Kingston, and outlying areas of Ulster, Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Greene and Columbia Counties. Approximately 125,000 customers are served in these areas.

Washington Event Ready For Old Hurley on Sunday

The Hurley Lions Club reports that everything is in readiness for the reenactment of General Washington, with his two aides, to ride into Hurley at the corrected time of 2:30 p. m. Sunday, Feb. 22.

They will proceed on horseback up the main street of the village toward the four corners, passing many houses which were standing at the time of Washington's original visit. The General will be met at the old tavern on the four corners, known as the Houghtaling house, and will be addressed by Matthew Ten Eyck, president of the Trustees of the Freeholders of Hurley.

Ten Eyck, whose everyday language was Dutch as was that of most of Hurley's residents in 1782, out of courtesy to Gen. Washington, will speak in English with a very heavy Dutch accent. It is interesting to note that a direct descendant of the early President of the Freeholders, young Matthew Ten Eyck, resides in Hurley with his family as do the descendants of a number of other of Hurley's original families.

After these ceremonies are completed, everyone who has come to see the little pageant will be invited to attend the reception to be held at the Hurley School, where parking will be no problem on the extensive school grounds.

A short address will be made by Stephen Waligurski, chairman of the Hurley Hudson-Champlain Planning Committee, who will also introduce young Matthew Ten Eyck. Harry Rigby Jr. of the Governor's Planning Committee and Frederic Snyder,

Week's Business Review

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK (AP) — The economy's rebound from recession showed new signs of vigor this week.

Steel and auto production climbed briskly; rail and truck freight traffic maintained an upward trend.

Stock prices soared through the roof. Both The Associated Press average of 60 stocks and the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial shares racked up new record highs. For the first time in history the Dow Jones industrials topped 600.

bstock sales hit 18,504,770 shares during the week compared to 14,792,690 shares in the week before and 9,201,349 in the same 1958 week.

Bond sales in the latest week totaled $32,280,000 against $30,560,000 for the previous week and $22,974,500 in the corresponding week a year ago.

Earnings reports of blue chip corporations showed sales and earnings at the end of 1958 bounding up from their recession lows.

Gross national product — the government's yardstick of the sum total of goods and services produced — hit a record annual rate of more than 453 billion dollars in the final 1958 quarter and, judging from the availabie indicators, it was still climbing this week.

Meanwhile inflationary forces continued to mark time.

Living costs in January advanced a slim one-tenth of one per cent. If it hadn't been for a mod-

A DEBT TO WASHINGTON

There was a time, not many years back, when debunking American heroes was rather a common pastime. Chief among the targets of such attacks was that troubled, dogged general and statesman, George Washington.

Some of the Washington legend was shown to be false. His capabilities as soldier and man of state were called into question. Ridicule was heaped upon him for his shortcomings. Yet the real stature of Washington was not diminished by all this. In recent years there has come to be a fuller appreciation of the qualities that lifted him to eminence in a period of awesome travail.

Washington did not have the mental depth and breadth and resourcefulness of Jefferson; he lacked the brilliance of Hamilton. But Washington was more than a simple land owner catapulted into a position of leadership. To the Revolution he brought a tenacious will, a passionate love of liberty, the insight to understand that final victory could be won only by retreating until the moment came for attack. To the early years of independence he brought the solid, stabilizing influence of a common sense that approached genius.

Largely because of his influence, the two forces that threatened to split the United States almost before it got under way—those who demanded a strong central government and those who wanted state sovereignty—were held together in a great compromise that still undergirds this nation. The American people, 160 years after George Washington's death, remain indebted to him for his contributions both in war and in peace.

ROAD COMPANY DRAMA

The lessons of political history seem to register faintly in some quarters, where the idea is tenaciously held that personal endorsements and persistent publicity are enough to nominate a man for president.

These things sometimes help, but sometimes they don't. And they are unlikely ever to be sufficient.

Nor is it enough that a candidate may be well regarded as a lawmaker by his colleagues in Washington.

Nominations for the presidency are won by votes. The votes are cast by delegates. The delegates are selected in their home states. In better than two-thirds of the states, governors or the state party organization leaders do the choosing.

So nominations are made in the field, not in headquarters.

We may find this hard to remember from day to day, when we see the faces of certain leading lights before us again and again.

What we should do to keep posted on real presidential possibilities is to watch the the reactions to various prospects at the state level.

A governor's endorsement, for instance, is worth 100,000 words of praise from a whole hatful of colleagues on the U.S. Senate floor.

So is consistent evidence that some candidate or other, in going the rounds to make speeches, raise funds, hike party morale and so on, is making a strong impression on party leaders and the rank and file, or both.

The chemical processes that get the presidential seed growing in potential delegates' minds are subtle and tricky. They are at work constantly and there is a great deal of flow across state lines.

If, for example, the governor of Pennsylvania early in the game, either privately or publicly, lets it be known that he's picked his man, that fact will be of extreme interest to the governor of California, the party boss in Illinois and so forth.

When sentiment for a man begins to jell at these high state levels, then he has begun to roll and can be rated a serious prospect. If it never does jell in those quarters, then his chances will prove slim indeed.

Center stage—Washington—looks like a great place to be. But actually it's the road companies, scattered all over the U. S. hinterland, that are playing the real drama.

'These Days'

THE COMMUNIST LAWYERS

The House Committee on Un-American Activities has issued a very interesting and significant report on Communist lawyers and their activities. What comes out of this clearly is that just as some lawyers specialize in smelly but lucrative divorce cases and others specialize in advising rich thieves on how to evade SEC regulations and income tax laws, so other lawyers specialize in how the Communists may destroy the United States under its own laws.

A lawyer is a sworn officer of the Court. He has taken an oath to uphold the Constitution. If he is a member of the Communist Party, he is required to be an atheist. Therefore, his oath is no good because he has his fingers crossed when he takes it. The Committee makes this point clearly:

"A Communist operates under an iron discipline which places his party's subversive purposes above even professional and personal loyalties. No Communist, therefore, can in good faith take the oath, administered to all members of the bar, to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States. . . ."

Some persons joined the Communist Party in the 1930's as a protest against Hitler. Some stayed in the party during World War II to aid our "ally," Soviet Russia. What is any American's excuse for remaining in this party today except that he hates the United States? Under our Constitution, an American citizen has a legal right to hate the United States, but does he have a moral right to remain in this country, to take advantage of the freedom he enjoys under the Constitution and then devote his life to the destruction of the country in the interest of another nation? In time of war, such conduct could be treason; in time of peace, it is called subversion and is protected by Supreme Court decisions.

The worst example of planned, disruptive activity on the part of such lawyers is described in the Committee's report:

"The behavior of defense counsel in the Smith Act trial of the 11 top Communist Party officials in New York in 1949 was in complete accord with the Communist Party courtroom strategy outlined above.

"Throughout the 7-month trial of the Communist leaders charged with conspiracy to advocate forceful overthrow of the United States Government, a group of defense lawyers indulged in a spectacular display of abusive and disruptive conduct. These lawyers, it became apparent, were determined to break up the legal proceedings by any means and to introduce Communist propaganda at every opening as long as the trial should continue. In pursuing these tactics, counsel were observed to pass up actual opportunities to benefit their clients' case. Presiding Judge Harold Medina declared at one point in the trial that 'The amount of disorder and contemptuous behavior I have witnessed here is beyond anything I could have thought possible in an American court.'"

These lawyers acted according to a pattern which was so uniform that it is impossible to believe that it was not premeditated and arranged. The object clearly was to bring the American court, our judicial system contemptuously before the world. Only the unbelievable patience of Judge Harold Medina prevented these graduates of American colleges and law schools from succeeding.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities in this report cites the National Lawyers Guild as a Communist Party appendage and calls attention to the fact that the Guild campaigned for the following:

"1. Abolition of Congressional committees assigned to the task of coping with subversion in the United States;

"2. Curbing of the investigative powers of the Federal Bureau of Investigation;

"3. Emasculation of the recent statute which grants immunity to any witness called before a committee or a Federal grand jury if the witness furnishes information regarding subversive activities;

"4. Repeal of the Smith Act prohibiting teaching or advocacy of forceful overthrow of the United States Government;

"5. Discontinuance of the Attorney General's listings of subversive organizations;

"6. Repeal of the Internal Security Act and the Walter-McCarran Immigration Act;

"7. Unrestricted issuance of passports to subversive individuals;

"8. Repeal of the Federal employes loyalty-security program;

"9. Limitations on the right of the Defense Department to discharge subversives from the Armed Forces."

This pamphlet includes the names and biographies of the principal Communist lawyers of the United States. It is a document worth reading by those who do not believe that the Communist Party in the United States died with Stalin.

The Mature Parent

Child's Experiences Aren't Carbon Copies of Parent's

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

The November that Joyce's mother was 15, her family moved.

At her new high school everyone had chosen their friends—tight, sealed circles of friends who always sat together at the same cafeteria tables and would start talking loudly if she tried to sit down at one. Between classes, they'd crowd the halls in chattering groups ignoring her as she followed them conspicuously alone and unwanted.

It finally worked out. One day a boy checked a history assignment with her—and the next day one of the closed circles broke to invite her to join it at the cafeteria table.

Joyce's mother was so grateful that she hastily pushed away the memory of those first painful lonely days.

But we don't always get rid of painful experiences by trying to forget them.

Last Saturday Joyce spent the afternoon in her room. Her mother followed her there three times. The first time she said coaxingly, "Why don't you phone Midge, dear, and ask her to come over?"

Later she went back upstairs with other suggestions for social initiative. For her own undigested experience of loneliness had been so hurtful that she just couldn't imagine Joyce experiencing it painlessly. It never occurred to her that Joyce was using her solitude to indulge in some very pleasant daydreaming about a certain boy.

We can make brothers and sisters miserable by refusing to respect differences between them—and we can make ourselves miserable by denying differences between them and us.

As psychiatrists say, we "overidentify" with our children so that everything that happens to them is always reminding us of things that happened to us.

If we felt resentment at punishment, we'll expect Billy to feel it too. Actually, he may feel relief after punishment. But with our own resentment of it still undigested inside us, we won't be able to allow him a different response and will treat him apologetically.

If our failures in school, marriage or work are still painful to us, we'll be terrified of children's failures in them and may be unable to expose them to their own experiences.

Our inability to allow difference between us can keep us in perpetual anxiety. And it can make our children afraid to live too.

Washington News

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Preparations are underway at Democratic National Committee headquarters for what's likely to be the biggest shindig thrown anywhere this year. It's a nationwide birthday party for ex-President Harry Truman who will be 75 years old on May 8.

Plans call for Democrats throughout the country to hold separate parties at the same time. Everybody will be able to see and hear the guest of honor by watching closed-circuit TV sets.

Asked how big Truman's birthday cake will be, a DNC spokesman confessed, "We haven't thought about a cake yet. But I imagine if he wants a cake, we'll let him have one."

A MUSIC-LOVING Washington magazine editor was surprised when the man who had just moved into the next door apartment complained that the editor's hi-fi set was too loud. The newcomer explained that he had some work to do and couldn't concentrate because of the noise.

What puzzled the editor was that it was the first time in the two years he had lived there that anyone had complained about the phonograph. But being an obliging sort, he turned down the volume.

Next day, the same thing happened again. Although it was a Sunday afternoon, the neighbor insisted he still had to work and needed peace and quiet. This went on every day for the next week.

One evening the editor came home and found a policeman standing guard outside his neighbor's door. The cop explained that the apartment was actually a bookie joint and had just been raided.

"Looks like we got here in the nick of time," the officer said. "The guy was packed and ready to move. He said that your hi-fi made so much noise that he couldn't take bets over the phone."

MOSCOW BEHAVIOR experts have psychoanalyzed Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy and decided that it's probably hopeless to try to convince him that the U. S. doesn't lead Russia in the missile race.

A Soviet newspaper reports that Kremlin intelligence recently discovered that McElroy has been stubborn since he was a small child. His hardheadedness even caused his parents to worry. In fact, the paper reports they tried to straighten out their troublesome son with a variation of the water treatment which Communists have found so useful in brainwashing.

"His mother sought to cure him by pouring cold water over his face," the paper reports. "Did she succeed? One wonders."

IF THERE'S ONE thing that Capital Calendar copublisher Sally Heit can't stand, it's Washington phonies. So when she met a fellow with a thick British accent at an informal cocktail party, she immediately started to needle him.

"I can't tolerate people who think they have to fake an accent to make their way in the social world," she said. To her surprise, the man politely agreed. Turned out that he was Sir Tim Guinness of London, heir to the Guinness Brewery fortune.

ALASKA'S SENATORS and congressman are going to have to come up with some pretty strong arguments this year to keep their clothes-conscious wives from splurging on Paris fashions.

At the French high fashion industry's recent unveiling of the 1959 summer styles, all designers saluted America's new state by naming the 49th gown in their collections "Alaska."

IF SECRETARY of the Treasury Robert Anderson ever gets tired of working for the government, he'll probably have little trouble getting a job as a speech writer. At a recent appearance before the Congressional Joint Economic Committee he declared, "If we ever reach the point where people believe that to speculate is safe but to save is to gamble, then we are indeed in trouble."

Committee Republicans became estatic over the statement and have been pestering the secretary to tell them what sparked this gem of oratorical brilliance.

Anderson confides that he lifted it from an earlier speech that he made to a group of big businessmen. He explains that it just popped into his mind while he was talking. The executives, however, thought it was so profound that several of them asked permission to use it in their own speeches. Friends say that when Anderson started thinking about the statement he began to like it, too, and simply decided to say it again.

VINCENT, famed Washington society hair stylist, was startled when a woman phoned and asked to make an open appointment. "But can't you give me any idea when you'd like to have your hair done?" he asked.

"Well, I just made a reservation for the first trip to the moon," the woman explained. "And I want to get a permanent at least two hours before I take off."

Ripley's Believe It or Not!

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, MASS., Feb. 20—The newspapers carry much news regarding missiles and rockets. This news is of interest to the many industrial plants which make parts for such missiles. A list of the leading companies in this field whose stocks are listed on the New York Stock Exchange will be sent free of charge to any reader on request. However, notwithstanding the Washington releases on missile contracts, the corporations which have the government contracts derive very little profit from such business. I am not now recommending investment in any of these.

Of course, we should all be interested in missile experiments and in space studies. It is too bad the Russians got a head start on us. It is utterly foolish, however, to state that "it will take two to three years" for us to catch up with Russia. Such reports are being put out by manufacturers as propaganda to get greater appropriations. President Eisenhower knows this and will not be fooled by them.

Importance of Anti-Missile Missiles

It is well for us to have "surface-to-surface," "underwater-to-surface," and "air-to-surface missiles which can hit a given target 500 to 2,500 miles away. These are as important as guns, cannons, submarines, and airplanes; but they are for offensive warfare. It seems generally understood that the United States is in no mood now to start a World War. This also probably applies to Great Britain and France. Whether or not Germany will wait for Russia to strike first is another question.

The above means that the important weapon, from defense stand-point, is an anti-missile missile. This is a missile which can be fired to head off and destroy any approaching missile being fired at our cities by an enemy. Even though we would not start a war with Russia, we would immediately go to the help of any free nation—including Germany — which Russia might attack. We then would be subject to bombing. Hence, a defense against such missile is an absolute necessity. But today we hear or read very little about much protection or anti-missile missiles.

Propaganda Is Usually False

This is especially true of the attempt to scare the American people into spending more money by saying it will take us 3 or 4 years to catch up with the Russian scientists. But let me comment on this 3 to 4 year propaganda. All research men know that TIME is an impossible factor to judge with regard to discovering the solution to any scientific problem. It may have taken the Russians four years to reach their present effiency with missiles; but the physicists and engineers of some other nation may make a discovery in 30 days which will put them ahead of Russia. Most great inventions have come from a sudden idea.

Furthermore, Russia may not now be ahead of us in anti-missile missiles. No nation yet has the protection desired from such missile attacks. Yet this is the important discovery which the world is awaiting. Some Washington friends may tell you, "We have such an anti-missile missile; but the data are 'classified or secret'." Don't believe them. The experiments by most nations with anti-missile missiles are known throughout the world. They cannot be kept secret, except possibly by Russia in Siberia. I wish to drive home to readers of this column that no country—including Russia and Germany—will start World War III until it has discovered a means of preventing destruction by enemy missiles. Our Defense Department should give priority to such work rather than to shooting around the moon.

Electricity From The Air

Notwithstanding the above, I am greatly interested in learning more about space. My studies with gravitation make me believe that if two wires are carried up through space a certain distance, we could so utilize the atomic heat from the sun as to produce or collect electricity directly without the need of generators on the earth. I am certain the time is coming when our great public utility stations, instead of burning oil or coal, will have great "wires like lightning rods" extending up into the air. This is what Benjamin Franklin visualized over 200 years ago in 1752. The space experiments now in process will surely find the answer. Neither Russia nor Germany is talking about them; but some nation—possibly France—will find the answer.

Sir Isaac Newton (whose library we have at Babson Institute, Babson Park, Mass.) learned that gravity could bend a line or keep it upright. Space experiments are finding out what gravity will do after a missile pierces the gravity barrier. It then is pulled to the moon or sun automatically without power. Dr. Albert Einstein had all this in mind when he insisted that Electricity, Gravity, Magnetism (and in his last days he added Love) all come from some outside force and are interrelated. I wish that Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Edison, and Dr. Einstein were here today to talk this over. Surely this would result in an "atoms for peace" program, which was Dr. Einstein's daily prayer. This was based upon the sun as the universal source of energy.

So They Say..

Play Divides Men From Boys

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Skipping lightly over the bidding we find that South is declarer at three no-trump and the queen of spades is opened. South should win with the king; not the ace because if he false cards with the ace he clearly shows that he holds the king also.

His next play is the ten of clubs from his hand and small from dummy. At this point we separate the men from the boys. East should win the trick with the ace of clubs and lead back a second spade. South will be in the lead again and will take what appears to be a sure fire finesse for the queen of clubs.

East will win that trick also and six spade tricks will put declarer down four.

Of course, this play might go wrong. Declarer might have started with five clubs in which case he will laugh and pick up East's queen or declarer might even guess what happened. But the point to this unusual play is that if East wins the first club trick with the queen South is going to make his contract.

He will see no chance at all and therefore will try to cash as many tricks as possible when he gets in the second time. When he cashes the ace and king of diamonds he will get a nice bonus. East's queen and jack will drop and South will make his three no-trump.

To the Revolution he brought a tenacious will, a passionate love of liberty, the insight to understand that final victory could be won only by retreating until the moment came for attack. To the early years of independence he brought the solid, stabilizing influence of a common sense that approached genius.

Largely because of his influence, the two forces that threatened to split the United States almost before it got under way—those who demanded a strong central government and those who wanted state sovereignty—were held together in a great compromise that still undergirds this nation. The American people, 160 years after George Washington's death, remain indebted to him for his contributions both in war and in peace.

ROAD COMPANY DRAMA

The lessons of political history seem to register faintly in some quarters, where the idea is tenaciously held that personal endorsements and persistent publicity are enough to nominate a man for president.

These things sometimes help, but sometimes they don't. And they are unlikely ever to be sufficient.

Nor is it enough that a candidate may be well regarded as a lawmaker by his colleagues in Washington.

Nominations for the presidency are won by votes. The votes are cast by delegates. The delegates are selected in their home states. In better than two-thirds of the states, governors or the state party organization leaders do the choosing.

So nominations are made in the field, not in headquarters.

We may find this hard to remember from day to day, when we see the faces of certain leading lights before us again and again.

What we should do to keep posted on real presidential possibilities is to watch the the reactions to various prospects at the state level.

A governor's endorsement, for instance, is worth 100,000 words of praise from a whole hatful of colleagues on the U.S. Senate floor.

So is consistent evidence that some candidate or other, in going the rounds to make speeches, raise funds, hike party morale and so on, is making a strong impression on party leaders and the rank and file, or both.

The chemical processes that get the presidential seed growing in potential delegates' minds are subtle and tricky. They are at work constantly and there is a great deal of flow across state lines.

If, for example, the governor of Pennsylvania early in the game, either privately or publicly, lets it be known that he's picked his man, that fact will be of extreme interest to the governor of California, the party boss in Illinois and so forth.

When sentiment for a man begins to jell at these high state levels, then he has begun to roll and can be rated a serious prospect. If it never does jell in those quarters, then his chances will prove slim indeed.

Center stage—Washington—looks like a great place to be. But actually it's the road companies, scattered all over the U. S. hinterland, that are playing the real drama.

THE COMMUNIST LAWYERS

The House Committee on Un-American Activities has issued a very interesting and significant report on Communist lawyers and their activities. What comes out of this clearly is that just as some lawyers specialize in smelly but lucrative divorce cases and others specialize in advising rich thieves on how to evade SEC regulations and income tax laws, so other lawyers specialize in how the Communists may destroy the United States under its own laws.

A lawyer is a sworn officer of the Court. He has taken an oath to uphold the Constitution. If he is a member of the Communist Party, he is required to be an atheist. Therefore, his oath is no good because he has his fingers crossed when he takes it. The Committee makes this point clearly:

"A Communist operates under an iron discipline which places his party's subversive purposes above even professional and personal loyalties. No Communist, therefore, can in good faith take the oath, administered to all members of the bar, to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States. . . ."

Some persons joined the Communist Party in the 1930's as a protest against Hitler. Some stayed in the party during World War II to aid our "ally," Soviet Russia. What is any American's excuse for remaining in this party today except that he hates the United States? Under our Constitution, an American citizen has a legal right to hate the United States, but does he have a moral right to remain in this country, to take advantage of the freedom he enjoys under the Constitution and then devote his life to the destruction of the country in the interest of another nation? In time of war, such conduct could be treason; in time of peace, it is called subversion and is protected by Supreme Court decisions.

The worst example of planned, disruptive activity on the part of such lawyers is described in the Committee's report:

"The behavior of defense counsel in the Smith Act trial of the 11 top Communist Party officials in New York in 1949 was in complete accord with the Communist Party courtroom strategy outlined above.

"Throughout the 7-month trial of the Communist leaders charged with conspiracy to advocate forceful overthrow of the United States Government, a group of defense lawyers indulged in a spectacular display of abusive and disruptive conduct. These lawyers, it became apparent, were determined to break up the legal proceedings by any means and to introduce Communist propaganda at every opening as long as the trial should continue. In pursuing these tactics, counsel were observed to pass up actual opportunities to benefit their clients' case. Presiding Judge Harold Medina declared at one point in the trial that 'The amount of disorder and contemptuous behavior I have witnessed here is beyond anything I could have thought possible in an American court.'"

These lawyers acted according to a pattern which was so uniform that it is impossible to believe that it was not premeditated and arranged. The object clearly was to bring the American court, our judicial system contemptuously before the world. Only the unbelievable patience of Judge Harold Medina prevented these graduates of American colleges and law schools from succeeding.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities in this report cites the National Lawyers Guild as a Communist Party appendage and calls attention to the fact that the Guild campaigned for the following:

"1. Abolition of Congressional committees assigned to the task of coping with subversion in the United States;

"2. Curbing of the investigative powers of the Federal Bureau of Investigation;

"3. Emasculation of the recent statute which grants immunity to any witness called before a committee or a Federal grand jury if the witness furnishes information regarding subversive activities;

"4. Repeal of the Smith Act prohibiting teaching or advocacy of forceful overthrow of the United States Government;

"5. Discontinuance of the Attorney General's listings of subversive organizations;

"6. Repeal of the Internal Security Act and the Walter-McCarran Immigration Act;

"7. Unrestricted issuance of passports to subversive individuals;

"8. Repeal of the Federal employes loyalty-security program;

"9. Limitations on the right of the Defense Department to discharge subversives from the Armed Forces."

This pamphlet includes the names and biographies of the principal Communist lawyers of the United States. It is a document worth reading by those who do not believe that the Communist Party in the United States died with Stalin.

The Mature Parent

Child's Experiences Aren't Carbon Copies of Parent's

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

The November that Joyce's mother was 15, her family moved.

At her new high school everyone had chosen their friends—tight, sealed circles of friends who always sat together at the same cafeteria tables and would start talking loudly if she tried to sit down at one. Between classes, they'd crowd the halls in chattering groups ignoring her as she followed them conspicuously alone and unwanted.

It finally worked out. One day a boy checked a history assignment with her—and the next day one of the closed circles broke to invite her to join it at the cafeteria table.

Joyce's mother was so grateful that she hastily pushed away the memory of those first painful lonely days.

But we don't always get rid of painful experiences by trying to forget them.

Last Saturday Joyce spent the afternoon in her room. Her mother followed her there three times. The first time she said coaxingly, "Why don't you phone Midge, dear, and ask her to come over?"

Later she went back upstairs with other suggestions for social initiative. For her own undigested experience of loneliness had been so hurtful that she just couldn't imagine Joyce experiencing it painlessly. It never occurred to her that Joyce was using her solitude to indulge in some very pleasant daydreaming about a certain boy.

We can make brothers and sisters miserable by refusing to respect differences between them—and we can make ourselves miserable by denying differences between them and us.

As psychiatrists say, we "overidentify" with our children so that everything that happens to them is always reminding us of things that happened to us.

If we felt resentment at punishment, we'll expect Billy to feel it too. Actually, he may feel relief after punishment. But with our own resentment of it still undigested inside us, we won't be able to allow him a different response and will treat him apologetically.

If our failures in school, marriage or work are still painful to us, we'll be terrified of children's failures in them and may be unable to expose them to their own experiences.

Our inability to allow difference between us can keep us in perpetual anxiety. And it can make our children afraid to live too.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Preparations are underway at Democratic National Committee headquarters for what's likely to be the biggest shindig thrown anywhere this year. It's a nationwide birthday party for ex-President Harry Truman who will be 75 years old on May 8.

Plans call for Democrats throughout the country to hold separate parties at the same time. Everybody will be able to see and hear the guest of honor by watching closed-circuit TV sets.

Asked how big Truman's birthday cake will be, a DNC spokesman confessed, "We haven't thought about a cake yet. But I imagine if he wants a cake, we'll let him have one."

A MUSIC-LOVING Washington magazine editor was surprised when the man who had just moved into the next door apartment complained that the editor's hi-fi set was too loud. The newcomer explained that he had some work to do and couldn't concentrate because of the noise.

What puzzled the editor was that it was the first time in the two years he had lived there that anyone had complained about the phonograph. But being an obliging sort, he turned down the volume.

Next day, the same thing happened again. Although it was a Sunday afternoon, the neighbor insisted he still had to work and needed peace and quiet. This went on every day for the next week.

One evening the editor came home and found a policeman standing guard outside his neighbor's door. The cop explained that the apartment was actually a bookie joint and had just been raided.

"Looks like we got here in the nick of time," the officer said. "The guy was packed and ready to move. He said that your hi-fi made so much noise that he couldn't take bets over the phone."

MOSCOW BEHAVIOR experts have psychoanalyzed Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy and decided that it's probably hopeless to try to convince him that the U. S. doesn't lead Russia in the missile race.

A Soviet newspaper reports that Kremlin intelligence recently discovered that McElroy has been stubborn since he was a small child. His hardheadedness even caused his parents to worry. In fact, the paper reports they tried to straighten out their troublesome son with a variation of the water treatment which Communists have found so useful in brainwashing.

"His mother sought to cure him by pouring cold water over his face," the paper reports. "Did she succeed? One wonders."

IF THERE'S ONE thing that Capital Calendar copublisher Sally Heit can't stand, it's Washington phonies. So when she met a fellow with a thick British accent at an informal cocktail party, she immediately started to needle him.

"I can't tolerate people who think they have to fake an accent to make their way in the social world," she said. To her surprise, the man politely agreed. Turned out that he was Sir Tim Guinness of London, heir to the Guinness Brewery fortune.

ALASKA'S SENATORS and congressman are going to have to come up with some pretty strong arguments this year to keep their clothes-conscious wives from splurging on Paris fashions.

At the French high fashion industry's recent unveiling of the 1959 summer styles, all designers saluted America's new state by naming the 49th gown in their collections "Alaska."

IF SECRETARY of the Treasury Robert Anderson ever gets tired of working for the government, he'll probably have little trouble getting a job as a speech writer. At a recent appearance before the Congressional Joint Economic Committee he declared, "If we ever reach the point where people believe that to speculate is safe but to save is to gamble, then we are indeed in trouble."

Committee Republicans became estatic over the statement and have been pestering the secretary to tell them what sparked this gem of oratorical brilliance.

Anderson confides that he lifted it from an earlier speech that he made to a group of big businessmen. He explains that it just popped into his mind while he was talking. The executives, however, thought it was so profound that several of them asked permission to use it in their own speeches. Friends say that when Anderson started thinking about the statement he began to like it, too, and simply decided to say it again.

VINCENT, famed Washington society hair stylist, was startled when a woman phoned and asked to make an open appointment. "But can't you give me any idea when you'd like to have your hair done?" he asked.

"Well, I just made a reservation for the first trip to the moon," the woman explained. "And I want to get a permanent at least two hours before I take off."

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, MASS., Feb. 20—The newspapers carry much news regarding missiles and rockets. This news is of interest to the many industrial plants which make parts for such missiles. A list of the leading companies in this field whose stocks are listed on the New York Stock Exchange will be sent free of charge to any reader on request. However, notwithstanding the Washington releases on missile contracts, the corporations which have the government contracts derive very little profit from such business. I am not now recommending investment in any of these.

Of course, we should all be interested in missile experiments and in space studies. It is too bad the Russians got a head start on us. It is utterly foolish, however, to state that "it will take two to three years" for us to catch up with Russia. Such reports are being put out by manufacturers as propaganda to get greater appropriations. President Eisenhower knows this and will not be fooled by them.

Importance of Anti-Missile Missiles

It is well for us to have "surface-to-surface," "underwater-to-surface," and "air-to-surface missiles which can hit a given target 500 to 2,500 miles away. These are as important as guns, cannons, submarines, and airplanes; but they are for offensive warfare. It seems generally understood that the United States is in no mood now to start a World War. This also probably applies to Great Britain and France. Whether or not Germany will wait for Russia to strike first is another question.

The above means that the important weapon, from defense stand-point, is an anti-missile missile. This is a missile which can be fired to head off and destroy any approaching missile being fired at our cities by an enemy. Even though we would not start a war with Russia, we would immediately go to the help of any free nation—including Germany — which Russia might attack. We then would be subject to bombing. Hence, a defense against such missile is an absolute necessity. But today we hear or read very little about much protection or anti-missile missiles.

Propaganda Is Usually False

This is especially true of the attempt to scare the American people into spending more money by saying it will take us 3 or 4 years to catch up with the Russian scientists. But let me comment on this 3 to 4 year propaganda. All research men know that TIME is an impossible factor to judge with regard to discovering the solution to any scientific problem. It may have taken the Russians four years to reach their present effiency with missiles; but the physicists and engineers of some other nation may make a discovery in 30 days which will put them ahead of Russia. Most great inventions have come from a sudden idea.

Furthermore, Russia may not now be ahead of us in anti-missile missiles. No nation yet has the protection desired from such missile attacks. Yet this is the important discovery which the world is awaiting. Some Washington friends may tell you, "We have such an anti-missile missile; but the data are 'classified or secret'." Don't believe them. The experiments by most nations with anti-missile missiles are known throughout the world. They cannot be kept secret, except possibly by Russia in Siberia. I wish to drive home to readers of this column that no country—including Russia and Germany—will start World War III until it has discovered a means of preventing destruction by enemy missiles. Our Defense Department should give priority to such work rather than to shooting around the moon.

Electricity From The Air

Notwithstanding the above, I am greatly interested in learning more about space. My studies with gravitation make me believe that if two wires are carried up through space a certain distance, we could so utilize the atomic heat from the sun as to produce or collect electricity directly without the need of generators on the earth. I am certain the time is coming when our great public utility stations, instead of burning oil or coal, will have great "wires like lightning rods" extending up into the air. This is what Benjamin Franklin visualized over 200 years ago in 1752. The space experiments now in process will surely find the answer. Neither Russia nor Germany is talking about them; but some nation—possibly France—will find the answer.

Sir Isaac Newton (whose library we have at Babson Institute, Babson Park, Mass.) learned that gravity could bend a line or keep it upright. Space experiments are finding out what gravity will do after a missile pierces the gravity barrier. It then is pulled to the moon or sun automatically without power. Dr. Albert Einstein had all this in mind when he insisted that Electricity, Gravity, Magnetism (and in his last days he added Love) all come from some outside force and are interrelated. I wish that Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Edison, and Dr. Einstein were here today to talk this over. Surely this would result in an "atoms for peace" program, which was Dr. Einstein's daily prayer. This was based upon the sun as the universal source of energy.

Play Divides Men From Boys

By OSWALD JACOBY

Skipping lightly over the bidding we find that South is declarer at three no-trump and the queen of spades is opened. South should win with the king; not the ace because if he false cards with the ace he clearly shows that he holds the king also.

His next play is the ten of clubs from his hand and small from dummy. At this point we separate the men from the boys. East should win the trick with the ace of clubs and lead back a second spade. South will be in the lead again and will take what appears to be a sure fire finesse for the queen of clubs.

East will win that trick also and six spade tricks will put declarer down four.

Of course, this play might go wrong. Declarer might have started with five clubs in which case he will laugh and pick up East's queen or declarer might even guess what happened. But the point to this unusual play is that if East wins the first club trick with the queen South is going to make his contract.

He will see no chance at all and therefore will try to cash as many tricks as possible when he gets in the second time. When he cashes the ace and king of diamonds he will get a nice bonus. East's queen and jack will drop and South will make his three no-trump.

Marbletown to Install New Minister March 1

The 28th pastor of the historic Marbletown Reformed Church, the Rev. Robert Clementz, will be installed Sunday, March 1, at 8 p. m. services.

Assisting at the ceremony will be the following ministers: The Rev. George Wood of the Rochester Reformed Church, the Rev. David Arnold of St. Peter's Episcopal Church of Stone Ridge, the Rev. Lester Finley of Stone Ridge Methodist Church, the Rev. James Blane of the Flatbush Reformed Church, the Rev. Harold Schadewald of the Hurley Reformed Church, the Rev. Kenneth Cordes of Gardiner Reformed Church, the Rev. Albert Deyo of the Montgomery Reformed Church and the Rev. Roy P. Adelberg, former minister of the Marbletown Reformed Church and now associated with the visual aids department of the Reformed Church of America in New York City.

REV. ROBERT CLEMENTZ

Native of New Jersey

The Rev. Mr. Clementz was born in Hoboken, N. J. After graduating from Demarest High School, Hoboken, he attended Montclair, N. J. State Teachers College for three years and then received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from the Bloomfield, N. J. College and Seminary. He then attended the New Brunswick Theological Seminary and was graduated with the Bachelor of Divinity Degree. He was ordained a minister of the Reformed Church in America by the Classis of Greene in the First Reformed Church of Coxsackie. After the pastorate in the Coxsackie Church, the Rev. Mr. Clementz also served the New Prospect Church, Pine Bush, and the Dutch Reformed Church, Newburgh.

For two summers while he was attending New Brunswick Seminary he served as a missionary in Yancey County, N. C., and helped organize the Reformed Church in Feasterville, Pa.

While in Newburgh, the Rev. Mr. Clementz served as president of the Newburgh Ministerial Association and was active in the YMCA work and served as chaplain for Hudson River Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons.

He is married to the former Rachel Truesdell of Coxsackie, and has three daughters, Elizabeth Ann, Elaine Audrey and Evelyn Alice.

Merger of Churches

In November, 1958, the Classis of Ulster merged by consent the old and historic Clove Reformed Church of High Falls and the Marbletown Reformed Church of Stone Ridge. Thus were united two of the oldest Reformed Churches in this area. The Marbletown Church was organized in 1738 and the present stone church was dedicated on Feb. 24, 1852.

The old records of the church provide some very interesting historical information. The first dominies who presided at services were supplied from the Old Dutch Church, Kingston, but in 1754 the Rev. Henricus Frelinghuysen was installed as pastor. The first consistory of the church consisted of the following men: Matthew DeWitt, Benjamin Van Leuven, Issac Robinson, George Basten, Jacob Kemble and Jacob Van Demark.

Much valuable geneological data has been found in the old records. The records of baptisms were begun in 1746 with Isaac, the son of Velde Kelder, the first to be recorded.

Copy of 1750 Call

In the year 1750 a copy of a call sent to Dominie Samuel Ver Bryck states that he was to serve Marbletown three-sixths of the time, Rochester three-sixths of the time and Wawarsing one-seventh.

The first missionary to Arabia from the Reformed Church in America was a member of the Marbletown Church. He was Dr. James Cantine, who began his work in 1889.

The stained glass windows in the sanctuary long have been admired by members and visitors alike for their beauty and inspirational qualities. Skilled workmen in stained glass attribute some of these windows to the famous Tiffany artists.

Friends and members of the church may attend the installation ceremony and the reception for the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Clementz which will follow.

Your Life And Mine

COUNTING THE DAYS

Along about this time of the year we begin to get "fed up" with winter. We count the days until the arrival of spring. Our thought pattern changes. We would be hard put to it to tell just exactly when that shift in our thinking takes place. Suddenly one morning we wake up to find that we are looking forward to that glorious season that lies ahead instead of concentrating upon the one that is with us. By some miracle, wrought stealthily in us, grim endurance is replaced by keen anticipation. We now think in terms of the beauty and the promise that lie ahead. And we begin to share the uneasiness of the crocuses which cannot wait for the snow to depart before sending forth their pretty blossoms. Henry VanDyke has reminded us that "the first day of spring is one thing, and the first spring day is another. The difference between them is sometimes as great as a month." While that is true, it is also true that the eagerness for spring kind of gets into our blood; sometimes even before the arrival of the first spring day. The calendar tells us that green and growing loveliness is on the way; and the heart skips a beat in ecstatic salute to the beauty that is to be.

Someway the winter storms that come in late February or early March are bearable—no matter how severe they may be. We "take them in stride" knowing that no matter how cruelly the wind may howl, or the frost bite; no matter how much it may snow and blow and drift about our door, still we can count the days until the arrival of that season which is sure to dethrone the brutal elements and establish the reign of lovely ones in their places. We now know that spring's green army is marching toward us to deliver us from the tyranny of ice and snow. On any given day we may not be able to see any evidence of that as we glance out of the window. But we have the dependable evidence of the calendar; we have the surety of an advancing sun. And this inner knowledge gives us a new perspective. We now have a different outlook on life. It has become a world where February is almost depleted and March is almost here. And that makes even the most stolid of us feel like shouting for joy.

I am sure God understands how most of us who are over thirty cannot get too enthusiastic about winter. We don't have to explain that to Him. And neither do we have to repent of it — as though it were a sin. When He made the winter, He did it in the full knowledge that it could never hope to be any where near as popular with humans as the spring or the summer. So our lack of enthusiasm for it does not take Him by surprise; neither is there any occasion to confess it as a transgression.

Probably, when all is said and done, we need the winter—both as a season and as a human experience—in order truly to appreciate the spring. Be that as it may, I have not met one soul who is sorry that we now can count the days until that season, which rejoices the heart the most, arrives in all of its fragrant splendor.

The service will be preceded by the dedication of a new altar and lectern in the assembly room during the Sunday school session at 9:30 a. m. Constructed of fine oak with gold and polychrome ecclesiastical symbols, the altar and lectern are a memorial to Edward A. Mahler from his friends and loved ones. Mr. Mahler, until his death a year ago, was a faithful teacher in the Sunday school, a member of the church council, and had been president of the congregation. The dedication will be in charge of the superintendent of the Sunday school, Burton O. Berge, assisted by the pastor.

Marbletown to Install New Minister March 1

The 28th pastor of the historic Marbletown Reformed Church, the Rev. Robert Clementz, will be installed Sunday, March 1, at 8 p. m. services.

Assisting at the ceremony will be the following ministers: The Rev. George Wood of the Rochester Reformed Church, the Rev. David Arnold of St. Peter's Episcopal Church of Stone Ridge, the Rev. Lester Finley of Stone Ridge Methodist Church, the Rev. James Blane of the Flatbush Reformed Church, the Rev. Harold Schadewald of the Hurley Reformed Church, the Rev. Kenneth Cordes of Gardiner Reformed Church, the Rev. Albert Deyo of the Montgomery Reformed Church and the Rev. Roy P. Adelberg, former minister of the Marbletown Reformed Church and now associated with the visual aids department of the Reformed Church of America in New York City.

REV. ROBERT CLEMENTZ

Native of New Jersey

The Rev. Mr. Clementz was born in Hoboken, N. J. After graduating from Demarest High School, Hoboken, he attended Montclair, N. J. State Teachers College for three years and then received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from the Bloomfield, N. J. College and Seminary. He then attended the New Brunswick Theological Seminary and was graduated with the Bachelor of Divinity Degree. He was ordained a minister of the Reformed Church in America by the Classis of Greene in the First Reformed Church of Coxsackie. After the pastorate in the Coxsackie Church, the Rev. Mr. Clementz also served the New Prospect Church, Pine Bush, and the Dutch Reformed Church, Newburgh.

For two summers while he was attending New Brunswick Seminary he served as a missionary in Yancey County, N. C., and helped organize the Reformed Church in Feasterville, Pa.

While in Newburgh, the Rev. Mr. Clementz served as president of the Newburgh Ministerial Association and was active in the YMCA work and served as chaplain for Hudson River Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons.

He is married to the former Rachel Truesdell of Coxsackie, and has three daughters, Elizabeth Ann, Elaine Audrey and Evelyn Alice.

Merger of Churches

In November, 1958, the Classis of Ulster merged by consent the old and historic Clove Reformed Church of High Falls and the Marbletown Reformed Church of Stone Ridge. Thus were united two of the oldest Reformed Churches in this area. The Marbletown Church was organized in 1738 and the present stone church was dedicated on Feb. 24, 1852.

The old records of the church provide some very interesting historical information. The first dominies who presided at services were supplied from the Old Dutch Church, Kingston, but in 1754 the Rev. Henricus Frelinghuysen was installed as pastor. The first consistory of the church consisted of the following men: Matthew DeWitt, Benjamin Van Leuven, Issac Robinson, George Basten, Jacob Kemble and Jacob Van Demark.

Much valuable geneological data has been found in the old records. The records of baptisms were begun in 1746 with Isaac, the son of Velde Kelder, the first to be recorded.

Copy of 1750 Call

In the year 1750 a copy of a call sent to Dominie Samuel Ver Bryck states that he was to serve Marbletown three-sixths of the time, Rochester three-sixths of the time and Wawarsing one-seventh.

The first missionary to Arabia from the Reformed Church in America was a member of the Marbletown Church. He was Dr. James Cantine, who began his work in 1889.

The stained glass windows in the sanctuary long have been admired by members and visitors alike for their beauty and inspirational qualities. Skilled workmen in stained glass attribute some of these windows to the famous Tiffany artists.

Friends and members of the church may attend the installation ceremony and the reception for the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Clementz which will follow.

Your Life And Mine

By CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

COUNTING THE DAYS

Along about this time of the year we begin to get "fed up" with winter. We count the days until the arrival of spring. Our thought pattern changes. We would be hard put to it to tell just exactly when that shift in our thinking takes place. Suddenly one morning we wake up to find that we are looking forward to that glorious season that lies ahead instead of concentrating upon the one that is with us. By some miracle, wrought stealthily in us, grim endurance is replaced by keen anticipation. We now think in terms of the beauty and the promise that lie ahead. And we begin to share the uneasiness of the crocuses which cannot wait for the snow to depart before sending forth their pretty blossoms. Henry VanDyke has reminded us that "the first day of spring is one thing, and the first spring day is another. The difference between them is sometimes as great as a month." While that is true, it is also true that the eagerness for spring kind of gets into our blood; sometimes even before the arrival of the first spring day. The calendar tells us that green and growing loveliness is on the way; and the heart skips a beat in ecstatic salute to the beauty that is to be.

Someway the winter storms that come in late February or early March are bearable—no matter how severe they may be. We "take them in stride" knowing that no matter how cruelly the wind may howl, or the frost bite; no matter how much it may snow and blow and drift about our door, still we can count the days until the arrival of that season which is sure to dethrone the brutal elements and establish the reign of lovely ones in their places. We now know that spring's green army is marching toward us to deliver us from the tyranny of ice and snow. On any given day we may not be able to see any evidence of that as we glance out of the window. But we have the dependable evidence of the calendar; we have the surety of an advancing sun. And this inner knowledge gives us a new perspective. We now have a different outlook on life. It has become a world where February is almost depleted and March is almost here. And that makes even the most stolid of us feel like shouting for joy.

I am sure God understands how most of us who are over thirty cannot get too enthusiastic about winter. We don't have to explain that to Him. And neither do we have to repent of it — as though it were a sin. When He made the winter, He did it in the full knowledge that it could never hope to be any where near as popular with humans as the spring or the summer. So our lack of enthusiasm for it does not take Him by surprise; neither is there any occasion to confess it as a transgression.

Probably, when all is said and done, we need the winter—both as a season and as a human experience—in order truly to appreciate the spring. Be that as it may, I have not met one soul who is sorry that we now can count the days until that season, which rejoices the heart the most, arrives in all of its fragrant splendor.

"I'VE HAD NO DREAMS . . ."—Dark-haired Bobby Sullivan, 8, is embraced by his grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Murphy, in Chicago. The boy was one of eight survivors of an air crash in New York which killed 65, including his parents and two sisters. He'll live with Mrs. Murphy and her husband, Joseph. About the crash, Bobby said, "I've had no dreams of what happened."

Gotham Suspends Three, Transfers Police Officers

NEW YORK (AP) — Three patrolmen have been suspended and three officers transferred in what may become the city's second police scandal this month.

The three patrolmen were seen near the scene of an attempted burglary at a Manhattan shoe store recently. According to Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm, the three were spotted there by a young patrolman walking his beat. The trio was supposed to be on duty elsewhere, Arm said Friday.

The lock of the shoe store had been tampered with.

No criminal charges were placed against the suspended patrolmen.

The precinct captain and two sergeants were transferred for failing to exercise proper supervision. An investigation under way.

Only nine days ago charges were made that police had exacted shakedown payments from bookies in Brooklyn. The Brooklyn morals squad is now the subject of an investment by the rackets grand jury in Brooklyn.

In the Manhattan investigation, the patrolmen were identified as James E. Svenstrup, 27, of Woodside, Queens; George J. Nolan, 37, of Jackson Heights, Queens; and Robert J. Van Horn, of Brooklyn.

Automatic Signal Brings Rescue of Navy Jet Pilot

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A Navy pilot parachuted from his disabled jet fighter over the Atlantic Friday but not before he turned on an automatic distress signal. The device saved his life.

Ens. John T. Kryway, 22, of (2401 Whitney Ave.) Niagara Falls, N. Y., ejected from the plane after it had gone into a violent spin. He was on a training mission 60 miles off shore.

The signal from Kryway's falling plane was picked up on the radar screen on another plane, also on a training mission. The crew of the second plane was able to plot Kryway's position.

They found Kryway clinging to a life raft within four miles of the spot plotted.

A helicopter from Mayport Naval Station lifted Kryway from the ocean. He was reported in good condition and did not require hospitalization.

Kryway is stationed with Fighter Squadron 174 at nearby Cecil Field. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas J. Kryway, live in Niagara Falls.

Ask Official Action Making Albany Capital

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Nearly everyone knows that Albany is the capital of New York State. But there's nothing in the State Constitution or law books that says it is.

Rep. John H. Hughes (R-Syracuse) and Assemblyman Edwyn E. Mason (R - Delaware) want the Legislature to take action on the matter.

They sponsored a bill that would amend the executive law to specify that the capial shall continue in Albany and require that state agencies maintain their principal offices here.

The measure would prevent state agencies from making their headquarters in New York City. Some have done so in recent years.

The only official reference to Albany as the state capital is in a resolution adopted by the Legislature in 1878.

In railroad terms, a "shoo-fly" track is a temporary track built to detour trains while the permanent line is being repaired.

Mrs. Vera Jacobs Awarded National P-TA Membership

Mrs. Vera Jacobs of Washington Avenue, Saugerties was honored by Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association Thursday with the award of a life membership in the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The presentation, a pin and card was made by Robert Moser, local PT-A president at the regular meeting of the group held in Saugerties High School.

The citation which accompanied the award read as follows: "A life membership in the sociation is being awarded to Mrs. William Jacobs for her outstanding contribution to the local association. Mrs. Jacobs has shown continued interest in and loyalty to the Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association as a member over the years.

"She has also helped to advance Parent-Teacher Association work by holding positions as attendance and hospitality chairman, room mother, hostess, vice president and president, and by serving on numerous committees. Her willingness to serve as an officer, or as a committee member or to act in an advisory capacity has been greatly appreciated. Her assistance has contributed immeasurely to the progress of the Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association."

A stimulating discussion concerning "Problems of Teenagers" was held by a panel of parents and teenage students. Several problems with which both young people and their parents are concerned were considered.

The first question raised by a teenager was whether or not rock and roll music might contribute to delinquency. In general the parents agreed that such music could not be considered morally harmful and that it was a passing craze. Some felt that television was more likely to contribute to delinquency than rock and roll music.

The question of how late teenagers could stay out at night brought forth evidence of greater conflict of viewpoint. The parents stressed having an understanding concerning the time for getting home, and young people making sure that they abided by the agreement. The difference in age and difference in maturity of the young people, it was declared, should be of prime importance in setting the time. It was stated that parents aren't trying to be unreasonable in establishing a time for returning, it's just that they care.

In response to a question raised by one of the students as to when teenagers should start dating, the parents felt that it was when they showed sufficient responsibility to be able to do so. Teenagers are dating at an earlier age, but should be enjoying their childhood while they can.

Both parents and students were in agreement that there should not be a curfew law in the community. It was felt that the police should not assume a responsibility which was actually the parents'. Parents should enforce their own curfews.

The questions of whether or not young people should be permitted to drive the family car, or own their own cars were raised. The parents stressed the fact that driving a car is driving a deadly weapon and that young people should be trained to recognize this fact. Parents are in the best position to know whether or not their children are mature enough to be permitted to drive. Most parents on the panel felt that teenagers shouldn't own their own cars. If they did, they should pay for the entire cost of buying and operating them.

At the conclusion of the discussion by panel members, there were some questions and comments from the audience.

Student panel members were Susan Mills, Hilton Long, Carolyn Halpert, Ronald Smith, Dee Offermann, and Donald Mormile.

Parents who participated were Mrs. James Thompson, Mrs. William Tomas, Mrs. Albert Giannotti, Frederick Sandner, Raymond Quackenbush and Peter Pocalyko. Kenneth Lane, guidance counselor acted as the moderator.

Former Danish Diplomat Jailed On Spy Charges

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) —Former top Danish diplomat Einar Blechingberg today was sentenced to eight years in prison for spying on behalf of Polish intelligence in the first major espionage trial in Denmark's history.

Blechingberg, 63, admitted in court he had surrendered 11 documents from the files of the Danish Embassy in Bonn, West Germany, to a German-speaking Polish agent he knew only as "Baumgarten."

No. 3 Man

Danish security agents were sent to Bonn last May to question Blechingberg, then No. 3 man in the Danish Embassy there, after the embassy reported state papers were missing.

After an investigation, Blechingberg was arrested and brought back to Copenhagen.

The maximum sentence Blechingberg could have received was 16 years in prison.

Blechingberg said he had acted in desperation and panic after Baumgarten had threatened for a year to create a scandal for the Danish ex-diplomat's family.

Loan Forced Action

The former diplomat said he had borrowed almost $1,000 from a Polish official while he was in Warsaw and this was held over his head.

The government prosecutor said some of the documents were related to plans for a joint Danish-German naval command in the Baltic Sea and to last year's North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council meeting in Copenhagen.

The Danish Foreign Ministry said that 4 of the 11 documents were classified but only 2 were considered potentially dangerous to Denmark.

Macmillan Gets

London just before boarding a Comet IV jetliner.

Will Search Out Hearts

"I certainly am not going to try to search out secrets. We are going to search out the hearts and minds of the Russian leaders to see how far we can make contact with them."

Macmillan carried with him gifts for Khrushchev, but they were a well kept secret.

The British statesman seemed in a cautiously optimistic mood. He said:

"I don't know how much success we will have,—we will certainly try. Of this I am sure, though: personal talks and contacts are very valuable in international life today."

Firm Decisions Unlikely

Western diplomats here are not looking for any firm decisions—or sweeping new proposals—to come out of the talks in which British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd will take part.

There was a widespread feeling here, however, that frank discussions could help eliminate any false ideas either side may have of the other's position.

Germany—and particularly Berlin—stood out as the immediate pressing issue to be dealt with but the two leaders are expected to cover the whole range of East-West international differences.

Press Hails Parley

Soviet newspapers this morning welcomed Macmillan's visit, which Macmillan sought himself at this time as a "reconnaissance mission."

The Communist party organ Pravda said the two great powers "could make an important joint contribution to the solution of important international problems."

Ashby Mum

your wife, your friends," and consider matters outside the political field and to discuss the matter, if he desired, with the court — either with or without counsel.

Would Waive Motions

Ashby's attorney, N. LeVan Haver, told Justice Greenberg on Thursday morning he would waive any motions until the date of sentencing.

Justice Greenberg, in postponing sentence, pointed out that Ashby, on leave as county commissioner of jurors, had been found guilty of second degree perjury. The jury also heard charges of first degree perjury in the trial.

The court noted that if Ashby were successful in an appeal, the best decision he could hope for would be a second trial when he would face a first degree perjury charge.

Justice Greenberg also referred to "other matters" which are outstanding. These were brought to public attention during the trial and involved possible state tax and federal income tax matters.

Says Suggestion Fair

The justice said, prior to the trial, he had consulted with Ashby and suggested that a plea of guilty to second degree perjury might result in a suspended sentence.

Justice Greenberg described the suggestion as "eminently fair," but it was not accepted by Ashby.

Single Immigrant Needs $1,600 for Israel Transfer

A "cost analysis" of the life-building process of transferring and resettling an individual immigrant from an East European country to Israel has been given here by Arthur P. Motzkin, chairman of the Kingston United Jewish Welfare Fund Campaign, who said that at least 100,000 are expected in the young state in 1959.

"It takes $1,600 to see a single person through this process —from the day he leaves Eastern Europe to the end of his first year in Israel," Mr. Motzkin declared. He added, "What better way could funds be used than in this fashion — to give people a chance to build new lives among those who welcome them." Chairman Motzkin set forth the transfer-and-resettlement items as follows:

For initial papers, transit vistas, etc. — $23; for transportation from Vienna to Naples, medical service aboard ship, board and lodging en route —$230; for initial absorption costs in Israel, including a small loan for living expenses, bedding, canned food, minimal furniture and medical aid $209; for education, medical and social services—$44; for housing (one person's share) — $1,100. Grand total for a human being's chance at a new life — $1,600.

Has Twofold Nature

Presenting his analysis against a background of local community effort in behalf of the urgent tasks confronting UJA over a vast area of the globe, Mr. Motzkin gave special emphasis to the twofold nature of UJA's campaign. First, he said, is the regular appeal drive to meet the hard-drawn budgetary requirements of UJA-financed agencies functioning in Israel and 25 other countries. Second, is the UJA "over and above" $100 million Special Fund set up in response to the huge and unexpected upsurge of emigration from East European countries, following the recent liberalization of emigration procedures by various East European governments.

The largest Jewish community in Eastern Europe outside the Soviet Union is that of Rumania, numbering some 250,000 Jews. Poland has about 40,000 remaining Jews.

Urges Full Support

Chairman Motzkin urged full support by all contributors to the UJA Special Fund, pointing out that even the full realization to the $100 million sought would not meet the total costs of 100,000 immigrants — and that the $1,600 for individual newcomers represented only the first year's cost of absorbing an immigrant.

The local organization, Mr. Motzkin said, has set itself a quota of $25,000 toward UJA's national drive for the $100 million Special Fund, to be used primarily for the costs of transferring to Israel thousands of Jews leaving Eastern Europe, as well as their initial settlement. In addition, it will provide adequate housing for as many as possible of the 110,000 earlier immigrants still living in shabby "shanty towns."

The second aspect of the local community's UJA effort, for which a goal of $75,000 has been worked out, will go to UJA's regular campaign, which provides the sinews of aid by which UJA-financed agencies provide migration, welfare, rehabilitation, and educational services for Jews in IIsrael and 25 other lands. It will also help the other local and national agencies supported by the UJWF.

The 1959 budgetary requirements of the UJA agencies, Mr. Motzkin stated, amount to $105,065,000, adding that this is the 21st annual campaign of the United Jewish Appeal, one of the world's greatest voluntary humanitarian enterprises.

Three Agencies at Work

UJA aid programs are carried out by its three agencies: the United Israel Appeal, which remits funds to the Jewish Agency, the philanthropic organization responsible for the absorption of Israel's immigrants; the Joint Distribution Committee, which aids Jews in 24 countries and conducts a specialized program for aged, chronically ill, and handicapped in Israel, and the New York Association for New Americans, which provides settlement services for Jewish newcomers to the U. S. in the New York metropolitan area. From its Special Fund, the UJA also makes allocations to the United Hias Service, an agency aiding Jewish immigrants to countries other than Israel.

Labor Leaders Go To Sea Aboard Missile Cruiser

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—The U.S. Navy arranged to take AFL-CIO leaders on a cruise off Puerto Rico today aboard the missile-firing cruiser Boston.

The labor chiefs are in recess for the weekend, their winter meeting is due to resume Monday.

The AFL-CIO Council postponed action Friday on a proposal to suspend Maurice Hutcheson, president of the 850,000-member Carpenters' Union, from the council.

The council decided to let Hutcheson, now under indictment in an Indian highway land scandal, continue a self-imposed exile from the AFL-CIO Council.

James M. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, presented the council with a motion to suspend Hutcheson immediately as an AFL-CIO vice president and member of the council.

But the council finally approved a proposal by George Meany, AFL-CIO president, to receive a letter from Hutcheson disclaiming any misuse of union funds and pledging to adhere to AFL-CIO ethical practice codes.

One of the factors the council had to consider was Hutcheson's threat to pull his union out of the AFL-CIO. The labor leaders do not want to lose another big union, as happened when the Teamsters' Union was expelled on charges of corruption in 1957.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Howard C. Shurter, county director Veterans' Service Agency, and Charles L. Culver, state veterans counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, submit another in a series of articles on rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen and other dependents.

Training—A World War 2 disabled veteran may have a Vocational Rehabilitation Program approved even though it can not be completed by the 1960 deadline. Approval is based on the fact that a WW 2 disabled veteran who enters a Vocational Rehabilitation Program will be able to complete the course under a state Vocational Rehabilitation Program or a similar program. Before this new ruling, approval to complete a Vocational Rehabilitation program could only be granted to a WW 2 veteran if the entire course he desired to pursue could be completed under the veteran's Vocational Rehabilitation Law. This new ruling applies also to Korean veterans who may complete their Vocational Rehabilitation training under the Korean GI Bill after they have partially completed their Rehabilitation Program under the Vocational Rehabilitation Law.

Taxes—All World War 2 and Korean GI Bill monetary benefits are exempt from Federal and State income tax. This would include, for example, training allowances paid to veterans in school or on-the-job training programs, and readjustment allowances. In addition, compensation, pension, insurance dividends and state veteran bonuses are also exempt.

Insurance—All United States Government Life Insurance records are located in the VA District Office, Philadelphia, Pa. Veterans should address correspondence to VA District Office, "K" Unit, P. O. Box 8079, Philadelphia, Pa. All premiums should be addressed VA District Office, PO Box 7787, Philadelphia, Pa.

Legislation — A bill which would increase the funds available for direct loans in small towns and rural areas by 300 million dollars was approved by the U. S. House of Representatives Committee on Veterans Affairs. The bill also would permit an increase in the GI loan interest rate to 5¼ per cent from the current rate of 4¾ per cent. Under the terms of this proposed legislation the Administrator of Veterans Affairs will determine if and when the current interest rate of 4¾ per cent shall be increased up to the permitted maximum under the new bill of 5¼ per cent. It is reported that because the purpose of the bill is to stimulate the GI Housing Program that the measure may be expected to be considered promptly by the House of Representatives Rules Committee from which committee it would be referred to the floor of the House for consideration.

Tax Exemption — Real property of war veterans is allowed a limited tax exemption under the tax law of the State of New York. Generally, the law provides that where real property is purchased with the proceeds of a veteran's pension, bonus or insurance or dividends or refunds on such insurance, an exemption may be allowed to the extent that such benefits received are applied to the property. The maximum amount of tax exemption is $5,000. The monies received to be considered eligible funds must be paid by the U. S. Government or New York State. The property must be owned by the Veteran, his wife, unmarried widow, dependent father or mother or by his minor children. A verified application must be filed with the local Board of Assessors to claim the exemption. Contact this agency or the local Board of Assessors for the date by which tax exemption claims must be filed. Generally, grievance day for taxes is the second Tuesday in July in the townships, and the second Tuesday in August in the City of Kingston.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office located at 32 Main Street, Kingston.

During their talks they ranged over a number of issues affecting the two nations. But both U.S. and Mexican observers felt the visit has done much to do away with old resentments.

The thousands of Mexicans who turned out to welcome Eisenhower applauded him and continued to do so throughout his activities at this tourist-packed tropical resort city.

A communique also expressed the leaders' agreement that "economic development is an objective of cooperation between nations."

This probably means Mexico will get some financial aid from the United States or international agencies.

Claims U. S. Has Power Right Now To Destroy Reds

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — America's chief of naval operations Friday night said the United States has the power, right now, to destroy the Soviet Union "in several ways, and several times over."

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke added it was not sabre rattling to say so.

Addressing the Charleston Chamber of Commerce, Burke said the United States has the destructive power in its Strategic Air Command, Navy carrier striking forces, tactical air forces and intermediate range ballistic missiles.

For that reason, he said, there was no need to get into a ballistic missiles race with the Soviet Union.

Rondout Valley Joins National Honor Society

Rondout Valley Central High School recently became a member of the National Honor Society of the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

The honor society is an organization of students who have evinced not only excellent scholastic achievement, but also outstanding leadership, service, responsibility, and character.

Last year, at the direction of Roland Riegel, high school principal, a committee of five teachers—Miss Meryle Goldman, Daniel Hamlin, Mrs. Edith Krom, Harold Ross, and Mrs. Russell Van Regenmortel — investigated and initiated this membership. After a survey of local member schools and inquiries to the National Council, the committee submitted a proposed constitution. This constitution was approved, and Rondut Valley now has permission to organize a local chapter.

The local chapter requires an average of 88, including regents in English, citizenship education, and a major field. Students may be appointed candidates by maintaining the required average, but election to membership will be on the basis of their leadership, service, and character, in addition to scholarship.

Marshall Gains, Physician Says

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — Gen. George C. Marshall, a tough old soldier made weak by age, shows faintly heartening signs in his long, hard battle against two strokes and pneumonia.

"I am satisfied with his progress up to this point," said Col. George M. Powell, Army physician, Friday. He issued the most favorable medical report in two days on the general's condition.

"The pneumonia appears to be clearing." But the doctor warned "his condition remains serious, however, and the prognosis remains guarded."

Col. Powell said this morning that Gen. Marshall's condition remained about the same.

A civilian consultant, Dr. Henry D. McIntosh, heart specialist from Duke University school of medicine, also noted an improvement in the condition of the 78-year-old soldier-statesman.

The general, who entered the Army hospital here after a mild stroke Jan. 15, suffered an attack of pneumonia at the same time the second stroke occurred.

Week's Business

est rise in food costs, the government's index of what it costs you to live would have dropped a little.

The upward trend in food expenses, plus a slight rise in the cost of heating fuel, medical care and rent, more than offset a downturn in prices of home furnishings and clothing.

Take-home pay of factory workers was the best for any January on record — $78.50 a week for a worker with three dependents after allowing for the increased Social Security tax.

Personal income of Americans as a whole edged to a new record high in January — an annual pace of more than 362 billion dollars. Unemployment went up, but so did the income Americans received from rents, royalties, partnerships, dividends, salaries and wages. Dividends made a particularly good showing.

Merchants had cause for cheer this week. Easter buying spurred sales of spring hats and fashion accessories, although the temperature in some areas hovered around zero. Department store sales across the country in the week ended Feb. 14 topped last year by eight per cent.

Two attractions lured shoppers into the nation's stores this week —widespread February clearance sales, and the nearness of Easter. The holiday falls on March 29, making it the earliest Easter in eight years.

The early Easter — and a good inventory position resulting from the Christmas shopping surge — promised good business for many retailers in the weeks ahead.

On Automobile Row the big news this week concerned a flurry of reports that one or more of Detroit's Big Three are on the verge of introducing a smaller economy auto.

Would Mean Competition

The entry of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler into the small car field this year would mean high - powered competition for American Motors and Studebaker who, among U. S. producers, have had the market pretty much to themselves. It could also put a competitive squeeze on some of the midget foreign imports.

Increased gasoline mileage, and low insurance upkeep costs, were cited this week as the chief economy features of the Big Three's new "compact" cars, when and if they hit the market. Prices, Detroit sources said, would probably not be much lower than those of some stripped-down conventional models.

Business in Brief

Briefly over the business scene: Record 1958 earnings were reported by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.'s Bell Ssystem, by General Telephone Cor., and Reynolds Tobacco Co. . . . General Motor's profit last year was down 25 per cent from 1957, but coming up at a good clip in the last quarter. . . . Director of Colgate-Palmolive Co. recommended a three-for-one split of the common stock —the first in the soap company's 95-year history. . . . New car sales in the first 10 days of February were up 23 per cent from the recession lows of February 1958. . . . Bills tossed into the legislative hopper in Washington this week would legialize "fair trade" — a form of compulsory price fixing by manufacturers—in all 49 states and keep auto manufacturers out of the auto finance business. . . . Platinum prices were raised this week for the first time in more than two years. . . . Steel production this week, estimated at 2,439,000 tons, was the highest in almost two years and within kissin' distance of a record. . . . The Federal Trade Commission is taking steps to head off gasoline price wars. . . . The Navy has asked Lockheed Aircraft Corp. to convert a commercial Electra transport plane into a submarine hunter-killer. . . . National Homes Corp. says it produced one of out of every 40 houses built in the United States last year. All were pre-fabricated.

Amberg said the company had agreed to pay a sum into a joint bank account with the money to be applied to a jointly administered pension plan, the details to be agreed on in negotiations for the 1960 contract.

But Herbert Monk, chairman of the strike steering committee, said the Guild had been unable after 15 months of effort to get the Globe to negotiate an equally applied formula for a pension plan.

secret speech exposing some of Stalin's crimes, delivered at the party congress three years ago. In that speech Premier Khrushchev called on Marshal Voroshilov to 'find the necessary courage and write the truth about Stalin.'

"This was a demand that Marshal Voroshilov repudiate and revise his earlier writings, which had played a key role in building up the legend of Stalin as the greatest military genius of all time. In the three years that have passed, Marshal Voroshilov has not complied with Premier Khrushchev's demand on that score."

Cases in Court

Former Danish Diplomat Jailed On Spy Charges

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) —Former top Danish diplomat Einar Blechingberg today was sentenced to eight years in prison for spying on behalf of Polish intelligence in the first major espionage trial in Denmark's history.

Blechingberg, 63, admitted in court he had surrendered 11 documents from the files of the Danish Embassy in Bonn, West Germany, to a German-speaking Polish agent he knew only as "Baumgarten."

No. 3 Man

Danish security agents were sent to Bonn last May to question Blechingberg, then No. 3 man in the Danish Embassy there, after the embassy reported state papers were missing.

After an investigation, Blechingberg was arrested and brought back to Copenhagen.

The maximum sentence Blechingberg could have received was 16 years in prison.

Blechingberg said he had acted in desperation and panic after Baumgarten had threatened for a year to create a scandal for the Danish ex-diplomat's family.

Loan Forced Action

The former diplomat said he had borrowed almost $1,000 from a Polish official while he was in Warsaw and this was held over his head.

The government prosecutor said some of the documents were related to plans for a joint Danish-German naval command in the Baltic Sea and to last year's North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council meeting in Copenhagen.

The Danish Foreign Ministry said that 4 of the 11 documents were classified but only 2 were considered potentially dangerous to Denmark.

Macmillan Gets

London just before boarding a Comet IV jetliner.

Will Search Out Hearts

"I certainly am not going to try to search out secrets. We are going to search out the hearts and minds of the Russian leaders to see how far we can make contact with them."

Macmillan carried with him gifts for Khrushchev, but they were a well kept secret.

The British statesman seemed in a cautiously optimistic mood. He said:

"I don't know how much success we will have,—we will certainly try. Of this I am sure, though: personal talks and contacts are very valuable in international life today."

Firm Decisions Unlikely

Western diplomats here are not looking for any firm decisions—or sweeping new proposals—to come out of the talks in which British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd will take part.

There was a widespread feeling here, however, that frank discussions could help eliminate any false ideas either side may have of the other's position.

Germany—and particularly Berlin—stood out as the immediate pressing issue to be dealt with but the two leaders are expected to cover the whole range of East-West international differences.

Press Hails Parley

Soviet newspapers this morning welcomed Macmillan's visit, which Macmillan sought himself at this time as a "reconnaissance mission."

The Communist party organ Pravda said the two great powers "could make an important joint contribution to the solution of important international problems."

Ashby Mum

your wife, your friends," and consider matters outside the political field and to discuss the matter, if he desired, with the court — either with or without counsel.

Would Waive Motions

Ashby's attorney, N. LeVan Haver, told Justice Greenberg on Thursday morning he would waive any motions until the date of sentencing.

Justice Greenberg, in postponing sentence, pointed out that Ashby, on leave as county commissioner of jurors, had been found guilty of second degree perjury. The jury also heard charges of first degree perjury in the trial.

The court noted that if Ashby were successful in an appeal, the best decision he could hope for would be a second trial when he would face a first degree perjury charge.

Justice Greenberg also referred to "other matters" which are outstanding. These were brought to public attention during the trial and involved possible state tax and federal income tax matters.

Says Suggestion Fair

The justice said, prior to the trial, he had consulted with Ashby and suggested that a plea of guilty to second degree perjury might result in a suspended sentence.

Justice Greenberg described the suggestion as "eminently fair," but it was not accepted by Ashby.

Single Immigrant Needs $1,600 for Israel Transfer

A "cost analysis" of the life-building process of transferring and resettling an individual immigrant from an East European country to Israel has been given here by Arthur P. Motzkin, chairman of the Kingston United Jewish Welfare Fund Campaign, who said that at least 100,000 are expected in the young state in 1959.

"It takes $1,600 to see a single person through this process —from the day he leaves Eastern Europe to the end of his first year in Israel," Mr. Motzkin declared. He added, "What better way could funds be used than in this fashion — to give people a chance to build new lives among those who welcome them." Chairman Motzkin set forth the transfer-and-resettlement items as follows:

For initial papers, transit vistas, etc. — $23; for transportation from Vienna to Naples, medical service aboard ship, board and lodging en route —$230; for initial absorption costs in Israel, including a small loan for living expenses, bedding, canned food, minimal furniture and medical aid $209; for education, medical and social services—$44; for housing (one person's share) — $1,100. Grand total for a human being's chance at a new life — $1,600.

Has Twofold Nature

Presenting his analysis against a background of local community effort in behalf of the urgent tasks confronting UJA over a vast area of the globe, Mr. Motzkin gave special emphasis to the twofold nature of UJA's campaign. First, he said, is the regular appeal drive to meet the hard-drawn budgetary requirements of UJA-financed agencies functioning in Israel and 25 other countries. Second, is the UJA "over and above" $100 million Special Fund set up in response to the huge and unexpected upsurge of emigration from East European countries, following the recent liberalization of emigration procedures by various East European governments.

The largest Jewish community in Eastern Europe outside the Soviet Union is that of Rumania, numbering some 250,000 Jews. Poland has about 40,000 remaining Jews.

Urges Full Support

Chairman Motzkin urged full support by all contributors to the UJA Special Fund, pointing out that even the full realization to the $100 million sought would not meet the total costs of 100,000 immigrants — and that the $1,600 for individual newcomers represented only the first year's cost of absorbing an immigrant.

The local organization, Mr. Motzkin said, has set itself a quota of $25,000 toward UJA's national drive for the $100 million Special Fund, to be used primarily for the costs of transferring to Israel thousands of Jews leaving Eastern Europe, as well as their initial settlement. In addition, it will provide adequate housing for as many as possible of the 110,000 earlier immigrants still living in shabby "shanty towns."

The second aspect of the local community's UJA effort, for which a goal of $75,000 has been worked out, will go to UJA's regular campaign, which provides the sinews of aid by which UJA-financed agencies provide migration, welfare, rehabilitation, and educational services for Jews in Hsrael and 25 other lands. It will also help the other local and national agencies supported by the UJWF.

The 1959 budgetary requirements of the UJA agencies, Mr. Motzkin stated, amount to $105,065,000, adding that this is the 21st annual campaign of the United Jewish Appeal, one of the world's greatest voluntary humanitarian enterprises.

Three Agencies at Work

UJA aid programs are carried out by its three agencies: the United Israel Appeal, which remits funds to the Jewish Agency, the philanthropic organization responsible for the absorption of Israel's immigrants; the Joint Distribution Committee, which aids Jews in 24 countries and conducts a specialized program for aged, chronically ill, and handicapped in Israel, and the New York Association for New Americans, which provides settlement services for Jewish newcomers to the U. S. in the New York metropolitan area. From its Special Fund, the UJA also makes allocations to the United Hias Service, an agency aiding Jewish immigrants to countries other than Israel.

Labor Leaders Go To Sea Aboard Missile Cruiser

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—The U.S. Navy arranged to take AFL-CIO leaders on a cruise off Puerto Rico today aboard the missile-firing cruiser Boston.

The labor chiefs are in recess for the weekend, their winter meeting is due to resume Monday.

The AFL-CIO Council postponed action Friday on a proposal to suspend Maurice Hutcheson, president of the 850,000-member Carpenters' Union, from the council.

The council decided to let Hutcheson, now under indictment in an Indian highway land scandal, continue a self-imposed exile from the AFL-CIO Council.

James M. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, presented the council with a motion to suspend Hutcheson immediately as an AFL-CIO vice president and member of the council.

But the council finally approved a proposal by George Meany, AFL-CIO president, to receive a letter from Hutcheson disclaiming any misuse of union funds and pledging to adhere to AFL-CIO ethical practice codes.

One of the factors the council had to consider was Hutcheson's threat to pull his union out of the AFL-CIO. The labor leaders do not want to lose another big union, as happened when the Teamsters' Union was expelled on charges of corruption in 1957.

Presbyterians To Hold Family Night on Sunday

"Christian Education in the Local Church" is to be the subject of the address by the Rev. A. Ray Lewis of Schenectady before the third annual family night program of the church school and congregation of First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf Street and Tremper Avenue, Sunday, at 5 p. m.

The Rev. Mr. Lewis, who is returning for the second successive year as guest speaker at this annual program, is eastern area director for Christian education in the Synod of New York. He is widely known and respected for his leadership in the field of relationship between the church school and family life.

Following the supper, the children will be entertained upstairs with a moving picture and recreational program, under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Alward, Mrs. Edward Geiser, and Mrs. Burton Schwab.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Howard C. Shurter, county director Veterans' Service Agency, and Charles L. Culver, state veterans counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, submit another in a series of articles on rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen and other dependents.

Training—A World War 2 disabled veteran may have a Vocational Rehabilitation Program approved even though it can not be completed by the 1960 deadline. Approval is based on the fact that a WW 2 disabled veteran who enters a Vocational Rehabilitation Program will be able to complete the course under a state Vocational Rehabilitation Program or a similar program. Before this new ruling, approval to complete a Vocational Rehabilitation program could only be granted to a WW 2 veteran if the entire course he desired to pursue could be completed under the veteran's Vocational Rehabilitation Law. This new ruling applies also to Korean veterans who may complete their Vocational Rehabilitation training under the Korean GI Bill after they have partially completed their Rehabilitation Program under the Vocational Rehabilitation Law.

Taxes—All World War 2 and Korean GI Bill monetary benefits are exempt from Federal and State income tax. This would include, for example, training allowances paid to veterans in school or on-the-job training programs, and readjustment allowances. In addition, compensation, pension, insurance dividends and state veteran bonuses are also exempt.

Insurance—All United States Government Life Insurance records are located in the VA District Office, Philadelphia, Pa. Veterans should address correspondence to VA District Office, "K" Unit, P. O. Box 8079, Philadelphia, Pa. All premiums should be addressed VA District Office, PO Box 7787, Philadelphia, Pa.

Legislation — A bill which would increase the funds available for direct loans in small towns and rural areas by 300 million dollars was approved by the U. S. House of Representatives Committee on Veterans Affairs. The bill also would permit an increase in the GI loan interest rate to 5¼ per cent from the current rate of 4¾ per cent. Under the terms of this proposed legislation the Administrator of Veterans Affairs will determine if and when the current interest rate of 4¾ per cent shall be increased up to the permitted maximum under the new bill of 5¼ per cent. It is reported that because the purpose of the bill is to stimulate the GI Housing Program that the measure may be expected to be considered promptly by the House of Representatives Rules Committee from which committee it would be referred to the floor of the House for consideration.

Tax Exemption — Real property of war veterans is allowed a limited tax exemption under the tax law of the State of New York. Generally, the law provides that where real property is purchased with the proceeds of a veteran's pension, bonus or insurance or dividends or refunds on such insurance, an exemption may be allowed to the extent that such benefits received are applied to the property. The maximum amount of tax exemption is $5,000. The monies received to be considered eligible funds must be paid by the U. S. Government or New York State. The property must be owned by the Veteran, his wife, unmarried widow, dependent father or mother or by his minor children. A verified application must be filed with the local Board of Assessors to claim the exemption. Contact this agency or the local Board of Assessors for the date by which tax exemption claims must be filed. Generally, grievance day for taxes is the second Tuesday in July in the townships, and the second Tuesday in August in the City of Kingston.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office located at 32 Main Street, Kingston.

During their talks, they ranged over a number of issues affecting the two nations. But both U.S. and Mexican observers felt the visit has done much to do away with old resentments.

The thousands of Mexicans who turned out to welcome Eisenhower applauded him and continued to do so throughout his activities at this tourist-packed tropical resort city.

A communique also expressed the leaders' agreement that "economic development is an objective of cooperation between nations."

This probably means Mexico will get some financial aid from the United States or international agencies.

Claims U. S. Has Power Right Now To Destroy Reds

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — America's chief of naval operations Friday night said the United States has the power, right now, to destroy the Soviet Union "in several ways, and several times over."

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke added it was not sabre rattling to say so.

Addressing the Charleston Chamber of Commerce, Burke said the United States has the destructive power in its Strategic Air Command, Navy carrier striking forces, tactical air forces and intermediate range ballistic missiles.

For that reason, he said, there was no need to get into a ballistic missiles race with the Soviet Union.

Rondout Valley Joins National Honor Society

Rondout Valley Central High School recently became a member of the National Honor Society of the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

The honor society is an organization of students who have evinced not only excellent scholastic achievement, but also outstanding leadership, service, responsibility, and character.

Last year, at the direction of Roland Riegel, high school principal, a committee of five teachers—Miss Meryle Goldman, Daniel Hamlin, Mrs. Edith Krom, Harold Ross, and Mrs. Russell Van Regenmortel — investigated and initiated this membership. After a survey of local member schools and inquiries to the National Council, the committee submitted a proposed constitution. This constitution was approved, and Rondut Valley now has permission to organize a local chapter.

The local chapter requires an avearge of 88, including regents in English, citizenship education, and a major field. Students may be appointed candidates by maintaining the required average, but election to membership will be on the basis of their leadership, service, and character, in addition to scholarship.

Marshall Gains, Physician Says

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — Gen. George C. Marshall, a tough old soldier made weak by age, shows faintly heartening signs in his long, hard battle against two strokes and pneumonia.

"I am satisfied with his progress up to this point," said Col. George M. Powell, Army physician, Friday. He issued the most favorable medical report in two days on the general's condition.

"The pneumonia appears to be clearing." But the doctor warned "his condition remains serious, however, and the prognosis remains guarded."

Col. Powell said this morning that Gen. Marshall's condition remained about the same.

A civilian consultant, Dr. Henry D. McIntosh, heart specialist from Duke University school of medicine, also noted an improvement in the condition of the 78-year-old soldier-statesman.

The general, who entered the Army hospital here after a mild stroke Jan. 15, suffered an attack of pneumonia at the same time the second stroke occurred.

Week's Business

est rise in food costs, the government's index of what it costs you to live would have dropped a little.

The upward trend in food expenses, plus a slight rise in the cost of heating fuel, medical care and rent, more than offset a downturn in prices of home furnishings and clothing.

Take-home pay of factory workers was the best for any January on record — $78.50 a week for a worker with three dependents after allowing for the increased Social Security tax.

Personal income of Americans as a whole edged to a new record high in January — an annual pace of more than 362 billion dollars. Unemployment went up, but so did the income Americans received from rents, royalties, partnerships, dividends, salaries and wages. Dividends made a particularly good showing.

Merchants had cause for cheer this week. Easter buying spurred sales of spring hats and fashion accessories, although the temperature in some areas hovered around zero. Department store sales across the country in the week ended Feb. 14 topped last year by eight per cent.

Two attractions lured shoppers into the nation's stores this week —widespread February clearance sales, and the nearness of Easter. The holiday falls on March 29, making it the earliest Easter in eight years.

The early Easter — and a good inventory position resulting from the Christmas shopping surge — promised good business for many retailers in the weeks ahead.

On Automobile Row the big news this week concerned a flurry of reports that one or more of Detroit's Big Three are on the verge of introducing a smaller economy auto.

Would Mean Competition

The entry of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler into the small car field this year would mean high - powered competition for American Motors and Studebaker who, among U. S. producers, have had the market pretty much to themselves. It could also put a competitive squeeze on some of the midget foreign imports.

Increased gasoline mileage, and low insurance upkeep costs, were cited this week as the chief economy features of the Big Three's new "compact" cars, when and if they hit the market. Prices, Detroit sources said, would probably not be much lower than those of some stripped-down conventional models.

Business in Brief

Briefly over the business scene:

Record 1958 earnings were reported by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.'s Bell Ssystem, by General Telephone Cor., and Reynolds Tobacco Co. . . . General Motor's profit last year was down 25 per cent from 1957, but coming up at a good clip in the last quarter. . . . Director of Colgate-Palmolive Co. recommended a three-for-one split of the common stock —the first in the soap company's 95-year history. . . . New car sales in the first 10 days of February were up 23 per cent from the recession lows of February 1958. . . . Bills tossed into the legislative hopper in Washington this week would legalize "fair trade" — a form of compulsory price fixing by manufacturers—in all 49 states and keep auto manufacturers out of the auto finance business. . . . Platinum prices were raised this week for the first time in more than two years. . . . Steel production this week, estimated at 2,439,000 tons, was the highest in almost two years and within kissin' distance of a record. . . . The Federal Trade Commission is taking steps to head off gasoline price wars. . . . The Navy has asked Lockheed Aircraft Corp. to convert a commercial Electra transport plane into a submarine hunter-killer. . . . National Homes Corp. says it produced one of out of every 40 houses built in the United States last year. All were pre-fabricated.

Says Talks Fail

Amberg said the company had agreed to pay a sum into a joint bank account with the money to be applied to a jointly administered pension plan, the details to be agreed on in negotiations for the 1960 contract.

But Herbert Monk, chairman of the strike steering committee, said the Guild had been unable after 15 months of effort to get the Globe to negotiate an equally applied formula for a pension plan.

secret speech exposing some of Stalin's crimes, delivered at the party congress three years ago. In that speech Premier Khrushchev called on Marshal Voroshilov to 'find the necessary courage and write the truth about Stalin.'

"This was a demand that Marshal Voroshilov repudiate and revise his earlier wrifings, which had played a key role in building up the legend of Stalin as the greatest military genius of all time. In the three years that have passed, Marshal Voroshilov has not complied with Premier Khrushchev's demand on that score."

Cases in Court

Raymond Pleugh, 48, of 8 Wrentham Street, arrested last night by Anna M. Pleugh on a third degree assault charge, pleaded guilty in city court today and was sentenced to 30 days in jail. He was also placed on probation for a year. Duke Jesse Fatherree, PO Box 447, Port Ewen, issued a summons recently on a red-light charge, was fined $5. Jon M. Shane, of 179 Glen Street, charged with speeding, is due in night court Tuesday.

ALSO, the right and privilege to build, erect and maintain either a foot bridge or a wagon bridge over and across said stream not more than twenty feet wide at any time hereafter said bridge to be located near where there is a large rock near the middle of said stream and about 200 or 300 feet below the upper end of said Russell's new race—this privilege restricts the said Russell, his heirs or assigns to the right to maintain and only use one bridge and afterwards take it up and build a wagon bridge if he or they shall so desire together with a right of way extending from the end of said bridge across the lands of said Schoonmaker to the public road leading to Lackawack to travel with men, teams, horses, wagons and other vehicles at all times without hindrance or molestation. These rights and privileges are granted upon the express condition that the said Schoonmaker, her heirs and assigns are to have and she and they do hereby reserve the right to use and travel over such bridge or bridges and right of way in the same manner and in common with the said Russell his heirs and assigns at all times free of charge or expense.

The rights and privileges herein granted are to be perpetual and are to belong to the said John B. Russell, his heirs, executors, administrators and assigns forever.

Being the same premises which were conveyed by Ellen Schoonmaker and husband to John B. Russell by deed bearing date July 28, 1888, and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office October 5, 1888, in Liber 280 of Deeds at page 407.

All of the property and rights hereinabove described were devised and bequeathed by John B. Russell under his will dated May 1, 1893, to his daughters, May Russell and Margaret Lillian Humphrey, share and share alike.

Being the same premises which, through mesne conveyances, were conveyed by Chester Young and wife to Dillon B. Humphrey by deed recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on the 8th day of October, 1923, in Liber 499 of Deeds at page 374.

Dillon B. Humphrey and Margaret Lillian Humphrey, his wife, both deceased, left them surviving, the grantors herein, Margaret Humphrey and Rachel Brewster, their only children and sole heirs at law.

The water rights of Dillon B. Humphrey and his predecessors in title were heretofore reestablished and resettled in an action brought by Margaret Lillian Humphrey, Dillon B. Humphrey and Chester Young against Frost and Sons Paper Co. (now the Rondout Paper Mills, Inc.) by a judgment of the Supreme Court dated the 10th day of December, 1915, and recorded in the 28th day of May, 1918, in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Liber 474 of Deeds at page 449, which judgment is referred to herein and made a part hereof as though fully set forth.

The interest of May Russell under the will of John B. Russell was conveyed to Chester Young and Dillon B. Humphrey in a deed from Zulika A. Russell and May Russell recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office, July 19, 1911 in Liber 434 of Deeds at page 34, and thereafter from Young to Humphrey, as above stated.

The intention herein being to convey to grantee the described premises and all water and riparian rights that were of John B. Russell.

Said real property will be sold subject to prior liens of record; also subject to existing leases and tenancies; and also subject to covenants and restrictions of record, if any.

Following the sale of said real property, if necessary, I will also sell, at the same time and place the personal property and chattels directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:

Eternal Question: How Can Husbands Behave That Way?

Any married woman sometimes wonders—

Why a man is often too tired to play bridge with another couple but rarely too tired to play poker with the boys.

How a man can become so attached to an old hat, when nothing looks less appealing to a woman than one of her own old hats.

Why a house in which a man has been batching it for a week looks as if nobody had lived in it for at least a year.

How a man can tell at a glance the make and model of any car he sees on the road, but when he goes into a furniture store can't tell French provincial from American colonial.

Why a man can so easily overlook a pretty woman's lack of brains, yet be so annoyed by a plain woman's mistakes.

Why a married man can't drive a nail without his wife at his side to fetch and carry for him.

Why a man hears so little of what his wife tells him.

Why the scrapes a man's son gets into aren't funny at all, while the scrapes he got into as a boy are so hilarious.

Why a man expects his wife to notice when he gets a haircut even though he makes no comment about what a visit to the beauty salon does to her.

Why a man thinks he has been helpful when he tells his wife not to "go to a lot of trouble" when they are having guests to dinner.

Why a man never seems terribly surprised by the gossip his wife tells him.

How a man can say with a straight face that it's too much trouble to go out to dinner—when his wife will have to cook the meal and do the dishes if they eat at home.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Will the revolution of TV tape bring a swing to more local programming?

Some TV critics hope so. They decry the reliance of local channels on network and syndicated film shows. Many stations ignore their local scene and become mere outlets for canned, standardized programs.

A glimmer of hope is offered by Los Angeles' KTLA. The independent Channel 5 is presenting more live dramatic shows than the networks—six half-hours. It has five musical variety shows and a collection of panels, discussions and early morning shows. This is one channel the cowpokes haven't roped.

It must be admitted that KTLA possesses certain advantages. The parent is the munificent Paramount Pictures—yet KTLA pays its own way. And it is situated in the heart of the entertainment capital and can draw from the vast reservoir of talent.

Aggressive young KTLA chief Jim Schulke explained that video tape helped his revolt against canned programming. He feels it can help others.

"Most stations can only afford one eight-hour shift of a camera crew," he explained. "That limits your chance for local shows to a certain time span. But with tape, those crews can record shows for use at a later time."

Video tape records picture and sound on strips that can be played back immediately. Similar to home tape recorders, it is much faster and cheaper than film. The method permits KTLA to attempt ambitious shows because they can be syndicated to other areas.

"Sponsors like local shows," Schulke added. "They find a certain excitement about putting their names on programs that are new and fresh, rather than merely buying into a canned show."

He has also found that news shows hold an increasing interest for viewers. KTLA has newscasts every hour on the hour during the day and will cut into nighttime shows if the news is important enough. It has its own helicopter to help cover the sprawling Los Angeles news scene.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office) By JIMMY HATLO

Eternal Question: How Can Husbands Behave That Way?

Any married woman sometimes wonders—

Why a man is often too tired to play bridge with another couple but rarely too tired to play poker with the boys.

How a man can become so attached to an old hat, when nothing looks less appealing to a woman than one of her own old hats.

Why a house in which a man has been batching it for a week looks as if nobody had lived in it for at least a year.

How a man can tell at a glance the make and model of any car he sees on the road, but when he goes into a furniture store can't tell French provincial from American colonial.

Why a man can so easily overlook a pretty woman's lack of brains, yet be so annoyed by a plain woman's mistakes.

Why a married man can't drive a nail without his wife at his side to fetch and carry for him.

Why a man hears so little of what his wife tells him.

Why the scrapes a man's son gets into aren't funny at all, while the scrapes he got into as a boy are so hilarious.

Why a man expects his wife to notice when he gets a haircut even though he makes no comment about what a visit to the beauty salon does to her.

Why a man thinks he has been helpful when he tells his wife not to "go to a lot of trouble" when they are having guests to dinner.

Why a man never seems terribly surprised by the gossip his wife tells him.

How a man can say with a straight face that it's too much trouble to go out to dinner—when his wife will have to cook the meal and do the dishes if they eat at home.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Will the revolution of TV tape bring a swing to more local programming?

Some TV critics hope so. They decry the reliance of local channels on network and syndicated film shows. Many stations ignore their local scene and become mere outlets for canned, standardized programs.

A glimmer of hope is offered by Los Angeles' KTLA. The independent Channel 5 is presenting more live dramatic shows than the networks—six half-hours. It has five musical variety shows and a collection of panels, discussions and early morning shows. This is one channel the cowpokes haven't roped.

It must be admitted that KTLA possesses certain advantages. The parent is the munificent Paramount Pictures—yet KTLA pays its own way. And it is situated in the heart of the entertainment capital and can draw from the vast reservoir of talent.

Aggressive young KTLA chief Jim Schulke explained that video tape helped his revolt against canned programming. He feels it can help others.

"Most stations can only afford one eight-hour shift of a camera crew," he explained. "That limits your chance for local shows to a certain time span. But with tape, those crews can record shows for use at a later time."

Video tape records picture and sound on strips that can be played back immediately. Similar to home tape recorders, it is much faster and cheaper than film. The method permits KTLA to attempt ambitious shows because they can be syndicated to other areas.

"Sponsors like local shows," Schulke added. "They find a certain excitement about putting their names on programs that are new and fresh, rather than merely buying into a canned show."

He has also found that news shows hold an increasing interest for viewers. KTLA has newscasts every hour on the hour during the day and will cut into nighttime shows if the news is important enough. It has its own helicopter to help cover the sprawling Los Angeles news scene.

Six Persons Held, Three Sought in Alleged Swindle

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Six persons are held and three others sought of swindling Mrs. Cecilia Meyers, a 61-year-old widow, of $26,000 of her life's savings.

Arrested Friday on charges of false pretense and fraudulent conversion were Mrs. Dolores Siock, Gerard Festa, 29; Thomas P. Williams, 22; Dino Tabarinni, 37; Robert Bochak, 26 and John Nemet, 27, all of Scranton. The men are sought.

The six, used "fantastic schemes" to get money from Mrs. Meyers, Lackawanna County Asst. Dist. Atty. Ralph P. Needle said.

Police said Festa was arrested in Elmira, N. Y., a year ago on a charge of swindling an elderly woman out of a large sum of money in a fake roofing deal and that he was free pending the outcome of an appeal after conviction in Elmira.

Runaway Boy to Plead Guilty in Five Deaths

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — An attorney said Friday a runaway New York State teen-ager will plead guilty to a charge of murder in the slaying of a mother and her four children.

The youth, Carl A. Eder, 16, of Irondequoit, N. Y., is scheduled to appear in Superior Court next week. Police say he admitted killing Mrs. Lois Pendergast, 37, and her children in their home at El Cajon last Dec. 12.

Mrs. Pendergast was shot. The children were stabbed.

Police said the boy told them he "flipped his top" because the crying of one child had annoyed him.

Eder had been taken into the home by Mrs. Pendergast's husband, Thomas, to help care for the children in return for food and lodging.

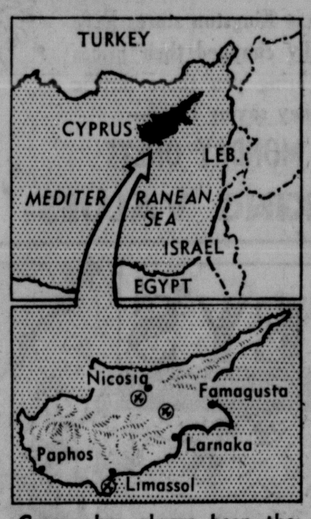
CYPRUS: After Years of Violence, Hope for Peace



Cyprus has always been the crossroads of the Mediterranean. In its long history, Egyptians, Phoenicians, Assyrians, Greeks, Romans, Venetians, Turks and English have ruled it.

While once it supplied the timber for the fleets of Alexander the Great, mountainous Cyprus is now a treeless and arid land, where the 20th century rubs shoulders with the ancient world. A common conveyance, this oxcart is hardly changed since Biblical times, when St. Paul preached the Gospel on the island. Here, too, Richard the Lion-Hearted married his Berengaria.

Held by Turkish sultans since the late Middle Ages, Cyprus was annexed by Britain in 1914. Piper stands on ramparts built by Crusaders. Cathedral in distance is now a Moslem mosque.

In World War II, Cyprus was an important base for British planes. Only 230 miles from Suez and 1,000 from Russian oil fields, Britain held to the bastion through years of strife.

After the war, long-smoldering hatred between Greek and Turkish Cypriots erupted into terrorism and bloodshed. Greeks, outnumbering the Turks 400,000 to 100,000, wanted Greece to take over the island. Their underground, the EOKA, fought Turk and Briton, soldier and civilian. Turks, above, rioting for union with Turkey, were dispersed with tear gas.

The British, trying to keep a semblance of peace, were targets for assassins from both sides. A Tommy tends comrade wounded when terrorist bomb exploded in a church.

Leader of the Greek Cypriots, Archbishop Makarios of the Cyprus branch of the Greek Orthodox church was exiled by the British. He pleaded for an independent Cyprus before U.N.

A period of truce once saw Greek and Turkish flags carried side by side. Now, negotiations between Greece and Turkey at last give hope that a free, united country may be born.

Franke Says U. S. Equalizer Is in Aircraft Carriers

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP)—Undersecretary of the Navy Edwin Franke says the United States does not need to match Russia's output of ships, planes and missiles.

From our standpoint, he said Friday night, America's equalizer is in aircraft carriers and amphibious capability.

Franke, chosen by President Eisenhower as the next secretary of the Navy, said the Russian navy was "designed specifically to isolate free world nations whose security depends upon mutual support."

Franke spoke at a dinner of the Schenectady Council of the Navy League. He also visited West Milton, in Saratoga County, and inspected a prototype of the atomic power plant designed for the submarine Triton.

She's Happy Now

Debbie Is Not Bitter, Wishes Liz, Eddie Happiness

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I'm not bitter about them — not the least bit. I wish them every happiness together, just as I want my own life to be happy."

This was Debbie Reynolds' comment in the aftermath of her divorce from Eddie Fisher. She was speaking of her former husband and Elizabeth Taylor, who now holds Eddie's love.

Debbie, interviewed in her "Say One For Me" dressing room Friday, talked more openly than any time since the scandal first broke last September. She seemed relieved to have it all over.

Book Closed, Locked

"The book is closed and locked," she commented. "It's not forgotten, because that would be too hard to do. But a year from now (when the divorce is final), I'll throw away both the book and the key."

"Anger is no good to anyone. Anger should be a brief thing, a flare-up. To remain bitter is silly; you're merely punishing yourself.

"I'm happy now. I've always been happy. I was happy in my early career; I was happy when I was married. Whatever anger I felt is gone now. I've got exactly what I need to keep me happy."

I mentioned that her life had one glaring omission now: a man.

No Time for Date

"It doesn't matter to me right now," she replied. "People have been asking me if I'll start dating now. I couldn't care less. I'm working so hard that I don't have the strength to go out on a date. What spare time I have, I like to spend with the children."

Though she seemed to lack bitterness, she said she was amused at reports of the property settlement with Fisher.

"Some settlement!" she laughed. "Most of it was mine. I was very amused by the million-dollar figure. A million dollars over 40 years maybe. That's the only way it could be."

Three High School Girls Given Jail For Bomb Threats

FULTON, N. Y. (AP) — Six-month jail sentences have been given three high school girls for telephoning a series of bomb threats to their school. A fourth girl was placed on probation for two years.

The calls resulted in the evacuation of the school on five occasions.

Judge Maurice B. Conley of City Court Friday sentenced Gloria Jean Dickquist, Sylvia Rossman and Karen Gardner, all 17, to jail.

He placed Helen Lamb, 16, on probation, because, he said, her father had neglected the family and Helen had been forced to care for two younger children. Their mother is dead.

Only Miss Gardner had pleaded innocent to a charge of disorderly conduct. The judge convicted her.

The other girls pleaded guilty to similar charges.

Miss Dickquist and Miss Rossman were taken to the Oswego County jail. The Gardner girl was granted a 10-day stay so her attorney could file an appeal. She is free in $500 bail.

The judge said that, if the girls wanted to commit themselves to private correctional institutions anytime during the six months, the unserved part of their sentences would be suspended. He said the time of their releases then would be up to the institutions and the probation department.

Hurley Historian To Be Available At Sunday's Fete

The Hurley Historian, souvenir journal of the Hurley-Hudson-Champlain Committee will be available to the public Sunday, launching day of Hurley's Year of History festivities.

This will be the first of 10 monthly issues which are planned to acquaint the public with the outstanding and unrecognized history of the town. Each issue will contain serious and humorous reading material contributed by Hurley persons. Extensive research is being done by the committee to insure the reader of interesting and factual historical data.

Article on Visit

Highlighted in the February issue of the Hurley Historian, is an article depicting General George Washington's visit to Hurley contributed by Mrs. Lincoln Christensen. This same visit is to be reenacted upon the historical ground at the Hurley Four Corners tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock. Following the ceremony, the general public, including not only Hurley residents but all interested visitors are invited to attend the reception at the Hurley School.

Also featured in this issue will be an article viewing the way of life of the colonial Hurleyites written by Mrs. Stanley Kaplan. A story of Esopus Indians, original residents of this area, contributed by Stephen Waligurski, editor of the journal, will appear as the first in a series of articles relating the history of Hurley.

Contemporary Material

The March issue of the Journal will continue the series with data on the first settlement of Hurley lands by the Dutch. Also appearing will be material in a more contemporary vein — the history of the Hurley 4-H Clubs, also the first of a series of histories—that of the town organizations, a humorous tale of a Hurley resident, and other articles.

Interested persons may obtain their copies of the Hurley Historian at local newsstands during the next few weeks at a nominal cost. Subscriptions for the complete set of historical souvenir journals may be had at a reduced rate by using the subscription blank inserted in the Journal, or by contacting members of the Hurley-Hudson-Champlain Festival Committee, RD 3, Box 98A.

The congressman commended the flustered highway patrolman who stopped him, discovered his identity and still gave him a citation. Rep. Edmondson paid a $21 fine.

Zig-Zagging ICBM Will Outmode Present Missiles

By Ray Cromley
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—U. S. and Soviet scientists are racing to develop a revolutionary international ballistic missile—one that will make all present models obsolete.

It will ziz and zag in the sky at 15,000 miles an hour—be virtually impossible to shoot down.

The new weapon, when perfected, will even antiquate Minuteman and other advanced missiles now on U. S. drawing boards.

It will also make the vaunted billion-dollar Nike-Zeus antimissile missile system obsolete before it is ever in continent-wide operation.

That's the real reason the Defense Department is dragging its heels on Nike-Zeus production plans—in the face of heavy congressional pressure to get ahead with the program.

And it's the reason Defense Secretary McElroy doesn't want to build up a big stockpile of present-day ICBMs just in time for the new Russian missile to make them all antiquated.

It's also the reason McElroy doesn't think the Russians are going to make the large number of ICBMs that a lot of people are predicting.

Says one Pentagon missile man: "They don't want to get caught with a lot of out-of-date missiles on their hands any more than we do."

Present-day ballistic missiles are like artillery shells. Once fired, they go on a known arc directly to their target.

It's possible for an enemy—by checking a missile's speed and path early in flight—to figure out exactly where it's going to go and defend against it. Once fired it can't change its course or "dodge."

"In essence it's a sitting duck once you've developed the right kind of observing and tracking system," says one missile man. "It's a 15,000-mile-an-hour sitting duck, but a sitting duck all the same."

This means that within less than a decade it will be fairly simple to defend against the present type of simple ballistic missile.

The new missile, however, will zig and zag like an openfield football runner.

It will carry one or several small charges, one for each zig or zag. Some time during the flight—perhaps several times—the small charges will fire and change the course of the missile to a new course impossible for the enemy to predict. Only the men who planned the zig-zag course would know it.

It would thus be impossible to have this type of ballistic missile head straight for one target, then, at the last minute, zig to another target too late for defending missiles to get at it.

Anti-missile missile defense systems based on predictions of where the missile was going to be would fire at where the missile was supposed to be mathematically. But it wouldn't be there. It would be off on another course to target.

Eventually it will be possible, say the experts, to put all sorts of wiggles into the ballistic missile's path, make it virtually impossible to shoot down at 15,000 miles an hour, at least by present concepts.

"But don't worry," says one Defense Department missile man. "By that time, someone will have thought up some new defense gimmick. It is a continual race, with both missiles and defenses getting better and more complicated."

Defense Department missile men do want to go ahead with research and development on Nike-Zeus, even though they think this system may never be used." We can't develop an anti-missile system for these more complicated missiles until we learn how to knock out the simpler present-day types," says one.

They don't want to rush into actually building an extremely-expensive system they're almost certain will be obsolete about the time it's installed and working.

But they would like to put more money into a study of guidance systems. "We might just learn a trick or two in this line before the Russians do," says a key ballistics missile man.

Spirit of '76 Corps To Appear at Review

Arrangements are almost complete for the formal military review and pageant of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, New York Army National Guard, scheduled Monday at 8 p. m. at the state armory, Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer, announced today.

Col. Harkin said the famed Sons of Liberty Ancient Drum Corps of Brooklyn will be included in the program, bringing to five the total number of musical units which will appear during the ceremonies.

Other Musical Units

Cardinal Farley Military Academy band of Rhinecliff will play for the review; the Colonial Cavaliers and Colonial Cadets (Port Ewen Drum & Bugle Corps) are scheduled for drum corps exhibitions of marching and maneuvering, and a 12-piece orchestra from Local 215, American Federation of Musicians, under the direction of Harry Maisenhelder, will play for dancing following the review. The orchestra will appear through the courtesy of the local union's transcription fund.

The review will be held in honor of Congressman J. Ernest Wharton with Brig. Gen. John J. Fitzgerald as reviewing officer. A number of military guests also will attend, and Col. Harkin said "a huge assembly of families and friends of the local artillerymen (both Kingston and Poughkeepsie units) is already indicated by the tremendous response to the announcement of the review."

A pageant, "Muskets to Missiles," tracing the history of the famed Guard unit will be held in conjunction with the review.

The Sons of Liberty Ancient Drum Corps was organized in 1949. They have captured more than 100 fife and drum contests, and have appeared in many parades and events in the New York metropolitan area, including the Metropolitan Opera House when Vice President Richard M. Nixon was an honored guest.

New York City newspapers have acclaimed the unit, which includes two Kingston residens in its ranks. They are George Attanasio, 14, of RD 1, a student at Myron J. Michael School, and his father, Nicholas Attanasio.

George is the youngest drummer to win a senior drumming competition and he also holds the national open champion drummer title. He has been in the champion drummer class since he was seven years old, and his mother holds other musical championships.

"Truly, the Attanasio family have beat their way to the top in drums," a spokesman for the corps said.

Hercules Co. Has Million Contract At Naval Plant

WILMINGTON, Del. — The Navy today announced a $1 million contract to Hercules Powder Company for architectural and engineering services at the U. S. Naval Propellant Plant, Indian Head, Md.

The contract calls for the preparation of designs and specifications for structures and equipment which will provide facilities for pilot line assembly and loading of an alternate double-base propellant motor for possible use in the Polaris ballistic missile.

The new double-base propellant motor is being developed at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, Cumberland, Md., which is operated for the Navy's Bureau of Ordnance by Hercules Powder Company, Wilmington.

Some propellant ingredients required by Allegany Ballistics Laboratory for this new motor are now being produced at the Indian Head facility.

Hurley Historian To Be Available At Sunday's Fete

The Hurley Historian, souvenir journal of the Hurley-Hudson-Champlain Committee will be available to the public Sunday, launching day of Hurley's Year of History festivities.

This will be the first of 10 monthly issues which are planned to acquaint the public with the outstanding and unrecognized history of the town. Each issue will contain serious and humorous reading material contributed by Hurley persons. Extensive research is being done by the committee to insure the reader of interesting and factual historical data.

Article on Visit

Highlighted in the February issue of the Hurley Historian, is an article depicting General George Washington's visit to Hurley contributed by Mrs. Lincoln Christensen. This same visit is to be reenacted upon the historical ground at the Hurley Four Corners tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock. Following the ceremony, the general public, including not only Hurley residents but all interested visitors are invited to attend the reception at the Hurley School.

Also featured in this issue will be an article viewing the way of life of the colonial Hurleyites written by Mrs. Stanley Kaplan. A story of Esopus Indians, original residents of this area, contributed by Stephen Waligurski, editor of the journal, will appear as the first in a series of articles relating the history of Hurley.

Contemporary Material

The March issue of the Journal will continue the series with data on the first settlement of Hurley lands by the Dutch. Also appearing will be material in a more contemporary vein — the history of the Hurley 4-H Clubs, also the first of a series of histories—that of the town organizations, a humorous tale of a Hurley resident, and other articles.

Interested persons may obtain their copies of the Hurley Historian at local newsstands during the next few weeks at a nominal cost. Subscriptions for the complete set of historical souvenir journals may be had at a reduced rate by using the subscription blank inserted in the Journal, or by contacting members of the Hurley-Hudson-Champlain Festival Committee, RD 3, Box 98A.

The congressman commended the flustered highway patrolman who stopped him, discovered his identity and still gave him a citation. Rep. Edmondson paid a $21 fine.

Zig-Zagging ICBM Will Outmode Present Missiles

By Ray Cromley
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—U. S. and Soviet scientists are racing to develop a revolutionary international ballistic missile—one that will make all present models obsolete.

It will ziz and zag in the sky at 15,000 miles an hour—be virtually impossible to shoot down.

The new weapon, when perfected, will even antiquate Minuteman and other advanced missiles now on U. S. drawing boards.

It will also make the vaunted billion-dollar Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile system obsolete before it is ever in continent-wide operation.

That's the real reason the Defense Department is dragging its heels on Nike-Zeus production plans—in the face of heavy congressional pressure to get ahead with the program.

And it's the reason Defense Secretary McElroy doesn't want to build up a big stockpile of present-day ICBMs just in time for the new Russian missile to make them all antiquated.

It's also the reason McElroy doesn't think the Russians are going to make the large number of ICBMs that a lot of people are predicting.

Says one Pentagon missile man: "They don't want to get caught with a lot of out-of-date missiles on their hands any more than we do."

Present-day ballistic missiles are like artillery shells. Once fired, they go on a known arc directly to their target.

It's possible for an enemy—by checking a missile's speed and path early in flight—to figure out exactly where it's going to go and defend against it. Once fired it can't change its course or "dodge."

"In essence it's a sitting duck once you've developed the right kind of observing and tracking system," says one missile man. "It's a 15,000-mile-an-hour sitting duck, but a sitting duck all the same."

This means that within less than a decade it will be fairly simple to defend against the present type of simple ballistic missile.

The new missile, however, will zig and zag like an openfield football runner.

It will carry one or several small charges, one for each zig or zag. Some time during the flight—perhaps several times—the small charges will fire and change the course of the missile to a new course impossible for the enemy to predict. Only the men who planned the zig-zag course would know it.

It would thus be impossible to have this type of ballistic missile head straight for one target, then, at the last minute, zig to another target too late for defending missiles to get at it.

Anti-missile missile defense systems based on predictions of where the missile was going to be would fire at where the missile was supposed to be mathematically. But it wouldn't be there. It would be off on another course to target.

Eventually it will be possible, say the experts, to put all sorts of wiggles into the ballistic missile's path, make it virtually impossible to shoot down at 15,000 miles an hour, at least by present concepts.

"But don't worry," says one Defense Department missile man. "By that time, someone will have thought up some new defense gimmick. It is a continual race, with both missiles and defenses getting better and more complicated."

Defense Department missile men do want to go ahead with research and development on Nike-Zeus, even though they think this system may never be used." We can't develop an anti-missile system for these more complicated missiles until we learn how to knock out the simpler present-day types," says one.

They don't want to rush into actually building an extremely-expensive system they're almost certain will be obsolete about the time it's installed and working.

But they would like to put more money into a study of guidance systems. "We might just learn a trick or two in this line before the Russians do," says a key ballistics missile man.

Spirit of '76 Corps To Appear at Review

Arrangements are almost complete for the formal military review and pageant of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, New York Army National Guard, scheduled Monday at 8 p. m. at the state armory, Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer, announced today.

Col. Harkin said the famed Sons of Liberty Ancient Drum Corps of Brooklyn will be included in the program, bringing to five the total number of musical units which will appear during the ceremonies.

Other Musical Units

Cardinal Farley Military Academy band of Rhinecliff will play for the review; the Colonial Cavaliers and Colonial Cadets (Port Ewen Drum & Bugle Corps) are scheduled for drum corps exhibitions of marching and maneuvering, and a 12-piece orchestra from Local 215, American Federation of Musicians, under the direction of Harry Maisenhelder, will play for dancing following the review. The orchestra will appear through the courtesy of the local union's transcription fund.

The review will be held in honor of Congressman J. Ernest Wharton with Brig. Gen. John J. Fitzgerald as reviewing officer. A number of military guests also will attend, and Col. Harkin said "a huge assembly of families and friends of the local artillerymen (both Kingston and Poughkeepsie units) is already indicated by the tremendous response to the announcement of the review."

A pageant, "Muskets to Missiles," tracing the history of the famed Guard unit will be held in conjunction with the review.

The Sons of Liberty Ancient Drum Corps was organized in 1949. They have captured more than 100 fife and drum contests, and have appeared in many parades and events in the New York metropolitan area, including the Metropolitan Opera House when Vice President Richard M. Nixon was an honored guest.

New York City newspapers have acclaimed the unit, which includes two Kingston residens in its ranks. They are George Attanasio, 14, of RD 1, a student at Myron J. Michael School, and his father, Nicholas Attanasio.

George is the youngest drummer to win a senior drumming competition and he also holds the national open champion drummer title. He has been in the champion drummer class since he was seven years old, and his mother holds other musical championships.

"Truly, the Attanasio family have beat their way to the top in drums," a spokesman for the corps said.

Hercules Co. Has Million Contract At Naval Plant

WILMINGTON, Del. — The Navy today announced a $1 million contract to Hercules Powder Company for architectural and engineering services at the U. S. Naval Propellant Plant, Indian Head, Md.

The contract calls for the preparation of designs and specifications for structures and equipment which will provide facilities for pilot line assembly and loading of an alternate double-base propellant motor for possible use in the Polaris ballistic missile.

The new double-base propellant motor is being developed at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, Cumberland, Md., which is operated for the Navy's Bureau of Ordnance by Hercules Powder Company, Wilmington.

Some propellant ingredients required by Allegany Ballistics Laboratory for this new motor are now being produced at the Indian Head facility.

Man Given Life For Slaying Two In Tavern Brawl

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A 40-year-old man has been sentenced to life imprisonment for the slaying of two men in a barroom fight last September.

Lawrence Evans, a Negro, was found guilty of first-degree murder last month by an Erie County jury. The jury recommended leniency.

County Judge Jacob A. Latona sentenced him Friday.

Evans was convicted in the deaths of Willie Simms and Robert Lawrence, both 35, in a quarrel over a 75-cent bottle of wine. Both were Negroes.

Mrs. Dulles Won't Be Present to Get Award

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because of togetherness, Mrs. John Foster Dulles won't be available to receive a 1959 togetherness award March 9.

The secretary of state's wife was named a winner of the award Friday for her role as a wife.

She has cancelled all personal engagements to be near her husband, who is in Walter Reed Army Hospital for treatment of an abdominal cancer.

The award was sponsored by a women's magazine and a department store.

Cars Jump Tracks, Dump Iron Ore on Dunkirk Streets

DUNKIRK, N. Y. (AP)—Derailed hopper cars spewed approximately 2,400 tons of iron ore onto two downtown city streets and the New York Central's main line tracks early today.

The 30 cars jumped the tracks on an overpass when the axle snapped on the second car of a 64-car Central freight, the railroad said.

No one was injured.

However, Josephine Subjack, about 40, of Dunkirk, was shaken up when a one-ton section of the overpass railing fell 25 feet to the street and grazed the front of her automobile. She was making a U-turn at the time, police said.

The Central's crack 20th Century limited passenger train missed the derailment and possible tragedy by less than 20 minutes. It was flagged down less than 17 miles from the wreck moments after the tracks were blocked.

Rail and automobile traffic was re-routed around the accident site. The Central sent its trains over Nickel Plate Railroad tracks.

The train was carrying ore from the Benson Mines near Watertown to Pittsburgh.

'The Ibex' Has 2 Floors, Lots of Room

Bedrooms	Four
Closets	Ten
Cubage
House	21,700 ft.
Garage	9,300 ft.
Dimensions
House	31' x 24'
Overall	58 ft.

While ranch-type homes may be all the "rage" two-story homes such as "The Ibex", presented today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, still retain their popularity. They fit so perfectly the needs of families who need a "lot of house" yet don't feel that their building budgets allow for extra large foundations.

This seven-room house offers a generous amount of living space. Yet, you'll need only an 80-foot lot on which to build. The house proper measures 24 by 31 feet; overall measurements are 58 feet. Cubage of the house 21,700 feet; cubage of the garage is 9300 feet.

A spacious living room, a dining room and the kitchen are located on the ground floor. Should you desire a first-floor bedroom or guest room the dining room can easily be converted to serve one of these purposes. And the living room is suitable from both the point of size and planning to serve as a dining room as well as a living room.

As a matter of fact the back piazza can be screened and used as an outdoor dining room in the warm weather.

Good-sized closets are conveniently located on the first floor. The kitchen has a generous amount of storage space in addition to plenty of well arranged work counters. A good sized breakfast nook is also located in the kitchen.

Three bedrooms and a den — or four bedrooms—occupy the second story. All of these rooms are very well lighted and ventilated.

Storage Space

Upstairs in this house, too, there is an abundance of storage area—including built in storage drawers.

The regular bathroom is located on the second floor. On the ground floor there is a lavatory in which a shower stall can be installed if you so desire.

Since no space is provided for the laundry in the house proper, this must be placed in the basement; it should be located under the kitchen or lavatory. The heating plant should then be under the living room.

Dies of Injuries

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP) — Edsell Fletcher, 57, of nearby Millport died today of injuries suffered last Feb. 11, when, police said, his automobile struck the rear of a school bus near here. None of the 45 pupils on the bus was injured.

BECAUSE IT'S THERE—Mountain climber Claude Kogan runs her hand lovingly over Asia at her home in Nice, France. She's getting ready to lead an 11-woman expedition to scale one of the world's most forbidding peaks—Himalayan Mt. Cho-Oyu, 26,867 feet high. Hailed as the "highest woman in world," she is only five feet, one inch tall.

Roof Extension Adds to Home's Living Space

It's probably too late to start any elaborate outdoor building projects now, but it's a mighty good time to do your planning for spring building.

Here's an idea for a project which is not very costly and and could give your home a face lift. It applies to either one- or two-story homes.

It is called extending living area but it is actually an extension of the roof to form sheltered outdoor space. The roof extension, in many cases, takes the form of an egg-crate pattern, which generally continues out from a solid roof and is large enough to protect callers from the rain.

The egg-crate extension has some mighty exciting possibilities, one architect suggests. In the first place, the egg-crate roof extension can be made of ordinary finish grades of lumber available in most lumber yards. Lumber need be only 1x6 or 1x8 inches and the egg-crate patterns can be any size, but preferably one- or two-feet square.

Why an egg-crate pattern? In the first place it gives your home a feeling of greater size and sweep. The eggcrate also gives a charming appearance to your home, but more important, it gives a decorative effect which comes only partly from the design of the open space roof extension. Some of the beauty comes from the interesting and ever-moving designs of the sunlight streaming through the open egg-crate roof.

LIMESTONE, Maine (AP)—The 75th Bomb Squadron of the Strategic Air Command will be transferred from Loring Air Force Base here to Griffiss AFB, Rome, N. Y., it was reported Friday.

"Lielight," a base newspaper at Loring, said the shift was part of the overall SAC dispersal plan. The newspaper said the 75th would move to Griffiss as soon as possible after July 1, but would not take along its B52 bombers.

LIMESTONE, Maine (AP)—The 75th Bomb Squadron of the Strategic Air Command will be transferred from Loring Air Force Base here to Griffiss AFB, Rome, N. Y., it was reported Friday.

Six Seniors Win High Percentage Of Scholarships

NEW PALTZ, Feb. 20—The six New Paltz Central High School Seniors, who were awarded six of the 36 scholarships allotted Ulster County by the New York State Department of Education, were Lawrence Dawson, Thomas Landau, Margaret Karp, Stephen Salkever, Bernice Paradies and Michael Sullivan. Kristina Reed was named alternate. Lawrence Dawson won the highest score for New Paltz.

These six winners represent 9.09 per cent of the Senior Class at New Paltz or one scholarship for each 11 students. This is the highest percentage of any of the schools in the county. The next highest was 5.76 per cent and the average for the county was 3.48 per cent.

In addition to these six winners, three of the students, Lawrence Dawson, Margaret Karp and Thomas Landau, were among 500 winners in the state, outside New York City, of special scholarships in engineering, chemistry, physics and mathematics.

The regents scholarships examination for these scholarships was taken by some 47,000 high school seniors in about 1,200 secondary schools of the state on October 15, 1958.

Crusade Gaining Pace

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) —Billy Graham's Australian crusade is gaining pace.

The American evangelist is preaching only 35 minutes a night instead of his usual hour-long sermons, under doctor's instructions, but the crowds are so large hundreds are turned away nightly.

Some 70,000 persons have attended his meetings. Hundreds of thousands of others have heard and watched him on radio and television.

The theme of his sermons here is that there won't be peace in the world until man obeys the laws of God.

'Free Berlin' Is Still E. German Stand: Eisler

BERLIN (AP) — One of Communist East Germany's top propaganda officials, Gerhart Eisler, says his government will continue insisting that Allied-occupied West Berlin be turned into a demilitarized "free city."

Eisler's declaration was made at an East German forum after a member of the audience asked him whether East German control over allied military traffic would solve the Berlin problem.

Eisler replied: "simple controls of traffic cannot eliminate spy activity (in West Berlin). . . The plan for turning West Berlin into a demilitarized free city will not be removed from the agenda until this war cauldron has been eliminated."

Insurance for Education, Rockefeller Says of Taxes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller says New York taxpayers should consider his proposal to raise state taxes as insurance their children will be provided with good schooling.

His request for a 150-million-dollar income tax boost would not be a "soak-the-poor" levy, he asserted in a filmed statewide television program Friday night. Altogether he seeks 277 million in additional taxes.

After the program, the Republican governor faced a barrage of catcalls and boos as he entered the New York City Coliseum for an outdoor exposition. There was some applause and an unexpected kiss from a shapely blonde.

In his television and radio talk, Rockefeller said "taxes are tough . . .and they hurt." He added:

"But I know that the present budget and the tax increase will serve yourselves, and your children's best long-term interests. . ."

Earlier, a freshman senator from Rockefeller's home county joined a GOP movement to cut his $2,041,000,000 budget.

Sen. George Cornell of Scarsdale, Westchester County, said he would support any plan that would reduce appropriations without jeopardizing essential services.

In other developments on the tax front:

1. The General Electric Co. said that, if state spending continued to increase, the state's economy might be crushed by a rising tax load.

2. Mayor Robert Wagner of New York City came out against any tax on payrolls as a means of raising additional revenue for the city.

3. Rep. Paul Fino (R-NY) urged Rockefeller to support a proposal to allow a state-operated lottery. It would raise 10 times as much revenue as the state tax on pari-mutuel wagering at horse tracks, he maintained.

In his second television defense of his budget in as many nights, Rockefeller described as political Democratic charges that the income tax boost he seeks would be a "soak-the-poor" levy.

"This is absolutely untrue. . ." he emphasized.

". . .I think that the taxes are fair and that they are necessary."

Rockefeller claimed that most taxpayers would have to pay less than 50 cents a week in new income taxes.

"I don't think, in all fairness, anyone can call that a 'soak-the-poor' tax."

At the Coliseum, Rockefeller smiled during the two-minute demonstration. Then he extended greetings to a crowd of 5,000.

The kiss came from Christine Miller, 20, who is "Miss Outdoor Exposition." She said it was her way of protesting the treatment accorded Rockefeller.

Cornell said in a telegram to Sen. John H. Hughes (R-Syracuse), leader of the growing GOP revolt against Rockefeller's budget, that he supported the governor's tax program but added:

"I also commend your initiative in proposing specific reductions in the pending budget and will support any effective plan to reduce appropriations" without jeopardizing essential services.

Hughes and four other Onondaga County Republicans seek to slash 80 million dollars from the budget.

General Electric, in a statement issued by A. W. Halverson, manager of public affairs, said the time had come for curtailment of new spending.

"If new spending is required for projects urgently needed, make such money available through the elimination of less essential services," GE said.

It was the first time GE has taken a public, official stand on state fiscal matters. The company has 54,000 New York State employes who draw more than 300 million dollars a year in salaries.

The Legislature authorized New York City in 1945 to levy a payroll tax. None has been imposed.

Wagner's statement of opposition to such a tax followed reports that some legislative Democrats might refuse to vote for a boost in New York City's sales tax if a proposal to legalize off-track betting on horse races were turned down.

Wagner, a Democrat, has maintained that the city and state could pick up additional revenue through a tax on off-track betting.

The only gambling now legal in the state is pari-mutuel betting at the tracks and bingo.

16 Families Are Left Homeless By Buffalo Fire

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Four adjoining garden apartment buildings were wrecked by fire in suburban Cheektowaga early today, leaving 16 families homeless.

One woman was injured when she jumped from a second story window to escape the flames.

Cause of the blaze in the two-story brick and frame buildings was not determined. But Cleveland Hill Fire Chief Robert Gentner said he suspected it had been started deliberately.

There was no damage estimate available.

Given Cyprus Powers

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Gov. Sir Hugh Foot has been authorized to end the four-year emergency in Cyprus, grant amnesty to terrorists and release all political detainees, informed sources said today.

Foot is returning from London, where he consulted the British Cabinet on restoring the economy of the Mediterranean island which is on the way to becoming an independent republic.

Cyprus, once a prosperous British colony, was plunged into virtual bankruptcy during the four-year revolt of Greek Cypriots.

Details of the compromise agreement signed by Britain, Greece and Turkey to make Cyprus a republic will be announced Monday.

Coale Chairman For Red Cross Advanced Gifts

HARRY E. COALE

General Sherman V. Hasbrouck, USA (Retired), has announced the appointment of Harry E. Coale as chairman for advanced gifts for the 1959 Ulster County Red Cross Fund Campaign. Mr. Coale was attached to the staff of the commanding general of the Atlantic and Mediterranean base sections during the World War 2 African Campaign.

He is a member of the Marble Masonic Lodge, Tuckahoe, N. Y. and treasurer of Moose Lodge 970, Kingston. He is president of the Kingston Telephone Answering Service, Inc. and has had over 30 years experience in that field.

Mr. Coale resides at 9 Andrew Street with his wife, the former Starr deVore Tobey, and his daughter, Loretta, who attends Kingston High School. His son, Robert, a graduate of Kingston High School and Severn Preparatory School, is a cadet at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn.

The announcement of this appointment is coupled with a telegram received this week by James A. Hanstein, chairman, Ulster County Red Cross Chapter, from Isaac B. Granger, National Fund Chairman, which advises that again the Red Cross is on the job, as one of the nation's most erratic weather patters in history has caused a series of phenominal disasters across the country. The report of devasting tornado damage in St. Louis and increased flooding conditions in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Indiana and West Virginia, point up the necessity of reviewing the Red Cross Fund raising plans for 1959. The cost of the disaster operations will be several million dollars.

Mr. Coale reported, "The local chapter's fund campaign will be conducted during the month of March, but the advance gift solicitation has already begun. Those who have been contacted under the advance gift divisions are urged to increase their contributions in view of the dramatic developments during the past few weeks. The assistance provided to disaster victims ranges from mass care given to the hameless and hungry, available to all who seek help, to the long, difficult task of post disaster recovery for those who lack the resources to get back to their feet unaided."

"At the present time," Mr. Coale said, "hundreds of weary evacuees are being housed in Red Cross shelters in the disaster states, looking to Red Cross in their hour of need. In Ulster County many of us have seen communities that have been torn by violence of flood and hurricane and we understand the magnitude of the Red Cross job."

"It is up to all of us," Mr. Coale added, "to keep Red Cross on the job when it is needed most."

17 Perish in Shaft

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Three Europeans and 14 Africans were killed Friday night when they fell 200 feet down a shaft at the Mkariba hydroelectric dam site.

The shaft leads to an underground power station on the south bank of the Zambesi River at the dam site.

First reports said the platform on which the men were working had collapsed.

Air Controller Out as Result of Near Collision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's fourth near collision this week between an airliner and a military plane has resulted in the suspension of an air traffic controller at Indianapolis, Ind.

The Federal Aviation Agency announced Friday night that the controller "has been removed from control duties pending a more complete investigation."

The controller was not identified.

His removal was in connection with a close brush earlier in the day between a Capital Airlines Constellation carrying 32 persons and an Air Force C123 cargo plane.

The incident occurred over Daley, Ky. Both pilots said they took evasive action to avoid a crash. There were no injuries.

A preliminary investigation, the FAA said, indicated "that an error in estimating position occurred in the Indianapolis Air Route Traffic Control Center."

Key West, Fla., is the only frost-free city in continental United States.

Honorary Life Membership in P-TA Given To Mrs. Raymond E. Gilkey for Her Work

Mrs. Raymond E. Gilkey of Kingston has been awarded an honorary life membership in the Parent-Teacher Association for her work in various fields in behalf of children, it was announced today by Kerin O'Neil, president of the Kingston P-TA Council.

The award was made Monday evening as part of the Founder's Day program of the local council.

The presentation was by Mrs. Walter Donnaruma who cited Mrs. Gilkey's various activities and achievements. Mrs. Gilkey was president of the P-TA Council last year.

She said that Mrs. Gilkey had been active in P-TA work in the city since 1950, had served dynamically as president of various P-TA groups, including School No. 5, George Washington School and the P-TA Council. She is now assistant district director of the State P-TA serving most of Ulster County.

Mrs. Donnaruma pointed out that Mrs. Gilkey was a member of the original Mental Health Committee which was instrumental in the development of the Mental Health Clinic which is now established in the city. She has also been active in study groups as a film discussion leader or speaker on topics concerning child development.

A nominating committee was selected to nominate council officers for the 1959-60 term. This committee consists of Mrs. G. Jacobson, W. Teegan, Mrs. Gilkey, Mrs. J. Moss and W. Reardon.

A report was made by Miss Mary Polhemus concerning the dental aid revolving fund. She said 72 students have received aid from the fund during the past year. Parents of the students repay the fund but the need is great and additional contributions are greatly needed, she said. Various service clubs and other groups will be contacted for help.

A film, "School Boards in Action," was shown with Teegan leading a discussion of the film.

Those present expressed the feeling that the film might be shown to P-TA groups and service clubs to create a better understanding of how a school board functions and what characteristics might be desirable in selecting school board candidates.

Arrangements may be made to borrow the film by contacting O'Neil or Principal Ambrose J. Boyd of the George Washington School. O'Neil said the film should be of special interest to all citizens who will be voting in the school board election next May.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by parents of School No. 3. The meeting was held in the high school library.

Carrots, lettuce peas and spinach were given us by the Near and Middle East.

Way to Moscow's Heart Is Through Well Cooked Meal, Says Talented Author

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The best way to pierce the Iron Curtain is with a home-cooked American meal, says Myra Waldo gourmet cook, inveterate traveler, talented wife and cookbook author.

The slight but determined Myra cooked and served an old-fashioned, all-American Thanksgiving dinner for 50 Soviet citizens at the Technical Institute of Food and Nutrition in Moscow two years ago.

"When the meal was over all 50 would have left for America on the next plane, if they could," she says. "They ate as if they had never tasted real food before. They sat down at the table a group of basically antagonistic people and were turned into warm friendly human beings just by one good meal."

Myra and her husband, lawyer Robert Schwartz, spend much of their time traveling and the rest cooking—with interludes of course for attention to business. They've been on safari in Africa, have eaten in native huts in India, always keep their bags packed and their passports in order for a quick takeoff to anywhere.

On the Soviet trip, Myra was determined to show the Soviets how America eats. She took along 200 pounds of canned and packaged foods and then spent weeks getting official permission to cook her long-planned meal. From the packages she produced clam chowder, turkey with chestnut dressing, wild rice, sweet potatoes with marshmallows, cranberry sauce, cucumber salad, pecan and pumpkin pie. She made hot rolls from a packaged mix, whipped up some instant mashed potatoes and produced an angel food cake.

Myra says she became a gourmet cook because she was exposed to exotic foods as a child, when she traveled over most of the world with her father.

"By the time I was six I could eat anything except plain food," says Myra. "When I got married my husband shared my tastes.

"I think good cooks could settle most of the world's problems, around the dining table."

New Paltz Senior Is Commended on Merit Award Test

Stephen Salkever, son of Dr. and Mrs. Louis R. Salkever, and senior at New Paltz Central School, has been commended by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation for his outstanding performance on a nationwide test of educational development, it was announced this week by Frederick C. Dippel, principal.

The New Paltz student was one of the New York State runners-up in the 1958-1959 tests.

John L. Stalnaker, president of the scholarship corporation believes that the 10,000 students who received the commendation rank in the top two or three per cent in ability of the senior students in their respective states should be given every encouragement to continue with their education.

The annual national merit scholarship competition offers the largest system of privately financed scholarships in the United States.

More than 478,000 students in 14,600 high schools in the nation entered the contest which began with the qualifying tests on April 29, last year. Dr. Salkever is professor of economics at New Paltz State Teachers College.

TO NIECE'S WEDDING THOUGH IN MOURNING

Dear Mrs. Post: I think it's wrong for me to go to a wedding while I'm in mourning for my husband. It is four months now and I still don't feel like going out with people. Besides which, I'm wearing all black. My family thinks I'm wrong not to go to my favorite niece's wedding. If I did give in to them I don't feel it's right to go in black and I certainly can't be expected to change for this one occasion, can I?

Answer: It is entirely a question of whether you can bear going or not. If you can, it is really strengthening to your courage to make the effort. You can wear a bunch of violets or an orchid on your dress with, let us say, a temporary collar to match either one. This would relieve the blackness.

When Restaurant Table Is Crowded

Dear Mrs. Post: Last evening four couples were dining in a well-known restaurant. The table we were at was rather small but attractively set with a centerpiece of flowers. When the food was brought in, and the salad put down at the side of the plate, plus bread and butter plates, the table became very crowded and so I asked the waitress to remove the flowers. I was criticized by the others for doing this. Will you please tell me was I wrong?

Answer: If the table was uncomfortably crowded and you were the hostess you were right, but if you were dining 'Dutch Treat' you should have asked the other, "Don't you think we would be more comfortable if the flowers were removed?" before speaking to the waitress.

Her Own Money

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it correct for me to hand a girl friend money to put on the collection plate when she goes with me to my church?

Answer: She should put her own money on the collection plate. To offer her money would be very belittling — unless she whispered to you that she had forgotten her purse and asked to borrow some.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-30 entitled "Table Setting," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Faurote Couple Feted at Party

The Kingston Home League Women held a bon voyage party for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Faurote, members of the local Salvation Army Corps, Wednesday night with 75 persons attending.

They are leaving next week for Pearl Harbor where Mr. Faurote will assume his new duties with the U. S. Navy.

The Salvation Army Band presented a half hour musical program, beginning with a baritone and alto horn duet. The band played Grand Old Gospel, under the leadership of Bandmaster Vincent Sickles. There were also a vocal number by Mrs. James Burke, a harmonica duet by George Sweet and Ted Halstead, cornet duet by the bandmaster and Clay Sickles, a brass trio by the Crispell children, a baritone duet by Mrs. Richard Faurote and Foster Meitrott, a selection by the newly formed songsters, led by Clay Sickles, and a stirring march by the band entitled Army Colors.

Serve With Whipped Cream

Make individual shells from a package of meringue mix. Just before serving fill with drained canned apricot halves and whipped cream. Top with a garnish of unsweetened chocolate curls or chocolate shot.

Designs Concentrate on Chic, Young Look

Brand new idea for resort wear is the small chinchilla fur. Rapidly gaining in fashion prestige, chinchilla is a regal and costly fur. But in small wraps, it's within financial reach of many women. The abbreviated stole (left) is done by Ollie of New York in lavish chinchilla with a ruby velvet lining. Waist-length jacket by this same designer is cut (center) with stand-away collar. It is shown here for evening wear but could equally be worn in the daytime. Brief spencer jacket (right) has short sleeves, stand-away neckline and a ruby velvet bow at front closing. These are young, chic and flattering furs that can see service in a wardrobe twelve months of the year. They will provide protection against air conditioning both in tropics and next summer.

Wilson Backs Tax Program During Talk in Newburgh

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson says New Yorkers should be willing to pay for the increasing variety of state services.

Addressing a dinner of the Newburgh Chamber of Commerce Friday night, Wilson said: "Frankly, if we are to have the services, let's pay for them."

The Rockefeller administration, Wilson said, wants to improve the "business climate" of the state but that, in order to achieve it, the state must be on a sound financial basis.

Wilson was introduced by City Manager Albert J. Abrams. Toastmaster at the affair was Frank McCue, general manager of the Newburgh News.

Designs Concentrate on Chic, Young Look

Brand new idea for resort wear is the small chinchilla fur. Rapidly gaining in fashion prestige, chinchilla is a regal and costly fur. But in small wraps, it's within financial reach of many women. The abbreviated stole (left) is done by Ollie of New York in lavish chinchilla with a ruby velvet lining. Waist-length jacket by this same designer is cut (center) with stand-away collar. It is shown here for evening wear but could equally be worn in the daytime. Brief spencer jacket (right) has short sleeves, stand-away neckline and a ruby velvet bow at front closing. Post Office Head Gives Answers on Bingo Questions

To answer a marked increase in questions about bingo as a lottery, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield today released some questions and answers on the subject.

They are as follows:

Q. Does state law legalizing bingo within individual states permit use of the mails to advertise bingo so long as such advertisements go only within state borders?

A. No. Changes in state laws do not affect the federal statutes restricting bingo.

The Postal Lottery Law, Title 18, Section 1302, United States Code, prohibits any mailing of lottery matter—and bingo is considered a lottery—whether such mailing is a ticket, payment or advertisement.

It makes no difference that such mailing is confined within the borders of the state where such lottery may be legal.

Q. Does the restriction against lottery "advertisements" apply only to newspaper advertisements?

A. No. The restriction applies equally to magazines and periodicals which go through the United States mails, as well as to any form of notice advertising a lottery sent through the mails by individuals or organizations.

Q. One does not think of bingo as being in the same category as the big lotteries such as the Irish Sweepstakes. Why is bingo considered a "lottery?"

A. The law says it is a lottery. Under federal court decisions, the legal identifications of a lottery are "consideration, chance and prize." There is consideration in the form of the fee paid to play; there is no doubt that there is chance in bingo; and prizes of cash or merchandise are offered.

Q. Suppose the advertisement of a bingo game does not mention "bingo" at all? Is it still prohibited in the mails?

A. Yes. Bingo, or similar games using different names, cannot be advertised in any matter carried through the mails. The law cannot be evaded by such words as "party" or "games" or "Big Game Wednesday Night" or by merely printing "$". If the advertisement in fact relates to a lottery, it is a violation of the federal law.

Q. Are lotteries conducted for charity exempted in any way from the federal prohibitions?

A. None whatever. The Postal Lottery Law makes no exceptions in favor of lotteries for worthy causes, or which might be regarded as a "little raffle."

"I hope," Summerfield commented, "that these answers will aid in public understanding of these laws, which the Post Office Department is duty bound to enforce."

Delores Is Giving Troopers the Jitters

RICHFIELD SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Delores is interfering with State Police communications.

Troopers stationed in this Cherry Valley area say that for the last few days, when they try to contact other cars or the substation by radio, they hear:

"Delores, Delores, Delores, come in D-e-l-o-r-e-s."

They have identified the errant Delores as the code name for an oil-drilling rig in the Gulf of Mexico.

"Every year about this time they drive us nuts," said one trooper. "After you listen to so much of Delores it wears on your nerves."

Onteora Trounces Highland, 78-45, to Win UCAL Crown

Monticello Beats Kingston, 54-53

KHS Playoff Hopes Dwindle After Set Back

If a prize were given at the end of the basketball season to the team with the worst luck during the year, Kingston would win in a breeze. Last night at Monticello, the KHS cagers lost a pulsating 54-53 decision to the Monties and had their hopes of reaching an intersectional playoff berth seriously dampened.

Since Poughkeepsie beat Middletown and Newburgh practically clinched the DUSO pennant with a crucial win over Port Jervis, the standings read like this:

Team	Won	Lost
Newburgh	12	2
Liberty	9	4
Port Jervis	8	4
Poughkeepsie	8	5
Kingston	9	6
Monticello	7	6
Middletown	4	10
Ellenville	3	10
Fallsburgh	0	13

Two Foul Shots

The locals stayed on even terms with the home side during a nip and tuck engagement. However, just seconds before the end, Leo Armstead of the Monties sank a pair of pressurized fouls to put them ahead, 54-51. John Kelly hit with a set shot for Kingston with two seconds left to make the scoreboard read, 54-53. Monticello put the ball in play and the game ended.

Armstead was the difference in the final outcome. He was great in the second half and finished with 23 points. Bob Harden had 11 as Coach Bucky Roche played five players the entire route.

Pratt was high for the locals with 14 points, all of them coming on field goals. Charley Williams made 12 markers and Kelly chipped in with 11. KHS had the edge in field goals, 23-20, but the Monties made 14 foul shots compared to seven for Kingston.

The boxscore:

Kingston (53)

	FG	FP	PF	T
Kelly	5	1	1	11
Harder	0	3	3	3

Wouldn't Believe It

BALTIMORE — (NEA) — Every place Johnny Unitas goes, people ask him about the Colts-Giants championship football game — which is generally thought of as the greatest ever played.

Unitas, whose quarterbacking led Baltimore to a victory in overtime, does his best to recall each of the big plays that first tied the game with seconds left and then produced victory.

"I do it from memory," he says, "I haven't seen a movie of the game. I don't think I will for a long time. I'm afraid to look at the thing. I'm afraid I wouldn't believe it."

Fullmer Clamors Basilio After Beating Greaves

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Gene Fullmer, a majority decision winner over Wilfie Greaves, wants the New York State Athletic Commission to vacate Sugar Ray Robinson's world middleweight title.

Marv Jenson, Fullmer's manager, has written a letter to the commission asking that a match between Gene and Carmen Basilio or any other middleweight receive sanction as a championship bout.

"We want to fight Basilio for the title in New York," said Jenson Friday night after Fullmer had won his Madison Square Garden match with Greaves, a willing young Canadian. "Basilio is No. 1. Gene is No. 2 and he has licked Spider Webb, the best of the rest."

Robinson hasn't fought since he regained the crown from Basilio March 25, 1958 at Chicago. The normal six-month period of grace expired long ago. Robinson has been talking of fighting Archie Moore for the light heavy championship before he defends his 160-pound title.

Fullmer had his hands full with Greaves, a rough and ready youngster from Edmonton, Alberta. The ex-champ was able to bull his man and scored heavily with right hand punches to the body.

One official, Judge Nick Gamboli thought it was even 5-5 in rounds and 5-5 in points. Judge Jack Gordon scored it 6-4 and Referee Harry Kessler 5-4-1, both for Fullmer. The AP card was Fullmer 6-4.

Indians Roll To 9th Straight League Victory

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

It took Onteora almost a half to warm up the victory cake last night at the Boiceville court. However, once they found the range, the Indians rolled into high gear and tomahawked Highland, 78-45, to clinch a second straight Ulster County Scholastic League championship.

Onteora has a guady 9-0 league mark and has only Marlboro to play next week. Second place Wallkill is two games behind with only one to play.

The home side couldn't find the range in the opening moments of the dame and the only basket in the first four minutes was a layup by Tom McCrosson. However, halfway through the period both clubs started hitting and the Indians had only a 16-14 margin at the end of the quarter.

With three minutes to play in the second stanza Highland was only down, 24-20, and looked like it would make the home team go right to the end before clinching the championship. However, Bruce Wiederspiel ignited the fuse with a tap and Eddie Caruso sank a layup to up the margin to 28-20.

After Ralph Penny scored for Highland, Wiederspiel and Herb Krein notched baskets in the last 35 seconds to send Onteora into the halftime intermission with a ten point bulge, 33-22.

Bruce Gets Hot

For all intents and purposes the contest was broken open in the first minute and a half of the third quarter. The Indians rolled in 10 straight points, six of them by Wiederspiel, and they just breezed from there. Bruce had hot hands in the quarter and scored 12 of his 23 points.

The visitors had trouble finding the basket and they scored only six points in the quarter while the Boiceville five rimmed 28. There wasn't any doubt about who the league champion was after those eight minutes.

Coach Ed Witko emptied the bench in the second half and nine of the ten players who saw action reached the scoring column.

Wiederspiel was the ringleader with 23 points. Krein and Bob Shulman made 10 markers each. Phil Bezzaro, the flashy backcourt operator, led Highland with 13 points. Bill Phillips made 11.

Onteora romped in the jayvee contest, 76-35.

Cooper, Anderson Lose Pro Matches

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ashley Cooper and Mal Anderson started their pro tennis careers with losses Friday night, but Lew Hoad says they will improve with experience playing indoors under lights.

Hoad and the No. 1 old pro, Pancho Gonzales, posted easy victories over the newcomers as the Jack Kramer troupe started its 60-city tour for 1959 at the Cow Palace.

Gonzales scored a 6-2, 6-3 triumph over Cooper. Hoad mastered Anderson 6-2, 6-5.

Gonzales and Anderson trimmed Hoad and Cooper in doubles 6-4, 7-5.

Noted Hair Expert Warns "Don't Put It Off Till It's All Off"

Hair Specialist Here SUNDAY Will Show How to Save Hair and Prevent Baldness

CORAL GABLES, Fla.—New home treatment methods of saving hair and improving its growth will be demonstrated in Kingston on February 22, Sunday, only.

Trichologist F. R. Cartwright will be in charge representing the dynamic Harlow Hair Experts organization. He will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1:00 to 8:00 p. m. Sunday at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The new treatment is neither "mail order" nor "cure-all." It is adapted to the individual after a personal examination and progress is checked personally at regular intervals by a Harlow expert.

WHO CAN BE HELPED?

For many years now Harlow Hair Experts have been checking the hair of thousands of people across the country. They have encountered and dealt with hundreds of cases of every kind of hair trouble. From this experience has grown the body of scientific knowledge leading to the development of the new Harlow home treatment.

Will the new Harlow treatment cure bandness? "No!" For we cannot help men and women who are slick-bald after years of gradual hair-loss. But if you still have fuzz and your scalp is still creating hair, you can at least save and thicken what you have. Some conditions, such as "spot baldness" usually have complete coverage if caught in time!

Other conditions that usually bring on excessive hair loss—dandruff, itching, overoiliness or dryness, follicle clogged with sebum or seborrhea—can be corrected by the Harlow home treatment if caught before the "hair factories" are destroyed.

Evidence of the success of the Harlow method is that the organization has quickly expanded to serve hundreds of cities in 32 states.

The most important thing is: "Don't wait until it's too late."

Surveys among men and women in all walks of life show that the worst enemies of your hair are (1) skepticism and (2) procrastination. The average balding person justifies his condition with one or the other of these two statements:

"I don't think anybody can stop hair loss" or "Oh, I'm going to see an expert when I get around to it."

Baldness won't wait for doubters to be convinced or for procrastinators to take action later. You're going to keep right on losing hair till you're bald . . . unless you get your scalp in healthy hair growing condition again.

SATISFY 95%

"Actually, our biggest problem is not in doing what we claim," says Harlow, "for we satisfy at least 95% of our clients which, when you consider that almost every person is a 'doubter' or a 'putter-offer' where hair is concerned, is an excellent showing. Getting these doubters and putter-offers to come in for an examination is really the problem."

EXAMINE YOU FREE

We want to make it clear that you incur absolutely no charge or obligation by coming in for an examination.

Your only obligation is to yourself to ease your mind of hair worries by learning how to save and thicken your hair at home. We will tell you frankly and sincerely whether or not you can be helped, how long it will take and how much it will cost. We do not accept cases that will not respond.

GUARANTEE SATISFACTION

The Harlow Hair Experts will give you a written guarantee that you must be satisfied within 30 days or it costs you nothing.

For a free examination and discussion of your hair problems ask the desk clerk at the Governor Clinton Hotel Sunday only between 1:00 and 8:00 p. m., for Mr. F. R. Cartwright's room number. He does not make appointments, so come in at your convenience.

You won't be obligated or embarrassed in any way. Examinations are given in private.

KHS Playoff Hopes Dwindle After Set Back

If a prize were given at the end of the basketball season to the team with the worst luck during the year, Kingston would win in a breeze. Last night at Monticello, the KHS cagers lost a pulsating 54-53 decision to the Monties and had their hopes of reaching an intersectional playoff berth seriously dampened.

However, just seconds before the end, Leo Armstead of the Monties sank a pair of pressurized fouls to put them ahead, 54-51. John Kelly hit with a set shot for Kingston with two seconds left to make the scoreboard read, 54-53. Monticello put the ball in play and the game ended.

Armstead was the difference in the final outcome. He was great in the second half and finished with 23 points. Bob Harden had 11 as Coach Bucky Roche played five players the entire route.

Pratt was high for the locals with 14 points, all of them coming on field goals. Charley Williams made 12 markers and Kelly chipped in with 11. KHS had the edge in field goals, 23-20, but the Monties made 14 foul shots compared to seven for Kingston.

Fullmer Clamors Basilio After Beating Greaves

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Gene Fullmer, a majority decision winner over Wilfie Greaves, wants the New York State Athletic Commission to vacate Sugar Ray Robinson's world middleweight title.

Marv Jenson, Fullmer's manager, has written a letter to the commission asking that a match between Gene and Carmen Basilio or any other middleweight receive sanction as a championship bout.

"We want to fight Basilio for the title in New York," said Jenson Friday night after Fullmer had won his Madison Square Garden match with Greaves, a willing young Canadian. "Basilio is No. 1. Gene is No. 2 and he has licked Spider Webb, the best of the rest."

Robinson hasn't fought since he regained the crown from Basilio March 25, 1958 at Chicago. The normal six-month period of grace expired long ago. Robinson has been talking of fighting Archie Moore for the light heavy championship before he defends his 160-pound title.

Fullmer had his hands full with Greaves, a rough and ready youngster from Edmonton, Alberta. The ex-champ was able to bull his man and scored heavily with right hand punches to the body.

One official, Judge Nick Gamboli thought it was even 5-5 in rounds and 5-5 in points. Judge Jack Gordon scored it 6-4 and Referee Harry Kessler 5-4-1, both for Fullmer. The AP card was Fullmer 6-4.

Indians Roll To 9th Straight League Victory

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

It took Onteora almost a half to warm up the victory cake last night at the Boiceville court. However, once they found the range, the Indians rolled into high gear and tomahawked Highland, 78-45, to clinch a second straight Ulster County Scholastic League championship.

Onteora has a guady 9-0 league mark and has only Marlboro to play next week. Second place Wallkill is two games behind with only one to play.

The home side couldn't find the range in the opening moments of the dame and the only basket in the first four minutes was a layup by Tom McCrosson. However, halfway through the period both clubs started hitting and the Indians had only a 16-14 margin at the end of the quarter.

With three minutes to play in the second stanza Highland was only down, 24-20, and looked like it would make the home team go right to the end before clinching the championship. However, Bruce Wiederspiel ignited the fuse with a tap and Eddie Caruso sank a layup to up the margin to 28-20.

After Ralph Penny scored for Highland, Wiederspiel and Herb Krein notched baskets in the last 35 seconds to send Onteora into the halftime intermission with a ten point bulge, 33-22.

Bruce Gets Hot

For all intents and purposes the contest was broken open in the first minute and a half of the third quarter. The Indians rolled in 10 straight points, six of them by Wiederspiel, and they just breezed from there. Bruce had hot hands in the quarter and scored 12 of his 23 points.

The visitors had trouble finding the basket and they scored only six points in the quarter while the Boiceville five rimmed 28. There wasn't any doubt about who the league champion was after those eight minutes.

Coach Ed Witko emptied the bench in the second half and nine of the ten players who saw action reached the scoring column.

Wiederspiel was the ringleader with 23 points. Krein and Bob Shulman made 10 markers each. Phil Bezzaro, the flashy backcourt operator, led Highland with 13 points. Bill Phillips made 11.

Onteora romped in the jayvee contest, 76-35.

Cooper, Anderson Lose Pro Matches

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ashley Cooper and Mal Anderson started their pro tennis careers with losses Friday night, but Lew Hoad says they will improve with experience playing indoors under lights.

Hoad and the No. 1 old pro, Pancho Gonzales, posted easy victories over the newcomers as the Jack Kramer troupe started its 60-city tour for 1959 at the Cow Palace.

Gonzales scored a 6-2, 6-3 triumph over Cooper. Hoad mastered Anderson 6-2, 6-5.

Gonzales and Anderson trimmed Hoad and Cooper in doubles 6-4, 7-5.

Noted Hair Expert Warns "Don't Put It Off Till It's All Off"

Hair Specialist Here SUNDAY Will Show How to Save Hair and Prevent Baldness

CORAL GABLES, Fla.—New home treatment methods of saving hair and improving its growth will be demonstrated in Kingston on February 22, Sunday, only.

Trichologist F. R. Cartwright will be in charge representing the dynamic Harlow Hair Experts organization. He will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1:00 to 8:00 p. m. Sunday at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The new treatment is neither "mail order" nor "cure-all." It is adapted to the individual after a personal examination and progress is checked personally at regular intervals by a Harlow expert.

WHO CAN BE HELPED?

For many years now Harlow Hair Experts have been checking the hair of thousands of people across the country. They have encountered and dealt with hundreds of cases of every kind of hair trouble. From this experience has grown the body of scientific knowledge leading to the development of the new Harlow home treatment.

Will the new Harlow treatment cure bandness? "No!" For we cannot help men and women who are slick-bald after years of gradual hair-loss. But if you still have fuzz and your scalp is still creating hair, you can at least save and thicken what you have. Some conditions, such as "spot baldness" usually have complete coverage if caught in time!

Other conditions that usually bring on excessive hair loss—dandruff, itching, overoiliness or dryness, follicle clogged with sebum or seborrhea—can be corrected by the Harlow home treatment if caught before the "hair factories" are destroyed.

Evidence of the success of the Harlow method is that the organization has quickly expanded to serve hundreds of cities in 32 states.

The most important thing is: "Don't wait until it's too late."

Surveys among men and women in all walks of life show that the worst enemies of your hair are (1) skepticism and (2) procrastination. The average balding person justifies his condition with one or the other of these two statements:

"I don't think anybody can stop hair loss" or "Oh, I'm going to see an expert when I get around to it."

Baldness won't wait for doubters to be convinced or for procrastinators to take action later. You're going to keep right on losing hair till you're bald . . . unless you get your scalp in healthy hair growing condition again.

SATISFY 95%

"Actually, our biggest problem is not in doing what we claim," says Harlow, "for we satisfy at least 95% of our clients which, when you consider that almost every person is a 'doubter' or a 'putter-offer' where hair is concerned, is an excellent showing. Getting these doubters and putter-offers to come in for an examination is really the problem."

EXAMINE YOU FREE

We want to make it clear that you incur absolutely no charge or obligation by coming in for an examination.

Your only obligation is to yourself to ease your mind of hair worries by learning how to save and thicken your hair at home. We will tell you frankly and sincerely whether or not you can be helped, how long it will take and how much it will cost. We do not accept cases that will not respond.

GUARANTEE SATISFACTION

The Harlow Hair Experts will give you a written guarantee that you must be satisfied within 30 days or it costs you nothing.

For a free examination and discussion of your hair problems ask the desk clerk at the Governor Clinton Hotel Sunday only between 1:00 and 8:00 p. m., for Mr. F. R. Cartwright's room number. He does not make appointments, so come in at your convenience.

You won't be obligated or embarrassed in any way. Examinations are given in private.

Catskill High Trims Saugerties, 57-42

Jackson, Sims Spark Attack For Winners

Mac Jackson and Bill Sims were too much for Saugerties to handle last night as Catskill dumped the Sawyers for the second time this season, 57-42, at the Saugerties gym.

Coach Buddy Smith's cagers had a poor night from the floor and after holding the highly rated visitors to a 23-22 halftime margin, they could only muster nine points in the third quarter. That iced the tilt for the Kats.

Jockson had 22 markers and Sims 21 to lead the winners. Barry Wolven topped the Sawyers with 14 points and Bill Eckhoff had 13. Bob Wolven had a tough night and could muster but three baskets.

Celts Clinch Eastern Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Boston's flamboyant Celtics today were the proud possessors of their third consecutive Eastern Division championship of the National Basketball Assn.

Rolling along at a .742 clip with a 46-16 won-lost record, the Celtics were shoo-ins for the title. Only the clinching day was uncertain.

Boston tucked the crown away Friday night with a 111-106 overtime victory over the Detroit Pistons.

In the first game of the doubleheader played at Detroit in the league's only action, second-place Minneapolis won a spot in the Western Division playoffs with a 116-106 triumph over New York.

Frank Ramsey personally battered the Pistons in overtime as the Celtics outscored Detroit 11-6. Ramsey, who wound up the evening's work with 31 points, posted nine in the extra session. Gene Shue was high for the Pistons with 25 points.

New York rallied from 25 points behind before becoming the Lakers third straight victim. Elgin Baylor and Dick Garmaker scored 20 each for Minneapolis. Willie Naulls topped the Knicks with 17.

Auburn Set For Battle At Kent'ky

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Auburn, boasting the longest winning streak in the nation, jumps head first into the lions' den tonight against Kentucky, the still-powerful defending NCAA basketball champions.

The game will be at Lexington, Ky., the Wildcats' home grounds and a court that has gobbled up no fewer than 188 opponents over the past 16 years. Kentucky has dropped only six games on its home floor in that stretch.

Auburn's winning streak stands at 30, but the Tigers have no place to go to show it off when the regular season ends because they are on NCAA probation.

A Must Game

Kentucky, which was tumbled off the No. 1 perch in the weekly Associated Press poll last week after losing to Mississippi State, still has a chance to make the NCAA tournament. But the Wildcats must lick Auburn or they are doomed.

Both the Big 10 and the Ivy League could go a long way toward determing their champions —although neither can be clinched mathematically.

Catskill High Trims Saugerties, 57-42

Jackson, Sims Spark Attack For Winners

Mac Jackson and Bill Sims were too much for Saugerties to handle last night as Catskill dumped the Sawyers for the second time this season, 57-42, at the Saugerties gym.

Coach Buddy Smith's cagers had a poor night from the floor and after holding the highly rated visitors to a 23-22 halftime margin, they could only muster nine points in the third quarter. That iced the tilt for the Kats.

Jockson had 22 markers and Sims 21 to lead the winners. Barry Wolven topped the Sawyers with 14 points and Bill Eckhoff had 13. Bob Wolven had a tough night and could muster but three baskets.

The Sawyers are now 10-5 for the season and have three tilts scheduled next week, including two important Dutchess County Scholastic contests.

'Fly Boys' Dawkins

COLORADO SPRINGS — (NEA)—Bob Beckel is the Air Force Academy's answer to Army's Pete Dawkins.

The slim, six-foot blond out of Walla Walla, Wash., leads the Fly Boy basketball squad with an 18.2 scoring average, has never been below double figures.

In 1957, Beckel was named Cadet Wing Commander, the highest honor paid a student. Last fall, he was again chosen for this honor with the rank of Cadet Colonel.

He is a corking shortstop and centerfielder in baseball.

Celts Clinch Eastern Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Boston's flamboyant Celtics today were the proud possessors of their third consecutive Eastern Division championship of the National Basketball Assn.

Rolling along at a .742 clip with a 46-16 won-lost record, the Celtics were shoo-ins for the title. Only the clinching day was uncertain.

Boston tucked the crown away Friday night with a 111-106 overtime victory over the Detroit Pistons.

In the first game of the doubleheader played at Detroit in the league's only action, second-place Minneapolis won a spot in the Western Division playoffs with a 116-106 triumph over New York.

Frank Ramsey personally battered the Pistons in overtime as the Celtics outscored Detroit 11-6. Ramsey, who wound up the evening's work with 31 points, posted nine in the extra session. Gene Shue was high for the Pistons with 25 points.

New York rallied from 25 points behind before becoming the Lakers third straight victim. Elgin Baylor and Dick Garmaker scored 20 each for Minneapolis. Willie Naulls topped the Knicks with 17.

Elliott Captures Mile Run in 4:07.2

SYDNEY (AP) — Herb Elliott ran a mile in 4:07.2 over a sodden cinders track today and beat two other sub-four minutes milers in an invitational event at Marks Athletic Field.

It was the first run for Elliott, holder of the world mile record, since he returned from Milwaukee arlier this month where he received a trophy as the Associated Press male athlete for 1958.

Merv Lincoln finished second in 4:07.9 and Alby Thomas third in 4:11.4.

Elliott's world record time for the mile is 3:54.5.

Auburn Set For Battle At Kent'ky

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Auburn, boasting the longest winning streak in the nation, jumps head first into the lions' den tonight against Kentucky, the still-powerful defending NCAA basketball champions.

The game will be at Lexington, Ky., the Wildcats' home grounds and a court that has gobbled up no fewer than 188 opponents over the past 16 years. Kentucky has dropped only six games on its home floor in that stretch.

Auburn's winning streak stands at 30, but the Tigers have no place to go to show it off when the regular season ends because they are on NCAA probation.

A Must Game

Kentucky, which was tumbled off the No. 1 perch in the weekly Associated Press poll last week after losing to Mississippi State, still has a chance to make the NCAA tournament. But the Wildcats must lick Auburn or they are doomed.

Both the Big 10 and the Ivy League could go a long way toward determing their champions—although neither can be clinched mathematically.

In the Big 10, Michigan State could all but wrap it up by beating dangerous Purdue. If all goes well from a Spartan standpoint—meaning an Illinois victory over Indiana and a Northwestern triumph over Michigan — then Michigan State would be assured of at least a tie for the crown.

Ivy League Action

As for the Ivies, the two big boys of the loop, defending champion Dartmouth and cofavorite Princeton, come to grips. Each shows a 10-0 record in league play and is eyeing the almost-certain at-large berth in the NCAA tournament that goes to the Ivy king.

Plywood Replicate

Thieves Replace Safe and $15,000 With Duplicate

NEW YORK (AP) — A couple of (safe) cracking stores: An imitation safe on display while yeggs worked on the real one, and a vain hatchet job on a traffic court vault.

The Waldman Supermarket, on the main street of Long Beach, N. Y., kept its safe overnight in a brightly lighted front window.

The management was amazed Friday when the place opened for business. The safe had been cracked, and $15,000 taken. Still in the window was a safe, all right, but it was a plywood duplicate.

The thieves had carried the replica, folded, to the store. It was an exact reproduction, even to a combination lock painted on the door. The "real McCoy" was hauled to the dark rear of the market and was opened at leisure.

The market apparently had been cased thoroughly. Entrance was gained by a ladder to the roof, and a hole cut in it. The burglars carefully avoided all alarm devices. They left no fingerprints, either on the real safe or the phony one.

In Brooklyn, it was a different story. A couple of clumsy safecrackers hacked away at a 500-pound traffic court safe but never got it open. But they banged it up so much that a lock expert had to be called in to get it open.

By the time the expert opened the safe, it was too late in the day to do anything about court proceeding inside. Thirty-one traffic cases had to be postponed.

What this country really needs is a rocket that can go as high as today's prices. ©NEA

Planting Trees Is Suggested To Observe Year of History

By HERBERT CUTLER
County Arbor Day Committee

What better reminder could we have of New York State's "Year of History" than a tree planted during the year-long celebration?

Now is the time to take stock of our trees to determine where the planting of one would enhance our surroundings. There are many empty stretches along our streets and highways and on our properties which would be improved by the addition of suitable trees. There are also many diseased and broken trees which should be replaced by healthy saplings.

Species Important

Once it has been decided where a tree is needed the next step is to select a suitable species. If it is on the home grounds the choice is wide but if we are planting a street tree the choice is limited to a comparatively few varieties. If it is an addition or continuation to a street already planted, it is best to continue with the existing variety if it is suitable. If the street is planted with soft maples or some other undesirable species it would be best to select a good variety and encourage the gradual replacement. Quick growing trees with poor branching habit, weak wood or bothersome rooting habits should be avoided. Likewise, trees which at certain times are untidy by dropping seeds or fruit are best planted in other locations.

One of the best and most widely planted of our native trees is the sugar maple. It is an excellent selection for almost any location where it can be given room to develop its natural shape. Occasionally whole towns are planted with this variety and a magnificent effect is produced. However we have learned this to be unwise for should disease or insects strike, the whole area might be left treeless. This is slowly but surely happening in some sections with the loss of the finest of our native trees, the American elm, due to the Dutch elm disease.

Other Suggestions

Another fine maple is the Norway which grows well under adverse conditions and casts a very dense shade. It too becomes a very large tree and should have plenty of space to develop. The native white ash is an excellent tree and not as popular as it deserves to be. It is clean and well shaped and makes fairly rapid growth. The small leaf lindens are most desirable with a fine compact shape and good foliage. They should not be confused with the native linden or basswood which is too weak and coarse for street planting or for use near buildings. A number of oaks are unsurpassed for specimen planting and excellent for street trees in residential sections. Among the best of these is the scarlet oak with its brilliant fall color. A fine landscape subject and one of the hardiest for town planting is the London plane. While closely related this should not be confused with our native sycamore or button ball tree which is a beautiful variety but not adapted for street trees.

Where utility wires exist care should be exercised in the selection of a variety. One should be chosen which adapts itself to judicious pruning to keep interference at a minimum. Or one of the smaller trees as the dogwood could be used. While trees and wires present problems it is possible for both to exist on the same street if care is exercised in the planting and maintenance.

If trees are to survive the shock of transplanting they must be handled with care. Large specimens must be moved with a ball of soil but saplings can be moved, when dormant, with bare roots if they are not allowed to dry out while being moved. A hole larger than the root spread should be provided and if necessary new soil. While planting a stout stake should be placed so it will not be necessary to drive it in after the roots have been covered and risk damage to them. Plenty of water should be supplied while planting and during the first year or two, until the tree has become established. Specimens with a high branching habit should be selected so there will be no interference with pedestrians and vehicles.

Spacing trees is a matter which must be determined for each species. Observe the spread of a mature specimen and space accordingly. This may vary from fifty to a hundred feet or more. The importance of this is easily noted for it is only too easy to locate sugar maples planted a few feet apart where they have developed as they would in a dense forest. It is far better to allow too much space than too little.

If we begin to make plans now we shall be prepared when the proper time for planting arrives about Arbor Day time near the end of April.

Probers Widen Jukebox Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Labor-Management Committee today widened its investigation of an alleged Chicago gangland plot involving cut rate counterfeit phonograph records.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) ordered men accused of the conspiracy brought in for questioning when the hearings resume Tuesday.

The story of the counterfeiting bobbed up Friday in testimony that a combine of mobsters and corrupt labor union officials has run a $100,000 a year shakedown racket against Chicago jukebox operators, using terrorists to enforce demands.

The committee has charged that jukebox racketeering in Chicago and New York are part of a nationwide conspiracy by underworld figures and some top labor union officials to dominate the coin machine industry.

Ted Sipiora, charging that competition backed by gangsters has ruined his Chicago record wholesaling business, swore that counterfeit records became part and parcel of these manipulations.

He said this involved the making of low cost reproductions of the product of reputable recording firms.

He said the counterfeiting was done in Cincinnati, Ohio, but that when one of those involved was caught the man was merely fined $50 in a Cook County (Chicago) court.

Smarter Than Humans

NEW YORK (AP) — In the matter of diet, dogs outsmart many humans. Researchers for Neutrena Mills, a dog food manufacturer, say they have found that just before reaching adulthood puppies suddenly begin eating less. A cocker spaniel, for example, when almost full grown at 24 weeks, will drop in less than a week's time from 14 ounces of food each day to as little as 8 or 9 ounces. The reason for the adjustment, the specialists say, is that the dog's system simply doesn't require as much nurishment once the growing cycle is completed.

Dulles to Undergo Second Treatment Of Cancer Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles goes back today to the concrete and lead X-ray chamber in Walter Reed Medical Center for his second massive radiation treatment for cancer.

It soon will be a familiar journey.

Present plans call for treatments every day, except Sunday, under the hospital's million volt X-ray machine for possible three or four weeks.

At the end of that period doctors may be able to say whether Dulles can return to his State Department desk.

Dulles, who will be 72 next Wednesday, apparently held up well after Friday's first treatment for abdominal cancer.

"Treatment was well tolerated," said a medical bulletin issued by Lincoln White, State Department press officer.

This meant, White said, that Dulles was not sickened as is the case with some people who undergo heavy X-ray treatments.

Plywood Replicate

Thieves Replace Safe and $15,000 With Duplicate

NEW YORK (AP) — A couple of (safe) cracking stores: An imitation safe on display while yeggs worked on the real one, and a vain hatchet job on a traffic court vault.

The Waldman Supermarket, on the main street of Long Beach, N. Y., kept its safe overnight in a brightly lighted front window.

The management was amazed Friday when the place opened for business. The safe had been cracked, and $15,000 taken. Still in the window was a safe, all right, but it was a plywood duplicate.

The thieves had carried the replica, folded, to the store. It was an exact reproduction, even to a combination lock painted on the door. The "real McCoy" was hauled to the dark rear of the market and was opened at leisure.

The market apparently had been cased thoroughly. Entrance was gained by a ladder to the roof, and a hole cut in it. The burglars carefully avoided all alarm devices. They left no fingerprints, either on the real safe or the phony one.

In Brooklyn, it was a different story. A couple of clumsy safecrackers hacked away at a 500-pound traffic court safe but never got it open. But they banged it up so much that a lock expert had to be called in to get it open.

By the time the expert opened the safe, it was too late in the day to do anything about court proceeding inside. Thirty-one traffic cases had to be postponed.

What this country really needs is a rocket that can go as high as today's prices. ©NEA

Planting Trees Is Suggested To Observe Year of History

By HERBERT CUTLER
County Arbor Day Committee

What better reminder could we have of New York State's "Year of History" than a tree planted during the year-long celebration?

Now is the time to take stock of our trees to determine where the planting of one would enhance our surroundings. There are many empty stretches along our streets and highways and on our properties which would be improved by the addition of suitable trees. There are also many diseased and broken trees which should be replaced by healthy saplings.

Species Important

Once it has been decided where a tree is needed the next step is to select a suitable species. If it is on the home grounds the choice is wide but if we are planting a street tree the choice is limited to a comparatively few varieties. If it is an addition or continuation to a street already planted, it is best to continue with the existing variety if it is suitable. If the street is planted with soft maples or some other undesirable species it would be best to select a good variety and encourage the gradual replacement. Quick growing trees with poor branching habit, weak wood or bothersome rooting habits should be avoided. Likewise, trees which at certain times are untidy by dropping seeds or fruit are best planted in other locations.

One of the best and most widely planted of our native trees is the sugar maple. It is an excellent selection for almost any location where it can be given room to develop its natural shape. Occasionally whole towns are planted with this variety and a magnificent effect is produced. However we have learned this to be unwise for should disease or insects strike, the whole area might be left treeless. This is slowly but surely happening in some sections with the loss of the finest of our native trees, the American elm, due to the Dutch elm disease.

Other Suggestions

Another fine maple is the Norway which grows well under adverse conditions and casts a very dense shade. It too becomes a very large tree and should have plenty of space to develop. The native white ash is an excellent tree and not as popular as it deserves to be. It is clean and well shaped and makes fairly rapid growth. The small leaf lindens are most desirable with a fine compact shape and good foliage. They should not be confused with the native linden or basswood which is too weak and coarse for street planting or for use near buildings. A number of oaks are unsurpassed for specimen planting and excellent for street trees in residential sections. Among the best of these is the scarlet oak with its brilliant fall color. A fine landscape subject and one of the hardiest for town planting is the London plane. While closely related this should not be confused with our native sycamore or button ball tree which is a beautiful variety but not adapted for street trees.

Where utility wires exist care should be exercised in the selection of a variety. One should be chosen which adapts itself to judicious pruning to keep interference at a minimum. Or one of the smaller trees as the dogwood could be used. While trees and wires present problems it is possible for both to exist on the same street if care is exercised in the planting and maintenance.

If trees are to survive the shock of transplanting they must be handled with care. Large specimens must be moved with a ball of soil but saplings can be moved, when dormant, with bare roots if they are not allowed to dry out while being moved. A hole larger than the root spread should be provided and if necessary new soil. While planting a stout stake should be placed so it will not be necessary to drive it in after the roots have been covered and risk damage to them. Plenty of water should be supplied while planting and during the first year or two, until the tree has become established. Specimens with a high branching habit should be selected so there will be no interference with pedestrians and vehicles.

Spacing trees is a matter which must be determined for each species. Observe the spread of a mature specimen and space accordingly. This may vary from fifty to a hundred feet or more. The importance of this is easily noted for it is only too easy to locate sugar maples planted a few feet apart where they have developed as they would in a dense forest. It is far better to allow too much space than too little.

If we begin to make plans now we shall be prepared when the proper time for planting arrives about Arbor Day time near the end of April.

Probers Widen Jukebox Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Labor-Management Committee today widened its investigation of an alleged Chicago gangland plot involving cut rate counterfeit phonograph records.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) ordered men accused of the conspiracy brought in for questioning when the hearings resume Tuesday.

The story of the counterfeiting bobbed up Friday in testimony that a combine of mobsters and corrupt labor union officials has run a $100,000 a year shakedown racket against Chicago jukebox operators, using terrorists to enforce demands.

The committee has charged that jukebox racketeering in Chicago and New York are part of a nationwide conspiracy by underworld figures and some top labor union officials to dominate the coin machine industry.

Ted Sipiora, charging that competition backed by gangsters has ruined his Chicago record wholesaling business, swore that counterfeit records became part and parcel of these manipulations.

He said this involved the making of low cost reproductions of the product of reputable recording firms.

He said the counterfeiting was done in Cincinnati, Ohio, but that when one of those involved was caught the man was merely fined $50 in a Cook County (Chicago) court.

Smarter Than Humans

NEW YORK (AP) — In the matter of diet, dogs outsmart many humans. Researchers for Neutrena Mills, a dog food manufacturer, say they have found that just before reaching adulthood puppies suddenly begin eating less. A cocker spaniel, for example, when almost full grown at 24 weeks, will drop in less than a week's time from 14 ounces of food each day to as little as 8 or 9 ounces. The reason for the adjustment, the specialists say, is that the dog's system simply doesn't require as much nurishment once the growing cycle is completed.

Dulles to Undergo Second Treatment Of Cancer Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles goes back today to the concrete and lead X-ray chamber in Walter Reed Medical Center for his second massive radiation treatment for cancer.

It soon will be a familiar journey.

Present plans call for treatments every day, except Sunday, under the hospital's million volt X-ray machine for possible three or four weeks.

At the end of that period doctors may be able to say whether Dulles can return to his State Department desk.

Dulles, who will be 72 next Wednesday, apparently held up well after Friday's first treatment for abdominal cancer.

"Treatment was well tolerated," said a medical bulletin issued by Lincoln White, State Department press officer.

This meant, White said, that Dulles was not sickened as is the case with some people who undergo heavy X-ray treatments.

Winning State Scholarships Runs In the Family

Winning state scholarships seems to run in the family, according to Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of Saugerties Central Schools.

In connection with the announcement of the New York State Scholarships winners from Saugerties High School, it is interesting to note that two of the winners are members of families which have had more than one scholarship winner previously, he said.

Carolyn is the third child in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roeser of West Camp to win a state scholarship; Eileen is the fourth child of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cahill of Washington Avenue to win one.

Frank Roeser Jr. attended the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse University, and is now with the U. S. Army in Korea. Edward Roeser is presently attending Siena College, Loudonville, where he is majoring in science. Carolyn, this year's winner, plans to attend college next year to prepare to become a teacher of mathematics.

The three previous winners in the Cahill family have completed four-year college courses. Betty Cahill attended the New York State University College for Teachers at Albany and is now employed as a language teacher at Rhinebeck High School. Anne Cahill, a graduate of the New York State University College for Teachers, Oneonta, teaches the first grade in Scotia. Lawrence Cahill Jr., majored in engineering at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He is now with the National Guard stationed at Fort Chaffee, Ark. Eileen Cahill will attend college next year where she plans to major in English.

Playful Prank

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Mark Busch, only 19 months old, playfully threw a blanket over his mother's head as she was driving on the San Mateo-Hayward Bridge approach.

Temporarily blinded, Mrs. Pauline Busch swerved the car to the right — and tore loose eight large fence posts. She, Mark and Lorie, just 6 months, all escaped without injury.

Benedictine . . .

will now permit us to prepare the first floor, south wing, to receive patients, nurses however, must be first secured to staff this unit.

Plan Renovations

"The recently vacated nurses home will soon be renovated and prepared for the Sisters'. The annex on the corner of Mary's Avenue and West O'Reilly Street will also be prepared for our three resident doctors.

"Our patients are considerably benefited by the continued interest and spiritual care manifested by our Chaplain Father Carey for which we are most grateful.

"The appearance of our Reverend Mother Vincent at the Cornerstone laying of our new school and residence added much to the event. Like the many who entered the school, Mother was impressed with its beautiful furnishings.

"The most outstanding event for 1958 was the erection of the New Nurses School and Residence, the cornerstone of which was laid Jan. 31, 1959, with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Drury, president of the hospital officiating. At a later date the building will be blessed and dedicated by His Eminence Cardinal Francis Spellman at which time there will be a formal program similar to the ceremony held when our new wing was blessed and dedicated by His Eminence in 1952.

Many Generous Donations

"Although we have a mortgage of $380,000, the New Nurses School has been blessed by many gracious and generous contributions. Among the many was the magnificent gift of $62,300 from the Ford Foundation. This gift was used toward the educational unit of the School. The erection of the school has been thought of for many years and it's completion will now be a lasting tribute to our President, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Drury, whose unselfish spirit of devotion during our various campaigns and particularly the recent one for the Nurses School and Residence was most commendable.

"In the earlier years our former deceased Presidents, the Rt. Rev. Monsignors, Joseph B. Scully and John J. Stanley were both vitally interested and concerned in the nurses housing situation. Conditions however, were not favorable on account of the depression and later the war. It was also during this time that we became acquainted with the Misses Catherine and Helen Tracy of Brooklyn, New York. They also realized the need for a school for the nurses. Their first thought was to erect a building in memory of their brothers, Michael and John Tracy, but later, on account of economic conditions decided to contribute from time to time and finally reached the sum of $200,000 at the time of their death.

"We also received another great surprise from the magnificent bequest of $158,191 from the will of our good friend, Mrs. MacDonald DeWitt. In our two earlier campaigns, Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt had also contributed the sum of $4,800.

"Another outstanding bequest from the will of Mr. William Bunn of Alligerville was the gift of $11,474. Also the continuing contribution of $1,000 each year from Mrs. Emile Chadbourne of Stone Ridge.

"The story and success of the recent campaign is familiar to everyone. The splendid group that formed the steering committee and were so faithful in attending all the meetings, the various workers, and the public, all of whom contributed so generously of their time, effort and means that made the affair an outstanding success.

"Another source of great happiness to the Sisters', Medical Staff, Nursing Profession and our entire personnel was the receiving of the National Accreditation for our School of Nursing.

Dr. Cooke Praised

"We acknowledge whole-heartedly the splendid services given by Dr. John A. Cooke Jr., in being chairman of the Personnel Health Division.

"At this time we thank our residents for the excellent care they have given our patients.

"Worthy of note is the splendid service given to Benedictine Hospital by Mayor Edwin F. Radel and the Department of Public Works; Fire Chief James M. Brett and his co-workers; the Police Department and their Chief and to the local newspapers for their interest and generosity in presenting our many news articles.

"We thank our merchants for their fine cooperative spirit, and also the thoughtful remembrances of our many friends who have contributed during the year; flowers, fruit, magazines, papers, and other gifts for the comfort of our patients.

"For the past year's services, we express our sincere gratitude to the members of the Medical Staff for their assistance and direction in professional matters; to the members of the Nursing Profession for their unselfish service and loyalty; to the Ladies' Auxiliary for their generous helpfulness and 2,542 hours of service; and finally, to all our employees whose loyal and faithful service has contributed so kindly to the quality of care rendered our patients.

Sister Callista's Report

Sister Callista's report on the school of nursing follows:

"Enrollment as of December 1958: 26 Seniors, 22 Juniors, and 24 Freshmen. Total enrollment 72 students. There was one resignation from the school due to scholastic difficulty.

"Eighteen students were graduated August 31. The Sister Aloysia Scholarship of $300 for further study was awarded to Angela Weiss for having attained the highest average of the class, 91.8 per cent. Miss Weiss is presently taking courses at Russell Sage College, Troy.

"Sister Gabrielle, graduate of Seton Hall University with a BSN, has been appointed assistant instructor on Fundamentals of Nursing. Mrs. Viola Haggerty, graduate of St. Rose College, BSN, was appointed assistant Science Instructor.

Mrs. Mida Kaelin, RN, BS, graduate of Idaho State University with post-graduate work at the Mayo Clinic and St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, Minn. was appointed as clinical instructor in Operating Room.

Pediatrics Transferred

The Pediatric affiliation in Pediatrics was transferred from St. Catherine's Hospital, Brooklyn, to St. Joseph's Hospital Syracuse.

An orientation week program was developed for the new students, to acquaint them not only with the functioning of their school of nursing and hospital but also with the community.

"Anatomy and physiology, chemistry and microbiology have been taught concurrently, in order to provide correlation of the sciences.

"'Pharmacology II and Diet Therapy were correlated with Medical and Surgical Nursing, to aid the student in integration of this material.

"Medical and Surgical Nursing formerly taught separately was also correlated. Patient centered teaching is being emphasized; including the total needs of the patient while in the hospital and upon return to the community. Students are assigned in the clinical areas according to educational needs, concomitant with their course of study.

"The significance of positive health is stressed throughout the curriculum. The administration of the health program during the past year has been under the guidance of Dr. John Cooke, who has given unstintingly of his time and efforts, both to our students and personnel. Three students presently enrolled have been awarded Regents State Scholarships. In addition to the above competitive scholarship, three students received full and seven partial scholarships within their communities.

Moved Jan. 29

"On January 29 our students moved from the old nurses residence and annexes into their new quarters. The new facilities will accommodate 100 students. The first floor contains a library, three classrooms, science laboratory, nursing arts laboratory, faculty offices, lounges and quarters for the house mother. A large recreation room and auditorium are on the ground floor. On the second and third floor are the bedrooms and a lounge and kitchenette on each floor.

Fully Accredited

"In December 1958, after a number of years of temporary and provisional accreditation, the school was fully accredited by the National League for Nursing. While full accreditation is not an end in itself, but a continuous process, it does represent recognition of the program by the highest accrediting authority in the field of nursing education. This has made the faculty conscious that the task ahead is a continuous and comprehensive evaluation of the program. To assist them in their planning with changes in the curriculum our faculty have been busy not only at home but attended many meetings, workshops, institutes and conventions at the local, state and national levels.

"The ultimate purpose of National Accreditation is the improvement of nursing service throughout the country.

"We owe a debt of gratitude to our faculty for their untriring efforts in the improvement of our program, and to our Board and Administrator for their assistance in planning the new school and residence and carrying the financial buden it involves."

10 Is Low

what weather forecasters said was a strictly localized storm. The Lake Ontario storm, driven by southwest winds up to 45 miles an hour, snarled traffic in Jefferson, Lewis and parts of St. Lawrence Counties.

Biting cold edged its way into Dixie as the frigid blast clasped a tighter grip on the eastern two-thirds of the nation.

The AP report on the state weather picture follows:

All highways were reported open but visibility was frequently cut to zero in squalls. Highway officials said many vehicles were stalled.

Others Show Climb

Temperatures ranged around 10 degrees above zero.

Other state temperatures climbed from the severe cold of the past few days. The U. S. Weather Bureau reported an overnight state low of -1 at Plattsburgh. It reached zero at Oneonta, five above at Watertown, 9 above in Rochester and Newburgh, 10 above in Buffalo and 17 above in New York City.

Baton Rouge Has 33

Clear, sunny skies generally belied the biting cold thrust that plunged the mercury below freezing in many Southern states.

The weather map showed a slight warming, little comfort for numbed residents along the northern tier of states, and some rainfall, particularly in the Pacific Northwest and southern Texas.

The southward push of cold air tumbled the mercury to 31 at Mobile and 29 in Montgomery, Ala. Baton Rouge, La. teetered at the freezing mark with an early morning 33.

Charleston, S.C. was cooled by a 27 while Memphis, Tenn. reported 20. To the south, Jacksonville, Fla. had a 38. Florida also reported the nation's warmest spot with a 70 at Key West.

-13 in Montana

Temperatures in the teens ruled a broad area extending from the Central Plains through the Great Lakes to the Atlantic seaboard.

A few communities across Montana and the Dakotas caught below zero treatment. Glasgow, Mont. had -13.

It was also cold along the Pacific Northwest where a flow of cold air dumped readings into the 40s and high 30s during the early morning hours.

Heaviest overnight rain, mixed with snow in the mountains, occurred along the Oregon coastline and northern and central California. Rain gauges in these sections recorded at least a half inch of rain in a six-hour overnight period in several communities. Point Piedras, Calif. had at least .62 in precipitation.

Winning State Scholarships Runs In the Family

Winning state scholarships seems to run in the family, according to Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of Saugerties Central Schools.

In connection with the announcement of the New York State Scholarships winners from Saugerties High School, it is interesting to note that two of the winners are members of families which have had more than one scholarship winner previously, he said.

Carolyn is the third child in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roeser of West Camp to win a state scholarship; Eileen is the fourth child of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cahill of Washington Avenue to win one.

Frank Roeser Jr. attended the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse University, and is now with the U. S. Army in Korea. Edward Roeser is presently attending Siena College, Loudonville, where he is majoring in science. Carolyn, this year's winner, plans to attend college next year to prepare to become a teacher of mathematics.

The three previous winners in the Cahill family have completed four-year college courses. Betty Cahill attended the New York State University College for Teachers at Albany and is now employed as a language teacher at Rhinebeck High School. Anne Cahill, a graduate of the New York State University College for Teachers, Oneonta, teaches the first grade in Scotia. Lawrence Cahill Jr., majored in engineering at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He is now with the National Guard stationed at Fort Chaffee, Ark. Eileen Cahill will attend college next year where she plans to major in English.

Playful Prank

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Mark Busch, only 19 months old, playfully threw a blanket over his mother's head as she was driving on the San Mateo-Hayward Bridge approach.

Temporarily blinded, Mrs. Pauline Busch swerved the car to the right — and tore loose eight large fence posts. She, Mark and Lorie, just 6 months, all escaped without injury.

Benedictine . . .

will now permit us to prepare the first floor, south wing, to receive patients, nurses however, must be first secured to staff this unit.

Plan Renovations

"The recently vacated nurses home will soon be renovated and prepared for the Sisters'. The annex on the corner of Mary's Avenue and West O'Reilly Street will also be prepared for our three resident doctors.

"Our patients are considerably benefited by the continued interest and spiritual care manifested by our Chaplain Father Carey for which we are most grateful.

"The appearance of our Reverend Mother Vincent at the Cornerstone laying of our new school and residence added much to the event. Like the many who entered the school, Mother was impressed with its beautiful furnishings.

"The most outstanding event for 1958 was the erection of the New Nurses School and Residence, the cornerstone of which was laid Jan. 31, 1959, with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Drury, president of the hospital officiating. At a later date the building will be blessed and dedicated by His Eminence Cardinal Francis Spellman at which time there will be a formal program similar to the ceremony held when our new wing was blessed and dedicated by His Eminence in 1952.

Many Generous Donations

"Although we have a mortgage of $380,000, the New Nurses School has been blessed by many gracious and generous contributions. Among the many was the magnificent gift of $62,300 from the Ford Foundation. This gift was used toward the educational unit of the School. The erection of the school has been thought of for many years and it's completion will now be a lasting tribute to our President, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Drury, whose unselfish spirit of devotion during our various campaigns and particularly the recent one for the Nurses School and Residence was most commendable.

"In the earlier years our former deceased Presidents, the Rt. Rev. Monsignors, Joseph B. Scully and John J. Stanley were both vitally interested and concerned in the nurses housing situation. Conditions however, were not favorable on account of the depression and later the war. It was also during this time that we became acquainted with the Misses Catherine and Helen Tracy of Brooklyn, New York. They also realized the need for a school for the nurses. Their first thought was to erect a building in memory of their brothers, Michael and John Tracy, but later, on account of economic conditions decided to contribute from time to time and finally reached the sum of $200,000 at the time of their death.

"We also received another great surprise from the magnificent bequest of $158,191 from the will of our good friend, Mrs. MacDonald DeWitt. In our two earlier campaigns, Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt had also contributed the sum of $4,800.

"Another outstanding bequest from the will of Mr. William Bunn of Alligerville was the gift of $11,474. Also the continuing contribution of $1,000 each year from Mrs. Emile Chadbourne of Stone Ridge.

"The story and success of the recent campaign is familiar to everyone. The splendid group that formed the steering committee and were so faithful in attending all the meetings, the various workers, and the public, all of whom contributed so generously of their time, effort and means that made the affair an outstanding success.

"Another source of great happiness to the Sisters', Medical Staff, Nursing Profession and our entire personnel was the receiving of the National Accreditation for our School of Nursing.

Dr. Cooke Praised

"We acknowledge whole-heartedly the splendid services given by Dr. John A. Cooke Jr., in being chairman of the Personnel Health Division.

"At this time we thank our residents for the excellent care they have given our patients.

"Worthy of note is the splendid service given to Benedictine Hospital by Mayor Edwin F. Radel and the Department of Public Works; Fire Chief James M. Brett and his co-workers; the Police Department and their Chief and to the local newspapers for their interest and generosity in presenting our many news articles.

"We thank our merchants for their fine cooperative spirit, and also the thoughtful remembrances of our many friends who have contributed during the year; flowers, fruit, magazines, papers, and other gifts for the comfort of our patients.

"For the past year's services, we express our sincere gratitude to the members of the Medical Staff for their assistance and direction in professional matters; to the members of the Nursing Profession for their unselfish service and loyalty; to the Ladies' Auxiliary for their generous helpfulness and 2,542 hours of service; and finally, to all our employees whose loyal and faithful service has contributed so kindly to the quality of care rendered our patients.

Sister Callista's Report

Sister Callista's report on the school of nursing follows:

"Enrollment as of December 1958: 26 Seniors, 22 Juniors, and 24 Freshmen. Total enrollment 72 students. There was one resignation from the school due to scholastic difficulty.

"Eighteen students were graduated August 31. The Sister Aloysia Scholarship of $300 for further study was awarded to Angela Weiss for having attained the highest average of the class, 91.8 per cent. Miss Weiss is presently taking courses at Russell Sage College, Troy.

"Sister Gabrielle, graduate of Seton Hall University with a BSN, has been appointed assistant instructor on Fundamentals of Nursing. Mrs. Viola Haggerty, graduate of St. Rose College, BSN, was appointed assistant Science Instructor.

Mrs. Mida Kaelin, RN, BS, graduate of Idaho State University with post-graduate work at the Mayo Clinic and St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, Minn. was appointed as clinical instructor in Operating Room.

Pediatrics Transferred

The Pediatric affiliation in Pediatrics was transferred from St. Catherine's Hospital, Brooklyn, to St. Joseph's Hospital Syracuse.

An orientation week program was developed for the new students, to acquaint them not only with the functioning of their school of nursing and hospital but also with the community.

"Anatomy and physiology, chemistry and microbiology have been taught concurrently, in order to provide correlation of the sciences.

"Pharmacology II and Diet Therapy were correlated with Medical and Surgical Nursing, to aid the student in integration of this material.

"Medical and Surgical Nursing formerly taught separately was also correlated. Patient centered teaching is being emphasized; including the total needs of the patient while in the hospital and upon return to the community. Students are assigned in the clinical areas according to educational needs, concomitant with their course of study.

"The significance of positive health is stressed throughout the curriculum. The administration of the health program during the past year has been under the guidance of Dr. John Cooke, who has given unstintingly of his time and efforts, both to our students and personnel. Three students presently enrolled have been awarded Regents State Scholarships. In addition to the above competitive scholarship, three students received full and seven partial scholarships from local organizations within their communities.

Moved Jan. 29

"On January 29 our students moved from the old nurses residence and annexes into their new quarters. The new facilities will accommodate 100 students. The first floor contains a library, three classrooms, science laboratory, nursing arts laboratory, faculty offices, lounges and quarters for the house mother. A large recreation room and auditorium are on the ground floor. On the second and third floor are the bedrooms and a lounge and kitchenette on each floor.

Fully Accredited

"In December 1958, after a number of years of temporary and provisional accreditation, the school was fully accredited by the National League for Nursing. While full accreditation is not an end in itself, but a continuous process, it does represent recognition of the program by the highest accrediting authority in the field of nursing education. This has made the faculty conscious that the task ahead is a continuous and comprehensive evaluation of the program. To assist them in their planning with changes in the curriculum our faculty have been busy not only at home but attended many meetings, workshops, institutes and conventions at the local, state and national levels.

"The ultimate purpose of National Accreditation is the improvement of nursing service throughout the country.

"We owe a debt of gratitude to our faculty for their untriring efforts in the improvement of our program, and to our Board and Administrator for their assistance in planning the new school and residence and carrying the financial buden it involves."

Why We Say--

POISON FORMULA: This expression means today that we can ease the pain of a statement by laughing a little. According to theory the expression started when the Roman General Pompey found an ancient antidote for poison which ended with the statement, "take a grain of salt to complete the relief."

10 Is Low

what weather forecasters said was a strictly localized storm. The Lake Ontario storm, driven by southwest winds up to 45 miles an hour, snarled traffic in Jefferson, Lewis and parts of St. Lawrence Counties.

Biting cold edged its way into Dixie as the frigid blast clasped a tighter grip on the eastern two-thirds of the nation.

The AP report on the state weather picture follows:

All highways were reported open but visibility was frequently cut to zero in squalls. Highway officials said many vehicles were stalled.

Others Show Climb

Temperatures ranged around 10 degrees above zero.

Other state temperatures climbed from the severe cold of the past few days. The U. S. Weather Bureau reported an overnight state low of -1 at Plattsburgh. It reached zero at Oneonta, five above at Watertown, 9 above in Rochester and Newburgh, 10 above in Buffalo and 17 above in New York City.

Baton Rouge Has 33

Clear, sunny skies generally belied the biting cold thrust that plunged the mercury below freezing in many Southern states.

The weather map showed a slight warming, little comfort for numbed residents along the northern tier of states, and some rainfall, particularly in the Pacific Northwest and southern Texas.

The southward push of cold air tumbled the mercury to 31 at Mobile and 29 in Montgomery, Ala. Baton Rouge, La. teetered at the freezing mark with an early morning 33.

Charleston, S.C. was cooled by a 27 while Memphis, Tenn. reported 20. To the south, Jacksonville, Fla. had a 38. Florida also reported the nation's warmest spot with a 70 at Key West.

-13 in Montana

Temperatures in the teens ruled a broad area extending from the Central Plains through the Great Lakes to the Atlantic seaboard.

A few communities across Montana and the Dakotas caught below zero treatment. Glasgow, Mont. had -13.

It was also cold along the Pacific Northwest where a flow of cold air dumped readings into the 40s and high 30s during the early morning hours.

Heaviest overnight rain, mixed with snow in the mountains, occurred along the Oregon coastline and northern and central California. Rain gauges in these sections recorded at least a half inch of rain in a six-hour overnight period in several communities. Point Piedras, Calif. had at least .62 in precipitation.

The Big Thirst
